

Grand To-night Tuesday & Wednesday
 MATINEE WEDNESDAY AT 2.30. EVENINGS AT 8.15.
 CHECK YOUR BRAINS AND SEE
BOB OTT
 IN
"MY DAD"
 ALL ABOUT MONKEY GLANDS. YOU DON'T HAVE TO THINK. YOU JUST LAUGH.
 PRICES—EVENING, 20c., 30c., 50c. MATINEE, 10c., 20c., 30c.

To-Day A-L-L-E-N To-Day
 Marshall Neilan's Triumph!
The Strangers' Banquet
 with the greatest cast of players ever assembled for one film
 25 famous stars distributed by Goldwyn 25 famous stars
 AL ST. JOHN in "THE CITY CHAP."

Starts To-Day
 PRICES: MATS. 16c.-25c. EVGS. 25c.-35c. (Tax included)

RODOLPH VALENTINO
"THE YOUNG RAJAH" STRAND

For Sale Matched Pine Lumber
 AT A VERY LOW PRICE
K. & D. Manufacturing Coy.
 680 MONTREAL STREET
 PHONE 1681J.

You'll Be Sorry If You Do Not See Me

 Sol Lesser presents
JACKIE COOGAN
"OLIVER TWIST"
 ALLEN THURS., FRI., SAT.

HOCKEY
 JUNIOR O.H.A.
Queen's vs. Frontenacs
 Monday, January 29th, 1923
 8.15 p.m.
 JOCK HARTY ARENA
 ADMISSION 30c. and 25c.
 War tax included.

TAXI
 PHONE
116
 DOMINION TAXI SERVICE
 288 KING STREET
 Some would have sanctification go ahead of repentance.

AMUSEMENTS
 What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions
At The Grand
 For tonight and Tuesday and Wednesday, Bob will give us something new, something about an old man installing monkey glands, and what happens later on. Bob plays the old man, better known as "Dad". Rosie O'Grady was high-brow style of show while "My Dad" is more of the comedy type. This company differs from others, as it is not a musical revue, but presents a real farce comedy, with taking musical number introduced, and this appeals to those who like a clean show, presented in the most attractive manner. The principals are not only excellent, but there is a chorus of eight girls, who sing well and look attractive in pretty costumes, with groupings equal to those seen in high class productions, while the Japanese stage settings are remarkably pretty.
 The company is under the management of Matt Ott, a well-known producer, who is also the author of My Dad, a well written playlet, with a real story, and which is presented by a company possessing much talent. Bob Ott is a capital comedian not appealing with hokum for laughs, but delivering his line in a most artistic manner. Miss Ann Ott fairly divides the honors with him as the mother-in-law; she gives a character portrayal that is equal to those seen in New York productions, and she does an eccentric dance that shows her a real artist in her line. Miss Mildred Vaughan is a clever actress, has a sweet voice, and is good cooking besides, and Miss Marie Ott is also excellent. Fred Wright, with his fine voice and taking way of singing; Raymond Marr, who is the best comedian seen here in his line, and John Gilbert, with his acting and singing, are all valuable members of the company.
 Louisa Adams, who sings pleasingly and is dainty in appearance, has one of the best musical numbers, in which the ladies of the show appear appropriately costumed and introduce dances of various periods. Miss Marr also has a delightful singing number. The Breen Sisters also add to the success. Popular prices. Matinee Wednesday.

"Strangers' Banquet" at Allen.
 Another Marshall Neilan production, his first made since his recent affiliation with Goldwyn Pictures Corporation, is coming to the Allen Theatre today for three days. It is a screen version of Donn Byrne's novel, "The Strangers' Banquet," and is said by Neilan himself and by many famous directors, stars and writers who have seen it at private screenings to be the finest production he has yet made. Neilan produced "The River's End," "Go and Get It," "Dinty," "Penrod," "Fools First," and many other pictures which have been striking successes from both a financial and artistic point of view. Every one who has every seen a Marshall Neilan production will want to see "The Strangers' Banquet." It is made on a bigger scale, and with greater resources to call upon, than any other picture he has made.
 The cast is one of the longest and most brilliant seen in any motion picture in years. Claire Windsor, Hobart Bosworth, Rockliffe Fellowes, Nigel Barrie, Stuart Holmes, Claude Gillingwater, Eleanor Boardman, Lucille Rickson, Lillian Langdon, Virginia Ruggles, Margaret Loomis, Dagmar Godowsky, Jean Hersholt, Cyril Chadwick, Arthur Hoyt, Brinsley Shaw, Jack Curtis, Edward McWade, and many others.

