Flags, bunting, ferns and gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums, made gay St. George's Hall on Monday evening when the young people's societies of the cathedral and the Anglican Girls' Club of Queen's university entertained the Anglican students of Queen's. Rev. W. E. Kidd and Mrs. Kidd received the crowds of guests who enjoyed the fine programme provided. R. R. F. Harvey, the cathedral organist, was the accompanist and played for the choruses and games. Miss Isobel Hughes sang, Miss Marjorie Booth and Miss Virginia Fair played much enjoyed piano numbers, and Mr. Bush of the cathedral choir sang. Mr. Tagney brought his saxophone along and made music much appreciated by the company. The Dean of Ontario welcomed the students of Queen's to the cathedral of the diocese, where, he said, there was always a place for them. Refreshments were served from a table gay with lovely mums. The Historical Society, which was holding their annual meeting downstairs, received an invitation, largely responded to, from the dean to join the revelry, so the president, General Macdonell, the Bishop of Ontario, Mr. Landon, the speaker of the evening, and others came up to the hall for a cup of coffee. Altogether the affair was a most enjoyable and successful one.

What the Editor Hears

That even a New York feminine writer remarks—"Sometimes I think that the only truly 'fifty-fifty' marriages are the old-fashioned kind 'like mother used to make'—in which the man supplies the house and the woman turns it into a 'home'."

That next Saturday all the rugby fans will be in Kingston. Let's hope for dry weather.

That the French proverb which translated means "Other times other manners," might apply to some of Kingston's worn out institutions and societies.

Relief organizations that were up to date fifty years ago when Kingston was a small town are not suitable under the present conditions and do not appeal to the women who work successfully in the various church and charitable societies run on more up-to-date lines.

That Toronto's Winter Fair is most interesting. The horses are beautiful and among the charming horsewomen is Miss Ivy Madison, Glenville, Connecticut.

That the worshippers in St. George's cathedral on Sunday morning were disturbed by a baby who wailed continuously and at St. Andrew's church a dog disputed the right of the minister to interest the congregation at the evening service.

EXECUTIVE MEETING.

Of the National Council of Women Held in Montreal.

Miss Lilian Mowat, president of the local council, has returned from a meeting of the executive of the National Council of Women in Montreal, at which Miss A. M. Machar, an honorary member was also present. The meetings were most harmonious, much business was dealt with and the addresses given most interesting. Dr. George Armstrong, assisted by Dr. Maude Adams, gave an illuminating address on cancer. On Wednesday night Sir Robert Borden gave a delightful address on the League of Nations when Mr. and Mrs. James Macdonell were on the platform. On Thursday, Prof. Ernest Best spoke on "Citizenship" and Miss Carmichael, the president, gave an account of the International meeting at the Hague and the reception given by the Queen of Holland at the Summer Palace. Receptions, teas and luncheons were given for the visitors by the Montreal local council.

Parker-Pixley Wedding.

Two of the oldest and most esteemed families of the Horn Hill district joined together at Knox Presbyterian church, Red Deer, on Saturday, at 11:30, to witness the wedding ceremony which united them still more closely, at the marriage of Charles Ralph Parker, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George Parker, and Miss May Elizabeth Pixley, only daughter of Councillor and Mrs. E. H. Pixley. The wedding was a quiet one, the young couple being unattended. Rev. W. G. Brown performed the ceremony, and Mrs. Brown played the wedding march. The bride was attired in her travelling suit of vealour, and wearing a blue hat. After a hearty luncheon for the two families, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Pixley, Red Deer, the dining table being beautifully set off with flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Parker left for a motor trip to Washington and California, and will return to Victoria, B. C., for the winter. They are not expected home until March or April. Both for their own sakes, and the sake of the families they represent, the young couple will have the warmest good wishes for their future happiness.

Hickey-Murphy Wedding.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in the Sacred Heart Church, Bedford, on Nov. 14th when Thomas Hickey and Rose Mary Murphy, both of that place, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father McCus. The bride looked attractive in a fur trimmed suit with hat to match and was assisted by her sister, Margaret, while Neville Hickey, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents and later in the afternoon the young couple left for their home near Tichborne where a pleasant evening was spent in music and dancing, when the guests departed wishing them every happiness for the future.

Add raisins, therefore, to your puddings, cakes, pies, rolls, bread, salads, etc., not merely to make them more attractive but to get the good of this delicious fruit.

DEBORAH KNOX LIVINGSTON Of Boston, Mass., convener of the citizenship department of the World League Against Alcohol in session in Toronto.

November. November comes with snowflakes in her hands, And wild wind voices echo from the hill, Cattle no longer dot the pasture lands; Each dawn reveals the hoar frost white and chill. Yet there is gladness in these sear brown days, The sunlight is more welcome than of old, The apples heaped along dim orchard ways In piles of crimson and of burnished gold Are glowing spots of beauty. Deep within Her quite grey breast there bides unseen the spring; Each flower that blooms must in the dark begin Its efforts for a future blossoming. So, if November comes into your heart, Never suppose that she has come to stay, But realize rather that she is a part, A sweet, unfulfilling promise of the May. —Elizabeth Scollard in New York Herald.

MRS. W. E. JOHNSON Wife of "Pussyfoot," of that ilk, is attending the convention of the World League Against Alcohol in Toronto.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 29.

Most auspicious influences prevail on this day if the astral activities are read aright. With the luminaries in true aspect, and also an excellent Solar aspect to Venus, positions assisted by other favorable testimonies there should be the friendliest and most prosperous conditions in business and all other affairs. Those in the employment of others should expect advancement or preferment if undeniably qualified, and others may expect advancement or favors from superiors. There is the prospect of an advantageous change or journey but prudence and conservation of energy are enjoined. Social and affectional engagements have the prospect of pleasant fulfillment. Those whose birthday it is have the forecast of a happy and prosperous year in all their affairs. Those in the employment of others are favored, and benefits may accrue from change or travel. Be discreet and guard the health. A child born on this day should be accomplished, artistic and popular, and should make a social success and do well in the employment of others.

Smart Velvet Bags.

Just the thing to slip into the pocket of one's fur coat is an adorable little velvet bag embroidered in steel beads. In brown velvet these bags are particularly smart.

Mate-lasse Coats.

At the present moment any number of smart little coats of mate-lasse are seen. One was of the new Rodier fabric in a shade of wine red and stitched in silver.

Short Fur Coats.

A decided vogue is predicted for very short fur coats which may form part of a three-piece costume or be worn as a separate wrap.
