

THEATRE GRAND Wed., Nov. 29th
Queen's Dramatic Club Presents
THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST
 A COMEDY IN 3 ACTS. BY OSCAR WILDE.
 PRICES 50c., 75c., $1.00. SEATS NOW ON SALE

GRAND OPERA HOUSE
 3 DAYS, COMMENCING
Thursday, Nov. 30
 Curtains at 8.15 sharp.
OUR OWN
REX Stock
Company
 In Another Popular Comedy
ZANA
"HIS MAJESTY"
 VAUDEVILLE BETWEEN ACTS
 PRICES 20c., 30c., 50c. GALLERY 10c.
 SATURDAY MATINEE: CHILDREN, 10c.; ADULTS, 25c.

A Picture Crowded with action!
 See It To-day

 LITTLE RICHARD HEADRICK
 GASTON GLASS AND GRACE DARMOND
 in
"THE SONG OF LIFE"
A-L-L-E-N

DANIEL CARSON GOODMAN'S
"WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WOMEN"
 See It! Study It! Know for yourself the Truth about Modern Women!
 Features! Astonishing! Frappant! Staggering! Revelations of the heart and soul of Modern Women!
 One picture you MUST SEE!
ALLEN—Thur.-Fri.-Sat.

ST-R-AND TO-NIGHT
 NO ADVANCE IN PRICES
 Matinees 11c. and 16c.
 Evenings 16c. and 25c.
Picture Presentation:
WALLACE REID
 IN
"THE GHOST BREAKER" SUPPORTED BY
LILA LEE AND WALTER HIERS
 Thousands laughed at the Stage Play. Millions will stream with delight at the Picture.
"The Skipper's Sermon"
 A TOONERVILLE COMEDY
 PATHE NEWS. REVIEW

NOTICE
 I have been instructed to offer for sale $98,899.00 County Frontenac 5 1/2 % Debentures at par and accrued interest. These Debentures are from one to twenty years and can be obtained at my office in the Court House up until December 11th, 1922.
 F. H. PURDY, Treasurer.

AMUSEMENTS
 What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

Queen's Theatre Night.
 The Queen's Dramatic Club will present its annual theatre night performance at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening, Nov. 29th. The Club feels that it has made a particularly happy choice this year in the play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde, which was characterized by the author in his own apt way as "a trivial comedy for serious people." The Importance of Being Earnest, was first produced at the St. James' Theatre, London, on February 14th, 1895, and ever since has enjoyed a wide popularity among play readers as well as theatre-goers the world over. It is full of humorous scenes and abounds in those witticisms and brilliant epigrams for which Oscar Wilde is famous.

Rex Is At It Again.
 Not since that delightful comedy, "In Walked Jimmy," has "Rex" had a real "Rex" part, but this coming engagement the last half of this week of the popular comedy he comes into his own again, in one of those uproarious comedy parts, that while you laugh, gives you a little tug at your heart. In the title role of "His Majesty" he has four long acts and five scenes to remind you that the Rex Stock Company is not only as good, but is better than it ever was. This comedy aside from being entertaining, like "In Walked Jimmy" carries a great lesson and that is a lesson of Self-Confidence, without egotism. It shows that a man without confidence in himself will never reach the heights of a man's desire, but that a man, who, without being afflicted, with a "swelled head" can have abundant confidence in himself and really believe what he thinks, can conquer the world. Zana Vaughn, as "The Flapper," has a truly delightful part, and our Bill Yule as "Pops" is immense. Billy Seymour and Howard Brown have good parts, as had "Kid" Kelly.