Jackie Coogan in "Oliver Twist."
 There is coming Thursday to the Allen theatre a picture that is more than a mere picture. It is an epoch-making event in the motion picture art; at least it is thus that Sol Lesser's presentation of Jackie Coogan in Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist" has been described. The presence of Jackie Coogan in any picture assures the presence of a multitude of youngsters in any theatre where the gifted boy appears; the unparalleled supporting cast headed by Lon Chaney as Fagin, Gladys Brockwell as Nancy Sikes, George Siegmann as Bill Sikes, and Lionel Belmore as Mr. Brownlow is still another guarantee of success, while the world-wide celebrity of Charles Dickens, whose books are read in every language and in nearly every home and the particularly general appeal of "Oliver Twist" as Dickens' masterpiece all assure a success unprecedented in the film art and industry. In short, it is claimed that nobody can resist the appeal of "Oliver Twist," as pictured on the screen with little Jackie as the star and with the advance interest that must be aroused in any civilized land by mention of the words, "Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist." We are pleased to announce that this superb production will be shown at usual prices.

At The Strand.
 A champion will be remembered among the cast of Rodolph Valentino's new picture. This champion is none other than "Marquis," a thoroughbred German police dog recently acquired by Mr. Valentino, who is a fancier of this particular breed of canine.
 "Marquis" has a long string of medals and first prizes and is reputed to be the champion dog of his kind on the Pacific Coast. He is four years old and was trained in Italy, so that he does not understand an English command.
 Recently when he posed for a picture, Valentino, to attract his attention and make him take an alert pose, snapped his fingers and ex-

OLD LANDMARK REMOVED
In Destruction by Fire of Union School House Near Sydenham.
 Sydenham, Jan. 29.—One of the old landmarks has recently been removed, in the destruction by fire of the Union school house, about two miles north west of here. This school was on the line between the townships of Loughboro and Portland and had been in use for many years. Temporary arrangements have been made for the scholars to continue their work at the home of Elmer McRory. The circumstances at present make it most favorable for the establishing of a Consolidated school at Sydenham, if this is ever to be done. With a new school house to be built at Rosedale, and one now required at Union, the expense involved might be equalized. In these days of advancement in educational matters, consideration might well be given this important matter. The welfare of the next generation would be advanced if this desired end were accomplished.
 Rumors have been current for some weeks that a change of management was likely to take place at the Condensory. Announcement has been made that the Farmers' Products Limited, of Toronto, have secured possession and take control on Feb. 1st. The equipment is up-to-date, and the building in first class shape. At present the condensory is running three days a week, and a good supply of milk for this season of the year is coming in. Shipments of milk from outside places are received regularly, and the prospects for extended business appear promising. It is not yet known definitely what changes, if any, will be made in the local staff. It is hoped that mutual satisfaction may result from whatever policy may be adopted in the future handling of milk.
 With plenty of cold weather there has been abundant opportunity for skating and hockey this winter. And with two rinks in the village, the desires of all skating enthusiasts may be gratified. Both rinks are provided with electric lighting, and good use is made of this splendid winter's pastime in the afternoons and evenings.
 The fall of snow during January has been very heavy and the roads have been good for driving and teaming. Wood has been delivered in good quantities and at reasonable prices. While the supply of coal has been much below the usual quantity, no particular fuel scarcity has been felt because of a good wood supply.
 Rev. Principal Smythe, of Montreal, gave a most interesting sermon at the Methodist church on Sunday morning last. Rev. Mr. Keough, of Elgin, is to have charge of the services on Sunday next. Rev. Mr. Stafford is to take anniversary services at Elgin circuit.
 George Kavaner and Mrs. Anson Guess are quite poorly. William Walker is all smiles. "Its a girl." Lookey games are creating much interest.

WARREN Y. SOPER
 A new director of the National Art Gallery. To him and his association is due the introduction of electric railway systems in Canada and of solving the problem of operating them in winter.

