

DON'T BE LED ASTRAY

There are many kinds and qualities of Hudson Seal made from Fall, Winter and Inferior Muskrats, costing from 75c. to $1.25 per skin less than what we pay for Ontario Spring Muskrat. This makes a difference in the first cost of the garment of $20.00 to $75.00. The market is flooded with this stock.

Hudson Seal (made from Ontario skins) is still the King of Furs for Ladies' Coats. It is durable, it drapes nicely, it retains its beautiful lustre almost indefinitely, and is the lightest weight and most durable fur known.

We make Fur Coats to special measure and order in all the popular Furs.

A splendid stock of Coats, McKay quality and make, ready to try on, and wear away in Hudson Seal, Persian Lamb, Raccoon, Muskrat, Martot, etc.

Your inspection invited to examine our values. No obligation to buy.

If you live out of town, write for catalogue and full information.

"JAPAN TO-DAY" ADDRESS

Given Before the Kiwanis Club by Rev. Dr. John G. Dunlop.

"Japan Today" was the subject of a most interesting address by Rev. Dr. John G. Dunlop, before the Kiwanis Club at the weekly luncheon in the Frontenac Hotel on Monday. Dr. Dunlop was for thirty-five years a missionary in Japan and is an authority on the present state of the people, industrially, commercially and socially.

"My thirty-five years in central Japan, and the two winters I spent in China, appear now as a great show. What I saw was life, but most of the time it was a show. Today the common people as well as the intellectuals, are going through a period of disillusionment partly about themselves, and their origin. As a race they were the descendants of the Gods and their royal house is still regarded as of the Gods and must be worshipped. Some intelligent people do not believe and it is the filtration of knowledge respecting their racial origin that makes them afraid. They are part Malay and part Mongol, and with the loss of belief in themselves they are in great fear. It is easy by observing the individuals to distinguish the crosses between tribes of Northern and Southern Asia. All are black haired, and have the Malay features and eyes, and the variations are the crosses with Mongols and Chinese. The emperor is an imbecile although his wife is normal. The prince regent is the ruler. Today the old confidence in the great leaders is gone and they have no men holding the place of Nogi who committed suicide upon the death of the late Emperor.

"The Japanese have had much to unlearn regarding business. There was a time when they looked upon the American and Englishman as the dispensers of bounty. This was due to the attitude of the missionary who asked for nothing but gave all. International trade exacts the liquidation of debt—business is different, and they are afraid." The speaker paid a high tribute to the industry of the people, sixty per cent. of whom are agriculturists on the verge of starvation. From a total area of 150,000 square miles, only 20,000 square miles can be tilled, the remainder consists of hills where even sheep cannot be raised. But it is not in the number of square miles that a country is made great. It is in the number of its square people. With 36,000,000 people on the land they are not producing one-twelfth of the grain raised in the United States, probably 12,000,000 bushels of grain and 3,000,000 tons of other crops.

"There is an increased death rate as result of the adoption of European industrial and commercial system. Ours has been going down owing to the adoption of sanitation but in Japan there is a poor physical condition. During the war Japan prospered commercially and the wealth thus made is held in reserve. Wages soared. A carpenter, who was formerly paid twenty-five cents per day, obtained a house at from eighty cents to $1.70 per month. This, however, is changed and as labor which was near the slave line ten years ago has since risen, Japan cannot compete with the German or British manufacturers, not even in silk. They have been living on their war reserve and are now in bad shape. The imports exceed exports and Japan always was a debtor nation. The governing authorities are afraid today of Japan—afraid of a Japanese revolution."

The system of government is that adopted from England, but the house of representatives, which stands for the British House of Commons, is not the supreme power. Above it are the crown, the Elder Statesmen, the cabinet. The old bureaucratic system is in operation today. Diplomacy has ever been a dirty game with the Japanese in their dealings with China and Russia and they had to be driven from both of these countries.

The lower orders are going down. There are 150,000 deaths from tuberculosis every year; and cancer of the stomach is very prevalent. Pneumonia is very common due to the lack of heat in the houses in the fall and winter. The political, commercial and industrial facts are hard for Japan to face. Twenty-five years ago she had no warships and bought one from a Dutchman for $25,000. Today they spend $5,000,000 on a single warship, while the army has been gradually raised to twenty-three divisions, representing an enormous burden. It is amazing to think what the Japanese are in themselves and what they have achieved. They have their railways, posts, telegraphs, judiciary, schools and colleges.

