Take the Round From Queen's Juniors by Score of 6 to 5.

The Royal Military College juniors won their group honors by holding increase the good will between the Queen's University III to a 3-3 score at the Arena on Wednesday afternoon, thus taking the round by 6 to The Tri-color almost tied up the round in the dying moments of the game but their rally came too late in the game. The cadets will now play off with the winners of the other section, composed of K.C.I., Regicpolis and Queen's IV.

The game was anything but fast, although exciting enough at certain high spots. The Tri-color appeared to be greatly improved over their last appearance, while the cadets lost many opportunities through their to play combination drictly. There was a very poor crowd in evidence owing to the game being held at short notice.

Neither side could obtain an ad vantage in the opening session though both dished up fair rushes and combination work. The work of the goalies was pretty to watch, and the teams were about even. Hargraft almost had a tally towards the last of the period, but Joyner saved brilliantly, and perhaps just a bit luckily, by thrusting out his stick, Hargraft scored for the red and white shortly after the teams resumed play, catching a rebound from Joyner's pads. Shortly after, Bellamy tricked Rogers by a hot shot from a very difficult angle. The teams left the ice with the score tied one all.

In the first minute of the fina leriod, Turner took a pass near centre and wormed through to place his team in the lead. He was followed half a minute by Hargraft who trickled the rubbed in just nicely past the line. Queen's appeared depressed for a time, but railled later, and their efforts were rewarded when Macdonell tallied from close in. Just before the bell rang, McInness scored to tie up the game. The gong, however, saved any more arguments and the cadets left the ice champions of their

The match was remarkably clean, there being only two penalties and those for minor offenses. Grimes and Bellamy, both of Queen's, received one minute each. Joe Smith handled the game in his usual creditable manner, and in fact the hardworking wing and captain of the Frontenac intermediates is rapidly rounding into one of the best referees in this neck of the woods. The teams:

R.M.C.-Rogers, goal; Osler and Davis, defence; Donnelly, centre; Turner and Hargraft, wings; Saunders and Collinson, subs.

Queen's-Joyner, goal; Bellamy and Mellow, defence; McInnes, centre; Macdonell and Grimes, wings; McDonald and Detlor, subs.

Charles Gorman of St. John, N.B., won the 220-yard, and Harry Kasky of Chicago the one-mile event, on the opening programme of the third meet of the Adirondack Gold Cup skating championship series on Pontiac rink at Sarniac Lake on Tuesday.

Charles Jewstraw of Lake Placid fought out the 200-yard event shoulder to shoulder with Gorman throughout the race, but fell as the men neared the finish line, and was forced out of position. Paul Forsman of New York finished second and Edward Gloster of Toronto was third.

Frank Garnett of St. John, N.B. forced the pace in the one-mile race and won the lap prize, but was bested in the final circuit of the track, when Kasky and William Steinmetz of Chicago, who finished second, started a fast sprint. Edward Corcoran of Johnson City was third. Glear, cold weather, with the thermometer holding well down to the zero point, provided perfect ice conditions, but soon drove to shelter a
