Galvin was united in marriage to John O'Brien, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien, Appleton, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Gray. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Jean O'Donnell. She was attired in a gown of gown and lace, with hat to match, while the bridesmaid, Miss Liguori MeVeigh, cousin of the bride, wore a gown of periwinkle crepe, with large picture hat to match. The groom was supported by his brother, Alfred O'Brien.

In Which Crowd Do You Belong?

There are people who can profit and learn from good advice. They can see through a brick wall when someone makes a hole in it. They can take hints.

And then, there are people who have to learn everything through experience. They don't follow the signs that say "This Way Out." They often try the best way last.

There are two types among the regular readers of the A-B-C Classified Section. They both know that they save money and valuable time by supplying many of their needs of everyday life through these little ads.

The point is— How are YOU going to find out how serviceable the A-B-C ads can be in your case? Will you take a tip on their usefulness NOW, or will you find out—after you've spent money and time unnecessarily—later?

We suggest that you begin reading them regularly—now!

THE A-B-C CLASSIFIED ADS ALWAYS THE SAME—IN SERVICE ALWAYS DIFFERENT—IN OPPORTUNITY.

Fire at Lee Valley.

Lee Valley, Jan. 24.—Kenneth Armstrong spent the week-end with his parents here. Mrs. Leon McKnight, little daughter and son, also Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Patterson and children were Sunday visitors at James Ross's. Charles Guild had the misfortune to lose a very valuable cow last week. Mr. Cloughley lost one of his horses. They were at the camp. Distemper is believed to have been the cause. Mrs. Cloughley fell down stairs and hurt her arm. Matthew Waran who has been very ill is slowly recovering. On Monday Mr. Villere's house burned to the ground. Very little goods were saved. The ladies of the community are busy picking blocks and when the day of the quilting arrives, a shower of miscellaneous articles will be presented to Mrs. Villere. It is believed Mr. Villere, who is a carpenter, intends rebuilding as soon as possible. Wolves are getting very bold, two of them having been seen in broad daylight near a farm yard.

A lot of us steal credit who handle money honestly.