At The Allen.
 By all the laws of stage and screen a director, after producing a big success, is allowed to turn out a fair offering or two before being obliged to equal precedent with another triumph. But John M. Stahl, after making the remarkable "Child Thou Gavest Me," neglected to take advantage of his professional privilege and followed it with a picture that not only equals "The Child Thou Gavest Me" for entertainment value but excels it as an audience-attraction. "The Song of Life" is a faithful reflection of life with all of the little human qualities and strong dramatic moments that belong to a story that delves beneath the surface of convention. It represents the happy medium in popular plays that lies between the sexy and the namby-pamby productions. Censors cannot in fairness cut anything out of it, and the millions of theatre patrons who like a good story with natural situations and a strong climax will appreciate it. John M. Stahl conceived the theme for "The Song of Life." Summed up it is a drama of dishes and discontent. That tells the story. See it at the Allen today or Wednesday.

At The Strand.
 Wallace Reid in "The Ghost Breaker" opened to capacity business at the Strand last night. There is also a Tonerville Comedy, "The Skipper's Sermon," and other short reels of quality. Just the usual prices for this splendid programme. "The Ghost Breaker," a picture which must be classed among the finest comedy dramas of the year, had its initial presentation at the Strand Theatre last evening, and was most enthusiastically received. Wallace Reid, the star, beautiful Lila Lee, and Walter Hiers, were excellent in their respective portrayals. The story starts off with a thrilling feud fight in Kentucky, and winds up in a ghost infested castle in Spain. Mr. Reid is delightful in his portrayal and Lila Lee is charming as ever as his leading woman, playing the role of a Spanish senorita to perfection. Walter Hiers is seen as a negro servant and provides much reliable comedy. The picture is well worth seeing.

BARBER WON HIS CASE IN THE POLICE COURT
 Magistrate Dismissed Early Closing Charge Against A. B. Kingsbury.

In the police court on Tuesday morning, Magistrate Farrell dismissed the case against A. B. Kingsbury, barber, Princess street, who was summoned for violating a city by-law, in having kept his barber shop open after 7 p.m. The case has been before the court for three or four weeks.

The magistrate dismissed the case on the grounds that the hours set by the city council in their by-law did not comply with the statutes. He gave his decision on this point alone. The hours provided by the council in their by-law, framed following a petition from some of the barbers, do not meet with the provisions of the statutes.

Sir Thomas White expresses conviction that only more drastic motor vehicle laws will curb almost daily slaughter of pedestrians on Toronto streets.
 Rev. Fr. Minehan, one of speakers at conference of W.L.A.A., scores the so-called "social glass" as an evil that brings men and women to ruin.

SPORTING NEWS

Praise For Players.
 The Toronto Globe says: Many people went away convinced that "Dave" Harding was the most useful man on either team. Certainly the ex-Sarnia star showed a world of effectiveness in his all-round play. His tackling was immense and he was in almost every play.
 It was Leadley's football masterpiece, and it was no wonder that many were convinced that he was the best man on the field.

Frontenac Hockey Practice.
 The Frontenac hockey team is to hold its first athletic practice at the Jock Hart arena this evening (Tuesday) from eight to nine o'clock. "Jack" Powell will be in charge of the training of the team. It is the intention of the management to hold practices on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. If the cold weather continues it will not be many more days until there is good ice.

Naval Brigade Challenge.
 The football team of the Boys' Naval Brigade, that recently defeated one of the school teams, is out with a challenge to meet any team in the same class from any of the city schools.
 Instructor Newton is congratulated upon the work and the splendid showing of his boys, and the spirit that is always carried into the various sports in which they participate. The season is now far advanced, but he hopes for another contest with a team from one of the cadet companies that must have considerable promising football material upon which to build a good football organization and insure the development of future athletes.

Indoor Baseball.
 Although a good game of indoor baseball is promised for Tuesday night, when the Heavy Battery team meets R.M.C. at the Armouries, a great deal more interest is centred on the double-header staged for Saturday night, when the 4th Hussars will attempt to pull a win over D.H.Q., and the second game will furnish fireworks also—as the two strongest teams in the group Frontenacs and Heavies, will clash for the leadership.

