Laundry Comfort

During the Winter it is often found that the basement is not suited for Laundry purposes. We have what is called a Laundry Sink, which is a White Enamel Laundry Tub, and a deep Kitchen Sink combined, which can be installed in your kitchen. Space required 4 feet. When the Laundry Tub is not in use there is a cover which closes and acts as a drain board to the Sink.

Price, complete $65.00
2 Part White Enamel Laundry Tubs $55.00
2 Part Cement Laundry Tubs $28.00

Letters to the Editor

By-law to Purchase Farm.
Kingston, Nov. 30.—(To the Editor): In view of the by-law to be submitted for raising $9,000 towards purchasing the property on Division street known as the Murdock farm, I think it only right that the citizens should know exactly what the by-law means. The public notice gives no information as to why this purchase is a desirable one. I succeeded in 1887 in purchasing the fair grounds property from the government at a nominal price and as soon as the sale was completed to the Frontenac agricultural association, of which I was president, a company was formed called the "Midland Agricultural Association," and the property sold to it; this association disposed of a part of the property but retained for exhibition purposes the land at present enclosed, now owned by the city. I was always opposed to a sale of the exhibition grounds perhaps as I had a sentimental feeling, having not only purchased the land originally but was instrumental in erecting the buildings. If, however, in the near future the public desire a sale of the grounds I might in this connection give an idea of its value. The property consists of about 23 acres divided into 84 full lots of one-fifth of an acre each or 168 lots of 33 by 132 feet, these if sold at $300 would net about $50,000. We must have exhibition grounds and the only available place for the purpose is the Murdock property on Division street now offered to the city for $9,000. The property comprises forty-three acres, it is convenient to both railways, the C.P.R. in fact crossing one corner of it, the street railway line on Montreal street is convenient to it, nearer I think than Princess street is to the present grounds. If we take the value of the lots the city would have a surplus of about $41,000 at its disposal. I favor a purchase of the Murdock property for two reasons, firstly, the city would have a property suitable for any industries that may wish to come here, it has splendid railway facilities, and, secondly, if the city at any time sold the present fair grounds they would have a property (the Murdock farm) twice the area of the present grounds for exhibition purposes with a surplus on hand sufficient to more than fit up the new grounds. I say vote for the by-law by all means.

Yours truly,
—J. B. WALKEM.

SANTA CLAUS COMING

All the children of the city are getting ready for the arrival of Santa Claus, no doubt, and to help them along in their preparations, the Whig will be very glad to receive letters from the kiddies interested in this very important matter. All letters must be in the Whig Office on or before Saturday, December 9th and the best of them will be published on December 16th. For the very best letter, Santa Claus announces that he will give a special present. The winner will be announced on December 16th but the prize, of course, will arrive with the rest of the gifts from Santa Clause on Christmas Day. Get busy, boys and girls.

POULTRY FAIR AT NAPANEE.

It Was a Big Success—Many Buyers Present.

(From Our Own Correspondent) Napanee, Dec. 1.—Napanee has had one of the most successful poultry fairs in its history. From early morning, on Wednesday, until late Thursday afternoon, the streets were blocked with teams, autos and buggies all filled with poultry for the fair. Buyers from Montreal, Toronto and New York were present and prices were high. Consequently every one went away happy and pleased with the day's transactions. Prices of turkeys were 45c per lb.; chickens, 30c; ducks, 30c, and fowl 23c to 28c. One farmer had 100 turkeys which netted him $1,000. The competition was keen throughout the two days. Over 300 tons of fowl was purchased; last year the amount was about 200 tons. It is estimated that the farmers realized in the neighborhood of $200,000.

During Thursday forenoon the blockade on John street was so great that cars, rigs and carter's had to take the sidewalk from the Dominion bank to Dundas street. The merchants of Napanee also had a very busy day and are quite happy over the business.

H. B. Mott has severed his connection with the J. J. Haines Co. and opened out a shoe store in Bath, Ont. Harry was very popular in Napanee and his many friends wish him success in his new venture.