KINGSTONIANS WILL SHARE IN BIG ESTATE
Fifty Persons May Some Day Be in Possession of Wall Street.
 According to information received in the city there are a number of families in and around Kingston who are heirs to an estate valued at $3,500,000,000. It is stated that the Jackson and Brewer families are interested. A. R. Jackson, formerly of Elginburg, has sent the following from Jackson, Mich.:
 "Fifty Michigan residents, most of them poor, met here to discuss the future of Wall street and other business districts in New York, which, they believe, will pass to their ownership in a few months. They are some of the heirs of the Anneke Jans estate who have filed a claim to property valued at $3,500,000,000 in the heart of New York. The claim is based on an old lease which expired recently.
 If the claim is upheld in the courts, the Michigan heirs will take over property worth about $550,000,000, it is estimated.
 All of those present expressed confidence that the fight would eventually be won. The Michigan group decided to join other heirs in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to press the court fight. L. C. Tefft, of Leslie, was elected chairman of the Michigan group."

TROUBLED CENTRES OF THE WORLD
 There is a move on foot among Scandinavian countries to put the Ruhr situation before the League of Nations council. Ramsay MacDonald called a meeting of British labor parliamentarians to consider the situation.
 Attention of Europe is diverted from the Ruhr to the Near East by signs of impending clash of arms between Britain and Turkey if the Lausanne conference ends in disagreement Wednesday.
 The British cabinet and the War Office are considering means to offset Turkish aggression at Mosul, while the Ankara government hastily summoned Mustafa Kemal from Smyrna for military conferences.
 Opinion prevails that if the Lausanne parley fails, and the latest word is that there is apparently no chance of Ismet Pasha agreeing to the Allied terms, the Turks will advance in Thrace and also will attempt to seize Mosul.
 The troubled centres of the old world included Ireland, where insurgents are active, wrecking trains, and Vienna, where mobs, clashed with police, wounding eleven of the latter with stones.

Holstein Breeders Club.
 At a meeting of the Holstein Breeders Club on Saturday, progress in the proposal to hold a pure bred stock sale was reported. J. Henderson secretary-treasurer, announced that there would be about sixty head offered for sale and all would be inspected by an official of the department of agriculture. L. E. Franklin, Toronto, has been engaged as auctioneer and Duncan Foster, Bloomfield, will read pedigree.

OBITUARY
 Late Miss Ellen Carroll.
 On Sunday, January 28th, the death occurred in Vancouver, B.C., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas B. Lauder, of Miss Ellen Carroll, formerly of Kingston. The deceased was a sister of J. K. Carroll and the late William Carroll, of this city. Interment will take place in Vancouver.
Three Minute Journeys
 Where Only Kings May Eat One Kind of Fish.
 A royal dinner in the Fiji islands is an affair of state indeed. No potentate of the civilized world could be treated with greater deference or formerly than the native king of one of these beautiful isles of the Pacific.
 To the traveler nothing could be more interesting or delightful than to be invited to dine with a king of one of these islands.
 The first ceremony is the laying of clean mats in a circle on the floor. Then the king enters in all his dignity and sits down on the mat, facing the door.
 After the king is seated, no native enters without first prostrating himself on his hands and knees on the floor before the king and each of his guests.
 The traveler nothing could be more interesting or delightful than to be invited to dine with a king of one of these islands.
 The first ceremony is the laying of clean mats in a circle on the floor. Then the king enters in all his dignity and sits down on the mat, facing the door.
 After the king is seated, no native enters without first prostrating himself on his hands and knees on the floor before the king and each of his guests.

