BIG TEST COMES TO-MORROW NIGHT

Queen's and Varsity Due to Break Deadlock at Harty Arena.

With three more senior intercollegiate games scheduled, Queen's and Varsity go into the first one tomorrow at the Jock Harty Arena with honors even and both out to win.

There are two other games remaining to be played besides this. On February 17th Queen's will play University of Montreal in Montreal and McGill will meet Varsity in Toronto.

The Tricolor seniors have been working faithfully under "Eddie" Lowery and will be hard to beat. With Bond and Boucher maintaining in practice the surprising form they suddenly displayed shortly after the opening of the season, the forward line is dependable, for Gibson is very consistent and seldom fails and his right-handed partner, Bill Browne, is also fairly steady.

Though junior semifinals, intercollegiate O.H.A. games and other high-class performances may be but poorly patronized, the Arena should draw the biggest crowd of the year for this match which is practically a championship affair.

QUEEN'S IN U.S. FOR FOUR GAMES

Leave Sunday on Tour Which Ends at Montreal Next Week.

The Queen's University Senior hockey team will leave on Sunday for a short exhibition tour over the border, completing their itinerary near the end of the week in Montreal by a regular fixture with the U. of M. squad.

The party will consist of ten players and four other officials, and, although the list has not been definitely drawn up, it will probably be as follows: Goalkeepers, Quinn and A. Browne; defence, McDonald, Smith and Reynolds; forwards, Bond, Boucher, Gibson, W. Browne and Hanson; Trainer "Billy" Hughes, Coach Lowery, Manager "Johnny" Evans, Director Awrey.

This presents a rather stiff programme for the Tricolor outfit and Friday's game with Varsity may see some of the players out of the journey through injuries but it is hoped that this eventually will not materialize. The strenuous programme

Epidemic of Dysentery.

It affects many people more in winter than in summer—in the one case it is due to improper eating—in the other, to congestion excited by cold. A small dose of good, old, Nerviline repeated a couple of times usually removes the trouble very promptly.

ahead of the Queen's boys is as follows: Feb. 9—Varsity at Kingston. Feb. 12—Boston team at Boston. Feb. 13—Boston team at Boston. Feb. 14—New Haven at New Haven.

More Hissing

It is too bad that the Frontenac Hockey Club should be handicapped by the actions of some fans who want the referees to give their team all the breaks. It is but short time since "Harry" Batstone got a large mouthful of disgust with Kingston fandom, and Tuesday night "Bobbie" Hewitson was subjected to the same disgraceful treatment while refereeing the Frontenac-Trenton game.

One ardent fan got as close as possible to Hewitson and yelled over and over at the top of his voice, "You're rotten." He probably paid for the privilege, but the great majority of fans would prefer that men of this kind wear labels reading: "We do not represent Kingston's sportsmanship."

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

Frontenac Juniors should give the Trenton team a good argument for the group honors up there this evening.

The intercollegiate assault-at-arms here this year is another big event to which many are looking forward. Queen's will be well represented.

The County League has still a lot of interest left yet and not a few fans are looking forward to seeing the big battles between the group winners.

It will pay those youngsters to stick closely to hockey and keep on the ice. A player on the bench is no use except to get the penalty time-keepers something to do.

Boxing is one of the very best of sports but does not receive very great support in this city. It is much more comfortable for the spectators than hockey, at any rate, if not for the principals.

Queen's boxers have contract to go to Yale soon after the Canadian intercollegiate assault and any winners in the Canadian event will also be in the All-Canadian team to go to Annapolis later.

When you are playing hockey and get tired—ask for a substitute. Don't bump some opposing player and leave your team handicapped. Let the manager send you to the bench, not the referee.

Three Trenton rooters on Tuesday evening had more enthusiasm than all the Kingston fans put together—but it's expensive in Kingston and the sleuths are too thick in the Limestone City for bootlegging on a large scale.

Kingston fans stay home when senior intercollegiate games are on here, while a party came all the way from Buffalo to Toronto to see a hockey match. Familiarity breeds contempt, Kingstonians have been getting too much hockey of high calibre for the good of the sport.

Four New Faces As Managers in Major Leagues

Four new faces will be seen among the various big league managers, over those of a year ago, when the 16 major league clubs start their annual invasion into southern climes within the next six weeks or so.

McKechnie, Pittsburg, of the National loop, and Frank Chance, Boston, and Owen Bush, Washington, of the American, are the quartette referred to.

Of the other dozen, Connie Mack is the pioneer, having led the Athletics on 22 previous campaigns, or ever since Philadelphia came into the Johnstown circuit back in 1901.

Most of the present-day pilots have long since laid aside their playing uniforms, be'ing content to give their orders from the bench. In fact, Cobb, Speaker and Fletcher are the only regular player-managers, though Bush may decide to get into some of his team's games this season.

One odd feature in regard to the men who guide the destinies of the major league clubs concerns Connie Mack. In all the years that the elongated manager has piloted the Athletics he has never appeared on the bench in a uniform, Mack comes to the ball yard in his regular citizen's regalia, and reposes in the dug-out in the same outfit.

Bentley Is Emphatic; Holds Out on Giants

Pitcher Jack Bentley, of the New York Nationals, formerly of the Baltimore team, avers that he will not join the Giants unless he gets part of the $72,000 paid by the New York club to the Baltimore club for his release.

Bentley does not stipulate how much of the $72,000 he thinks he is entitled to, but he says, without any qualification whatever: "I never intend to wear a uniform in organized baseball again if I do not derive some financial benefit other than mere salary by my sale by Dunn to the Giants."

CAN'T TIE TY ON HIS RECORD

Ty Cobb with a life-time batting average of .372 leads all players of the world in this respect.

While it isn't generally known, Pete Browning was the holder of life-time batting averages until Cobb appeared on the scene.

The greatness of Cobb's feat is made evident by the fact that Rogers Hornsby, the premier slugger of the National League, has an average of only .347 covering his eight years.