PUTTING STRAW ON FIELD.
 The Gridiron May Also Be Covered With Canvas.
 The authorities at Queen's University announce that the playing field at the George Richardson Memorial stadium will be covered with straw so that the ground will be dry for the Dominion final game between Queen's and Eskimos of Edmonton. On Tuesday morning a gang of men were put to work at clearing away the snow, which was about two inches deep. Once the snow is removed, a thick covering of straw will be thrown over the ground. If the authorities are able to get sufficient canvas, the straw will be covered over. It is a well known fact that Queen's players work better on a dry field, and for that reason everything possible will be done to keep it absolutely dry.
 The sale of reserved seat tickets will commence on Wednesday. The Queen's authorities have hundreds of applications for seats for the game.

COMMENT ON QUEEN'S.
 Most People Delighted.
 W. A. Hewitt in the Toronto Star writes:
 Nobody begrudges Queen's proud standing in the Football Hall of Fame in 1922.
 In fact, most people are delighted that the crown of the eastern championship should go to the tri-color. It has been an unprecedented football year for Queen's, and if they can win from the western champions next Saturday the triumph will be complete.
 The champion-Queen's team of 1922 will go down into football history as a team with a punch—a team able to take advantage of the "breaks" of the game to score a victory.
 In this respect Queen's resembles this year's Princeton team, champions of the U.S. Big Three—other teams appeared superior both on paper and on the field, but the Tigers invariably came out on top.

Queen's Better Balanced.
 Commenting on Queen's victory over Argos the Citizen says:
 "Queen's won because the collegians were a better balanced team. The tri-color made few mistakes, whereas on the other hand Argos blundered, and blundered badly, on several occasions. Argos' line was probably a little more effective than Queen's, but behind the line, Queen's was supreme. The work of Batstone, Leadley and Harding excelled that of Conacher, Sullivan and McCormick."

Battled Gaily.
 Toronto Telegram:
 Queen's are champions and nobody begrudges them the honor. They have battled gaily year after year against tremendous odds, but they battled.

Never Any Dissension.
 There never was any dissension in the Queen's camp, despite reports to the contrary, says the Globe. The players worked together with one purpose in view—the winning of the championship. It was reported here yesterday that "Pop" Leadley offered to let "Red" Batstone kick the goal from the field than won the Eastern title, and that Batstone answered: "Kick it yourself, 'Pop,' and you are welcome to all the glory that goes with it." The report may be wide of the mark, but, if accurate, shows just how the new titleholders "pull together." It would be typical of the unselfish Batstone to make an answer like that.

GANANOQUE

Nov. 27.—On Saturday evening, the marriage took place of Miss Winnie O'Brien and R. Merkley, Calgary, Alberta. The attendants were Miss Rebecca Calow and John E. O'Brien, brother of the bride. The happy couple left immediately for Ottawa, where they will spend a short honeymoon. In the near future they will proceed to Calgary where they will reside. The bride was a very highly esteemed young lady of Gananoque, and will be greatly missed in her large circle of friends. The groom travels in the western provinces.
 Miss Alma and Miss Uretta Sinclair spent the week-end in Kingston, guests of Mrs. A. Kennedy, Albert street.

Miss M. E. Jeroy has returned after having been the guest of Mrs. J. Grattan, Kingston, the past few days.
 Miss Vera Boyle, nurse-in-training at Hotel Dieu, Kingston, returned to her duties today after having spent a few days' holiday with her parents, now residing on Brock street, Gananoque.

Miss Mayme Brennan, Gananoque, was one of the winners of a beautiful doll at Hotel Dieu bazaar, Kingston, last week.
 Miss Gammon, secretary, to H. W. Cooper, manager of Oshawa railway, returned to town Saturday evening, after having spent a short time in Kingston.