LOCAL NEWS.
Brief Items of Interest Picked Up by the Whig Reporters.
 There was no session of the police court on Monday morning.
 Mr. Swaine, piano tuner. Orders received at 100 Clergy street west. Phone 564.
 Special fare for Belleville-Frontenac game, Tuesday, Jan. 30th $2.60 return.
 Ross Peters, son of Hardy Peters, Wilton, is in the Hotel Dieu, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.
 The ten-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, 36 Ellis street, passed away on Sunday night after an illness of two weeks.
 Miss E. Lands, Miss H. Thompson, Miss Murphy, graduate nurses, of this city, left for Marion, Ind., where they have secured positions in the Military Hospital there.
 Lieut.-Col. J. A. Hesketh, C.M.G., D.S.O., of the engineering staff of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who went overseas with the Lord Strathcona Horse and rendered conspicuous service with that regiment, died at Winnipeg on Friday, aged fifty-seven years. A sister, Mrs. Putticonde, lives in Kingston.
Demand For Bibles.
 Since the war there has been an unprecedented demand for the Bible in all parts of the world, not only in the belligerent countries, but also among peaceful peoples who were considered somewhat lower in the scale of civilization than those fighting in the war. And this great interest, measured by the number of volumes, has come in a world with millions fewer population than before the war, because of the ravages of war and attendant disease, misery, famine and disaster.
 So great has been this demand for the Word that about 30,000,000 volumes were printed and distributed in the last year, and the indications this year are that this figure will soar to new heights. What that figure may be no one can tell, but those who know say that, whatever it be, it will not reach the full demand of the world's people who seek the Truth.
 There were no developments Monday morning to show that the Turks were more favorably disposed toward signing the Allies' treaty.
 We carry our greatest enemies within us.

Matinee For Queen's Students.
 The annual banquet of Queen's Medical college takes place this evening, and the Bob Ott Company on a special matinee this afternoon at the Grand Opera House for the college and several hundred students attended. The Bob Ott Company is exceedingly popular with the patrons of the Grand Opera House and the matinee to-day was given by special request of Queen's Medical College.
 Why be old at 45, when you might be young at 75? Keep your arteries soft by simple eating, the avoidance of excesses, cheerfulness of mind and the practice of the few rules of hygiene.
 The mad rush of modern life must be tempered or the benefits of better living conditions will be lost. With reasonable care there will be no old persons at 45.
 A financial settlement was reached at Chatham on Saturday in the case of Mrs. Cordelia E. Wilkins vs. Wilson Crockett, M.P.P., Hamilton. Mrs. Wilkins, a widow of Highgate, entered suit against Crockett, claiming $25,000 damages.
 J. C. Clark, classical master of the Belleville Collegiate Institute, died on Sunday.
 Enjoy the present and trust not too much to what tomorrow may produce. The most faulty are the most prone to find fault.

BLUNDERS

 Why is this injurious to a book? The answer will be found among to-day's want ads.

Market Your Cheese Co-operative
 Public Meetings in the interest of the Ontario Co-operative Dairy Products, Ltd., will be held at the following places—
 Kingston, Agricultural Hall, Market St., Wed., Jan. 31, 1.30 p.m.
 Elginburg, Stover's Hall, Wed., Jan. 31, 7.30 p.m.
 Joyville, Milne's Hall, Wed., Jan. 31, 1.30 p.m.
 Sanbury, White Church Hall, Thurs., Feb. 1, 1.30 p.m.
 Badcombs, Batterson Hall, Thurs., Feb. 1, 1.30 p.m.
 Harrowsmith, Town Hall, Thurs., Feb. 1, 1.30 p.m.
 Raitton, Cheese Factory, Thurs., Feb. 2, 1.30 p.m.
 Fingorboard, Weir's School House, Friday, Feb. 2, 1.30 p.m.
 These meetings will be addressed by Mr. R. D. Colquhoun and Mr. J. P. Griffin, who are connected with the head office of the Company, and are prepared to thoroughly discuss the Co-operative plan of Marketing Dairy Products as embodied in the Company.
 Every factory patron should attend the meeting at the most convenient place and get first hand knowledge of the advantages of the Co-operative Marketing of Dairy Products. It is hoped the Meetings will be well attended.

OBITUARY
 Late Miss Ellen Carroll.
 On Sunday, January 28th, the death occurred in Vancouver, B.C., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas B. Lauder, of Miss Ellen Carroll, formerly of Kingston. The deceased was a sister of J. K. Carroll and the late William Carroll, of this city. Interment will take place in Vancouver.
Three Minute Journeys
 Where Only Kings May Eat One Kind of Fish.
 A royal dinner in the Fiji islands is an affair of state indeed. No potentate of the civilized world could be treated with greater deference or formerly than the native king of one of these beautiful isles of the Pacific.
 To the traveler nothing could be more interesting or delightful than to be invited to dine with a king of one of these islands.
 The first ceremony is the laying of clean mats in a circle on the floor. Then the king enters in all his dignity and sits down on the mat, facing the door.
 After the king is seated, no native enters without first prostrating himself on his hands and knees on the floor before the king and each of his guests.