Dr. Dunlop did not think that he had anything to fear from the Japs in physique. You can't get seven hours labor per day out of them. They are a menace to British Columbia, but we have other problems. The original French in Canada were a cause of paralysis to us in time of crisis. The United States has its 10,000,000 negroes. "What I do advocate," said the speaker, "is not exclusion, but selective immigration, no race line, but the admission to Canada of only the superior type, such as are highly developed and capable of living our life under our laws."

A vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. Dunlop upon the motion of Frank Anglin, seconded by George Bawden. President Noble Steacy occupied the chair and during the roll call he was pleased to note the presence of a large number of absentees from previous meetings. W. Y. Mills, proprietor of George Mills and Company, manufacturers and dealers in the furs, Princess street, was the booster. He provided a pretty feather for each guest to wear in his hat; and in addition some very fine prizes in high grade felt hats won by Jack McGill, Murdoch Johnston, Jim Armstrong, J. D. Boyd, Frank Day, A. T. Hughes, George Bawden.

The president announced that the club would entertain Queen's dominion champion football team some evening in January, the date being left to the players themselves.

CHURCH IN CHRIST'S TIME.

A Lecture at the Y.M.C.A. by Canon W. F. Fitzgerald.

That men are still interested in the deeper things of life was emphasized by the increased attendance at the senior supper session in the Y.M.C.A. Monday evening to hear the second of the series of lectures on church history, entitled, "The Church in the Time of Christ," by Canon W. F. Fitzgerald, M.A.

After expressing to the class his appreciation of the interest shown, the president, Karl Leishman, called upon Canon Fitzgerald for his address. The speaker briefly summarized the main points of his previous lecture on "How the Church Became Possible," and proceeded to deal in his refreshing style with his second subject. Stating at the outset that "whatever opinion men may hold of the revelation of God in Jesus Christ, it must universally be admitted that His life is the most important epoch in history," Christ was the "Founder of a Society," the popular idea on which He based His church was a "Kingdom of the Heavens," an ideal state in which the hope of Israel was to be realized.

Several important phases were then drawn to the attention of the class—starting at the time when Judea was made a dependency of the various Roman Procurators from Coponius on showed how the country was governed. The nature of the Pharisees was not so bad as a cursory reading of the scriptures might reflect—the "Zealot" wing of the Pharisees whose motto was "Be Zealous" remained after the revolution was crushed, and their fanaticism eventually made for the ruin of the Jewish nation. The hatred of the Turk for the Assyrian was also referred to by the speaker, who stated that "no Christian nation can expect fair play from the Turk." The standing of the various high priests in the time of our Lord, which is sometimes a puzzle to some, when explained, shows how Annas was still the choice of the people after others had been named. The administration of Pilate 26-27 A.D., was one characterized by cruelty and indecision of character, and he was the most odious of the procurators. Such was the state of the land in the days of Christ. The people hated the yoke of Herod, along with the yoke of the procurator of Judea. The work of John the Baptist, the "herald of Jesus" was a fascinating study—His message "Repent Ye" really meant "Change your mind, your heart and your conduct." Three stages of Jesus' ministry were summarized as follows: First, Jesus declaring the nature of the kingdom; secondly, Jesus declares Himself to be the Christ; and then Jesus reveals His Divinity.

The subject of Canon Fitzgerald's lecture for next Monday night will be "The Church of the Apostles," and the lecture is open to all, irrespective of "Y" membership connection.

An Old Fashioned Mother. The entertainment of this name which was given in the school room of the First Baptist church, last week, was so much enjoyed that the urgent request for its repetition is being granted, and the Sunshine Class will give the entertainment again tonight at the same place. While there are numerous decidedly humorous situations and sayings in the programme, there isn't a "laugh in every line" as sometimes the "tears unbidden start," but the sum total and ultimate effect is decidedly wholesome and helpful, as well as most enjoyable.

Protect Your Health. The Tonic and Laxative Effect of Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets will keep the system in a healthy condition and thus ward off all attacks of Colds, Grip or Influenza. 30c. Made in Canada.

Farmers, who were in the city on Monday, reported that some of the roads in the back part of the county were in a very soft condition and traffic was very difficult on mud.

S. J. MARTIN "SHOES OF MERIT AND DISTINCTION"

Cataragui's Water Shortage. On Tuesday morning, people who live at Cataragui report that the water situation has not improved during the past few days. Wells that have not been dry in years are out of commission at the present time and the people have to travel considerable distance to get drinking water. The cattle in many cases have to be driven to the Cataragui creek for water. Some Cataragui residents have a little water in the wells, but they have to be very careful or else the wells will go completely dry. Must Pay for Dog Tag. The police are continuing their crusade against citizens who have not paid for a tag for their dog. In spite of all the publication given the matter there are still quite a number who have not complied with the law. In the police court on Tuesday morning, a few more citizens were fined for their neglect.