Many Gananoqueans motored to Kingston Sunday afternoon to join in giving a royal welcome to our rugby heroes. The day was an ideal one for the return of brave men and true, but all were disappointed in not being given the opportunity of showing their appreciation of the wonderful conquest.
 Among those motoring to Kingston at the week-end were Messrs. W. Rogers, R. Tulloch, Mr. and Mrs. Ted. Byers, Mrs. Ives Armstrong, Byron Heaslip, Mr. Warwick, Miss H. Sophie, Miss Lorraine Pelow, Mrs. J. Phillips, Miss Carmen Cliffe, Miss M. Bishop, Russell Lee, Mr. and Mrs. W. Johnston, Mrs. A. Lott, Mrs. G. Little, Mr. and Mrs. and the Misses Rees, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Valleau, Miss M. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. F. Petch and Mrs. J. Belle, Mr. Fred Mooney, Mrs. F. O'Connor, Miss Myrtle Jeroy, Miss Anna Jeroy, J. Lee and D. Byron. Garfield Hood, sales manager for Ontario Steel Products Company, and C. S. Mackenzie, general superintendent, motored to Kingston this afternoon.

Mrs. J. Moore and Miss Jane Moore were in Kingston on Saturday.
 Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wilson took their usual motor trip on Saturday.

Canon Fitzgerald's Addresses.
 Every seat was filled at the long supper table at the Y.M.C.A. Monday night to hear Canon W. F. Fitzgerald.

Bruises & strains
 try Sloan's

 It works this way:
 It starts circulation. This scatters congestion. The inflammation disappears—and along with it the pain.
 Relieves painful rheumatic twinges too. Wounds and cuts, backaches, neuralgia, colds in chest. Keep it handy.
 Made in Canada
Sloan's Liniment—kills pain!

SOLD IN KINGSTON BY
JAS. CRAWFORD
JAS. REDDEN & CO.

McGregor's
 R.M. McGregor Limited
 Ottawa, Can.

DAINTY CAFE
 The place where dining out is truly a delight
 PRINCESS ST. OPPOSITE BIBBY'S

NEW SHIPMENT
 OF NOTE PAPER and STATIONERY in Special Gift Boxes. Very fine stock and at reasonable prices 50c. to $2.50
BEDTIME STORIES for the Children.
McAuley's Book Store

Who'll Put The "Rush" In Your Christmas Rush?
 There's ONE salesman you can't do without. You hire a sales force to wait on customers in your store—but you hire HIM to bring 'em in!
 He's a little ad. in this newspaper's "Christmas Gift Suggestions" columns in the Alphabetical Classified Section. He'll put the rush in your Christmas.
 He's waiting to go to work for you December First—and stick at it till Christmas Eve.
 (Copyright, 1922, by Basil L. Smith)

NOW IS THE TIME TO SELECT YOUR Christmas Cards
 BEFORE THE RUSH
 Our Cards are distinctively different.
 A Few Suggestions:
 MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, SHEET MUSIC, BRUNSWICK PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS
THE SONG SHOP
 Open Nights. 216 Princess Street.

Gerald, M.A., in the first of his series of addresses on "Church History," and judging from the interest shown, this senior supper sessions promises to be well attended every Monday night for the series. The president, Karl Leishman, in introducing Canon Fitzgerald, expressed the thanks of the men to the speaker, and reminded the class that the canon was a well known authority on the subject of history and had accepted the invitation of the class to give a series of addresses.

The Meat That is All Food--
MOST Meat foods that you buy have a certain percentage of waste — bones and skin and fat and gristle, all are included in the weight and all must be thrown away.
 But—when you buy McGregor's, the Sausage de Luxe, you are getting a meat that is all food — absolutely no waste—everything eatable, even to the last morsel.
 Thousands of people are beginning to realize that McGregor's is the meat of economy and the demand is growing larger day by day.
 Here's the reason—It is made of prime pig and a choice blend of Oriental spices. It is made under the most sanitary conditions by skilled workmen and only enough is made each day for that day's demand.

It is always put up six to the pound in trade-marked, parchment-wrapped packages