OBITUARY
 Late Miss Ellen Carroll.
 On Sunday, January 28th, the death occurred in Vancouver, B.C., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas B. Lauder, of Miss Ellen Carroll, formerly of Kingston. The deceased was a sister of J. K. Carroll and the late William Carroll, of this city. Interment will take place in Vancouver.
Three Minute Journeys
 Where Only Kings May Eat One Kind of Fish.
 A royal dinner in the Fiji islands is an affair of state indeed. No potentate of the civilized world could be treated with greater deference or formerly than the native king of one of these beautiful isles of the Pacific.
 To the traveler nothing could be more interesting or delightful than to be invited to dine with a king of one of these islands.
 The first ceremony is the laying of clean mats in a circle on the floor. Then the king enters in all his dignity and sits down on the mat, facing the door.
 After the king is seated, no native enters without first prostrating himself on his hands and knees on the floor before the king and each of his guests.

OBITUARY
 Late Miss Ellen Carroll.
 On Sunday, January 28th, the death occurred in Vancouver, B.C., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas B. Lauder, of Miss Ellen Carroll, formerly of Kingston. The deceased was a sister of J. K. Carroll and the late William Carroll, of this city. Interment will take place in Vancouver.
Three Minute Journeys
 Where Only Kings May Eat One Kind of Fish.
 A royal dinner in the Fiji islands is an affair of state indeed. No potentate of the civilized world could be treated with greater deference or formerly than the native king of one of these beautiful isles of the Pacific.
 To the traveler nothing could be more interesting or delightful than to be invited to dine with a king of one of these islands.
 The first ceremony is the laying of clean mats in a circle on the floor. Then the king enters in all his dignity and sits down on the mat, facing the door.
 After the king is seated, no native enters without first prostrating himself on his hands and knees on the floor before the king and each of his guests.

OBITUARY
 Late Miss Ellen Carroll.
 On Sunday, January 28th, the death occurred in Vancouver, B.C., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas B. Lauder, of Miss Ellen Carroll, formerly of Kingston. The deceased was a sister of J. K. Carroll and the late William Carroll, of this city. Interment will take place in Vancouver.
Three Minute Journeys
 Where Only Kings May Eat One Kind of Fish.
 A royal dinner in the Fiji islands is an affair of state indeed. No potentate of the civilized world could be treated with greater deference or formerly than the native king of one of these beautiful isles of the Pacific.
 To the traveler nothing could be more interesting or delightful than to be invited to dine with a king of one of these islands.
 The first ceremony is the laying of clean mats in a circle on the floor. Then the king enters in all his dignity and sits down on the mat, facing the door.
 After the king is seated, no native enters without first prostrating himself on his hands and knees on the floor before the king and each of his guests.

OBITUARY
 Late Miss Ellen Carroll.
 On Sunday, January 28th, the death occurred in Vancouver, B.C., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas B. Lauder, of Miss Ellen Carroll, formerly of Kingston. The deceased was a sister of J. K. Carroll and the late William Carroll, of this city. Interment will take place in Vancouver.
Three Minute Journeys
 Where Only Kings May Eat One Kind of Fish.
 A royal dinner in the Fiji islands is an affair of state indeed. No potentate of the civilized world could be treated with greater deference or formerly than the native king of one of these beautiful isles of the Pacific.
 To the traveler nothing could be more interesting or delightful than to be invited to dine with a king of one of these islands.
 The first ceremony is the laying of clean mats in a circle on the floor. Then the king enters in all his dignity and sits down on the mat, facing the door.
 After the king is seated, no native enters without first prostrating himself on his hands and knees on the floor before the king and each of his guests.

WANTED
 1,500 Males and Females to try Neilson's
"Saladice"
 A Real, New, Ice Cream Brick, Full of Fruits and Nuts. Also Neilson's Eskimo Pies—Neilson's Ice Cream dipped in Milk Chocolate.
 STORE OPEN NIGHTS.
J. H. JARVIS
 Cor. Princess and Albert Streets.
 Phone 5372m.
 OPEN NIGHTS.

