Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.
Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.
Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.
Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness. 40c and 75c. at all druggists.

Cadets Have Influenza

A Sick Court House

A number of the officials at the court house were confined to their homes on Monday on account of illness. Frank Purdy, the county treasurer, and Judge H. A. Lavelle were among the number.

On Cadet Service

Lt.-Col. G. H. Gillespie, left on Monday for Renfrew and Pembroke to inspect classes in training in physical exercise. A large number of school teachers are seeking certificates in physical training.

Not An Envious Job

One of the least enviable jobs in the city is that held by the mounted guard, or scout, at the Portsmouth penitentiary. The warmest place in severe weather is certainly not on a horse's back.

Snow Shovelers Busy

The snow shovelers are again busy in the city and all thoughts of spring were thrown in discard when the citizens awakened on Tuesday morning to find the weather calculations very much upset.

Removing Snow from Streets

The Board of Works department found it necessary to remove some of the snow from the main streets of the city on Tuesday. On Princess street the snow was so deep that it was impossible for motor traffic to get along.

To Help Convention

It has been announced that the letter-carriers have generously donated their share of the proceeds of the dance held on Monday night to the postal clerks as the latter are holding a convention here this summer.

One Consolation

Even if the weather is far from that desired by most people just now there is one consolation in the fact that the performance of "May-time in Erin" will be a reminder that there is an end to almost everything—even a hard winter.

Demand For Labor

On Tuesday morning every man who applied at the local bureau was given a job. Thirty men were thus provided for, and the agent, Mr. Stroud, says that he sees no reason to expect unemployment to be a matter of any concern from now on.

Some Family.

Florence—"Did you see those lovely puppies? Think of it, eleven of them. What will Joe do with them all?"
Ella—"She has already done. She advertised in the classified columns. The pups are good breed and she disposed of them in a few days."

Here's A Good One.

One of the bright pupils at Victoria school put over a new one the other day. The youngster had just started to school, and came an hour late. The teacher questioned him as to why he did not come to school on time. "I came part of the way in good time," said the pupil, "but when I got to the corner out here I noticed a sign which said, 'School, go Slow.' The kiddie evidently took the auto club's warning as an invitation to park himself on the corner."

Drove In Front of Car.

Carelessness on the part of a young lady, driving an auto, almost caused a bad accident at the corner of King and West streets, on Saturday afternoon last. The young lady drove the auto directly in front of a street car and only the quick work of the motorman in stopping his car, saved a smash. Three or four people were in the auto. After the street car continued on its way, the lady driver had another mishap, when she turned the car into a snow bank and it was stalled for a time.

Synopsis of Sermon

The following is the synopsis of the sermon preached in St. Alban's church, at Ameliasburg, on Sunday last by the rector, Rev. W. J. Gratton:
"Night should come and find me at my toil,
When all life, in day, I had thought faintly wrought,
And shallow furrows, cleft in stony soil,
Were all my labor; Shall I count it naught,
If only one poor gleaner weak of hand,
Shall pick a scanty sheaf where I have sown,
"Nay, for of Thee the Master doth demand Thy work; the harvest rests with Him alone."

The Late T. C. Cuddeford.

Thomas Colling Cuddeford, a well-known resident of this city, and an employee of the C. P. R. for over twenty-five years, died suddenly at the home of his sister, Mrs. Nell Gow, 668 Montreal street, on Monday afternoon. Deceased had been in ill health for a number of months, but his condition was not considered serious. He was born in England fifty-four years ago, and came to Kingston with his parents when he was only seven years of age. He worked on the old K. and P. railway for some years and had been lately employed as a night watchman at the C. P. R. station. Deceased was unmarried, and leaves two sisters, Mrs. Gow, this city and Mrs. S. Connelly, Wolfe Island; and one brother, Charles Cuddeford, Flint, Michigan. He was an Anglican in religion.

Predicts Early Spring

Captain John Corkey, the veteran pilot of the St. Lawrence, predicts an early spring and he expects to see the ice break up before the first of March. Captain Corkey has sailed the Lakes for forty-three years and during that time was master of the tugs Montmorency, Curtis, and Ruth and the steam barges Alberta, King Ben and Navaho as well as being part owner of three vessels. Captain Corkey was born in Kingston fifty-six years ago and has sailed since he was nine years of age. He has for some time been a pilot between Kingston and Montreal.

Catholic Women's League.

The Catholic Women's League held its regular meeting on Sunday afternoon. Many important questions relating to the work of the league were discussed. A hearty vote of appreciation was tendered Mrs. F. Piley, who presented a very interesting report of the entertainment committee which showed that the lecture given in Notre Dame auditorium and the dance and euchre at the Knights of Columbus hall were successful socially and financially. The nominating committee, with Mrs. C. Corrigan as convener, was appointed. Mrs. James Hughes very graciously offered the Frontenac hall for a dance to be held after Easter, for the benefit of the C. W. L.

Storm Was Responsible.

The Kingston street car system is seldom appreciated, or thought much about, until a heavy snowfall arrives on the scene and the smooth sched-

Drivers Should Be Careful.

Drivers of horses should be very careful these days, and not allow their horses to remain on the street without being tied or having some person in charge. Horses do not like to stand in the cold weather, and one cannot blame them for running away. On Tuesday morning, a cart driver left his horse standing near the C. P. R. station, while he attended to some business in the station, and while he was away the animal bolted. Owing to the heavy snowdrifts, the horse could not pick up much speed, and a young man succeeded in jumping on to the sleigh and grabbing the reins and brought the horse under control, but it was another case of what might have resulted in a very serious accident.

A Thrilling Stunt.

A thrilling, and at the same time an amusing "stunt", was pulled off by a young man on a downtown street on Saturday afternoon, and people who witnessed it are still talking about the incident. A horse attached to a sleigh, started on a career without a driver. The young man in question, had a bag in his hand and his efforts to stop the horse were thus handicapped, but he succeeded in dropping his bag into the sleigh, and afterwards jumped in himself and got control of the animal, and saved what would, no doubt, have resulted in a disaster as the horse was heading for the railway tracks, and a train happened to be making its way along in the city at the time.
