ANTHONY RANKIN, M.P.P.

Thanked For His Efforts in Securing Protection at Railway Crossings.

At the closing session of the Frontenac county council on Saturday morning, the following motion, moved by Councillors James Halliday and J. A. B. Clark, was carried by a unanimous vote:

"That this council desires to express its thanks to Anthony Rankin, M.P.P., for his efforts in securing, without cost to the county, the diversion of the main highway through Collin's Bay, thus eliminating two dangerous railway crossings. We also desire to express our appreciation of the work being done by the suburban road area commission."

Kingston Symphony Orchestra.
Almost every city is aiming at having a Symphony Orchestra. Through the untiring efforts of Mr. Teigmann and the associates, the Kingston Symphony Orchestra has for the past twelve years or more given annual concerts with genuine artistic results, though sometimes financially discouraging to its members. A local organization, such as the Symphony Orchestra, should receive the support of every citizen, because it is an educational organization for the rising generation. Therefore, those who are ever ready to support outside attractions, should also show a little interest in their own talent. We are just as musically and educationally rich, per population, as any other city in Canada. Think it over. The Kingston Symphony Orchestra will give their annual concert in the near future.

Late John Patterson.

INDOOR RIFLE SHOOTING.

To Be Commenced by the Princess of Wales' Own Regiment.

It is learned that the Princess of Wales' Own Regiment contemplate reviving the old regimental rifle association with which end in view a meeting of all those interested in rifle shooting will be called for an early date in the new year, for the purpose of formulating plans and making the necessary preparations.

It is also the intention of the commanding officer that the association take up indoor rifle shooting on miniature ranges, and that practice in this branch shall commence as early in the new year as possible and shall be conducted one evening every week. Application will be made by the regiment to enter a team in the Indoor Rifle League which includes teams throughout the whole dominion.

It is considered that this will afford excellent practice especially for recruits and the younger shots who will, thereby, have an opportunity of perfecting themselves in the elements of rifle shooting prior to their annual practice on the service ranges at Barriemore in the Spring, when it is expected that a full nine weeks will be occupied before the whole of the unit has fired its course.

While the formation of the rifle association is no new departure for the Princess of Wales' Own Regiment, activity in this branch has been more or less dormant and its revival will, it is expected and hoped, provide, not only the means of imparting elementary instruction to the young aspirants, but will supply the foundation for much recreation and friendly competition amongst all ranks.