YOUR HEALTH.
 To Avoid Real Old Age at Forty-Five.
 By Royal S. Copeland, M.D., Commissioner of Health, New York City, U.S. Senator-Elect from New York State.
 We think of old age as a condition associated with advanced years. Seventy-five or eighty is what we have in mind when we discuss this subject. I once operated on a man for senile cataract who was just past thirty. In reality this patient was an old man.
 In the presence of medicine we run onto many old men and women who have had but forty-five birthdays. It isn't the date set down in the family Bible which determines old age. It is the condition of the organs and tissues of the body.
 Whether you are old or not depends largely on the state of your heart and blood-vessels. If your pump does its work normally and if your blood runs through flexible and healthy vessels, you are young.
 If your blood-vessels become thickened and hard, if your heart over-works or if it flags in its action, you are old. If your blood-pressure is much too high, or much too low, your body will deteriorate.
 It stands to reason that to stay young you must have pure blood, free from the taint of disease. You cannot carouse, take every chance of infection and be indifferent to physical consequence, without paying the penalty.
 But it is not alone sinful neglect of your welfare that results in conditions fatal to the retention of youth. There are other factors almost as important and yet we merely warm against them—we do not preach against them as we do against the moral hazards.
 The time will come, I believe, when men and women will be ashamed of their physical lapses. Preventable bad health will be a reason for ostracism, just as other things are now.
 Over-eating, over-working and over-worry are the great causes of ill-health. They are the chief factors in the production of old age. Over-eating and over-drinking have been such factors since the beginning, but over-work and over-worry are more recent things so far as universal effects go. The stress and strain of present-day existence are responsible for early old age.
 Wrong eating and neglect of the body lead to liver, kidney and intestinal disturbances. These in turn result in the production of poisons which damage the body.
 Do you think you can cheat nature? Do you think you can live as you like, do as you please, come and go at will, sleep when you feel like it and live to be a hundred? If you believe this you are on the way to the biggest surprise you ever had! Nature won't be cheated. No matter how smart you are you cannot evade her watchfulness.
 Why be old at 45, when you might be young at 75? Keep your arteries soft by simple eating, the avoidance of excesses, cheerfulness of mind and the practice of the few rules of hygiene.
 The mad rush of modern life must be tempered or the benefits of better living conditions will be lost. With reasonable care there will be no old persons at 45.
 A financial settlement was reached at Chatham on Saturday in the case of Mrs. Cordelia E. Wilkins vs. Wilson Crockett, M.P.P., Hamilton. Mrs. Wilkins, a widow of Highgate, entered suit against Crockett, claiming $25,000 damages.
 J. C. Clark, classical master of the Belleville Collegiate Institute, died on Sunday.
 Enjoy the present and trust not too much to what tomorrow may produce. The most faulty are the most prone to find fault.

OBITUARY
 Late Miss Ellen Carroll.
 On Sunday, January 28th, the death occurred in Vancouver, B.C., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas B. Lauder, of Miss Ellen Carroll, formerly of Kingston. The deceased was a sister of J. K. Carroll and the late William Carroll, of this city. Interment will take place in Vancouver.
Three Minute Journeys
 Where Only Kings May Eat One Kind of Fish.
 A royal dinner in the Fiji islands is an affair of state indeed. No potentate of the civilized world could be treated with greater deference or formerly than the native king of one of these beautiful isles of the Pacific.
 To the traveler nothing could be more interesting or delightful than to be invited to dine with a king of one of these islands.
 The first ceremony is the laying of clean mats in a circle on the floor. Then the king enters in all his dignity and sits down on the mat, facing the door.
 After the king is seated, no native enters without first prostrating himself on his hands and knees on the floor before the king and each of his guests.

OBITUARY
 Late Miss Ellen Carroll.
 On Sunday, January 28th, the death occurred in Vancouver, B.C., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas B. Lauder, of Miss Ellen Carroll, formerly of Kingston. The deceased was a sister of J. K. Carroll and the late William Carroll, of this city. Interment will take place in Vancouver.
Three Minute Journeys
 Where Only Kings May Eat One Kind of Fish.
 A royal dinner in the Fiji islands is an affair of state indeed. No potentate of the civilized world could be treated with greater deference or formerly than the native king of one of these beautiful isles of the Pacific.
 To the traveler nothing could be more interesting or delightful than to be invited to dine with a king of one of these islands.
 The first ceremony is the laying of clean mats in a circle on the floor. Then the king enters in all his dignity and sits down on the mat, facing the door.
 After the king is seated, no native enters without first prostrating himself on his hands and knees on the floor before the king and each of his guests.