TWO ANNIVERSARIES IN CITY CHURCHES

Princess Street Methodist and St. Andrew's Had Fine Services Sunday.

The thirty-third anniversary of the dedication of the present St. Andrew's church building, and the 117th anniversary of St. Andrew's itself, was celebrated on Sunday, with special services, Rev. Principal D. J. Fraser, D.D., Montreal, occupying the pulpit. Special music also featured the services and there was a splendid attendance during the day.

Dr. Fraser took as his subject for the morning service, "The First Protestant," and in his very able address outlined the principles for which St. Paul, and later Martin Luther, stood for when they revolted against the old orthodox idea of religion being a set of laws and ceremonies. In the first century, Paul fought against the principles of the Jewish Christians who claimed that they were just a little better than the Gentile Christians for the mere reasons of diet and certain customs. Paul stated that Christianity was not a set of rules, but a simple and lasting faith in Jesus.

St. Paul saved modern Christianity from becoming a mere Jewish cult, and it was this same principle that Martin Luther based his fight which brought about the reformation in the 15th century. There was a great danger in modern times of the members of churches taking their religion as a matter of course and as a routine. More attendance and the living up to a creed is not the right kind of Christianity.

Christianity is Christ's spiritual view of life and this is the principle that must be followed by all who seek salvation. In another way many people base their religion on the giving of money to charitable work, though not giving any account of how they obtained this money. It must be first earned by honest methods and spent as a sacred trust.

The special anniversary music included the rendering of "How Lovely Are the Messengers," Mendelssohn; "The Roseate Hues of Early Morn," Slater; and an organ recital by Prof. Milner, assisted by Miss G. Bartels, violinist, and the choir.

Princess Street Methodist.

The congregation of Princess street Methodist church celebrated the forty-first anniversary on Sunday. To mark the occasion Rev. A. E. Runnells, B.A., Montreal, one of the outstanding young men in the Methodist ministry, was the special preacher. He gave two of the most inspiring addresses heard in Kingston in years.

During the forty-one years that Princess street church has been serving the Methodist people in upper end of the city the church has been fortunate in having some strong ministers but it is safe to say that the present pastor, Rev. J. A. Wadell, who is completing his fifth year is without question one of the most popular with all classes. Mr. Wadell asked for a special collection of $450 which the finance committee needs to carry on the work.

The choir under the able leadership of Mrs. Loney, gave special music at both services. At the morning service the musical programme consisted of vocal duet by Mrs. Percy Ward and Mrs. Fred Rutherford; violin solo, H. Murphy and vocal solo by S. Mayer. The evening programme was vocal solo, Mr. Crossby; Male quartette, Messrs. Loney, Moncrief, Marshall and Francis, and vocal solo, Mrs. W. N. Archibald. Special anthems were rendered by the choir at both services.

At the morning service Mr. Runnells gave a powerful sermon on the subject: "Public Opinion Pays Homage to Reality." He took for his text Acts II, 40-47. In opening his address, the speaker stated that in the early days the greatest task which confronted the church was the rescuing of the world for Jesus Christ. In those days it was a time of an awful crisis. The early church said the speaker lacked everything that would guarantee success, and against these conditions the church was asked to spiritualize the world.

Mr. Runnells said "that well may the twentieth century learn the lesson from that early age. The people of that early day knew Christ and accepted Him, and it is well for us today to learn the lesson," said the preacher. "The teachings of Jesus are final and if the churches today are empty it is because men are not loyal to the fundamental principles of Jesus Christ."

The preacher took occasion to refer to the utterance of theological teachers who recently stated that Jesus did not rise, and he remarked that the man who made such utterances should be some other place. The speaker stated that Christ was the only hope for humanity. He spoke of the deep spiritual tone of the early church and referred to the fathers and mothers who laid the foundations of this banner province as men and women who had a fuller fellowship. He was sure what was needed in the church today was a centre of radiating fellowship where the rich and poor would mingle together.

"The people of the early ages made the church aggressive and great by prayer," said the speaker. He stated, "that people had been unable to find a substitute for that power which is generating the church by prayer."

There was something wrong with the church when the plunderer and adulterer can sit in church on Sunday and face the preacher and not wink an eye. He claimed the early church did not have similar conditions and if the church of today were fulfilling its mission things like that would not be.

When closing his address he stated that if the church were impressing the people that it meant business, the crowds would certainly come and there would not be so many vacant seats.

THE HEALTH OF CHILDREN

Greatly Benefited by the Work of School Physician and Nurse.

Dr. R. R. MacGregor, who is engaged in the schools of Kingston along with Miss H. Lovick, the school nurse, is doing good work for the little children. Reports are sent to the parents when children are found in need of treatment or special care and immediate steps are taken to correct such matters as diet, clothing, habits in play, the sleeping habits of the family and such matters effecting the welfare of little ones. On Friday Dr. MacGregor addressed a meeting of the parents of children attending Victoria school along general lines and gave good advice that the parents greatly appreciated.

The first report sent to parents in the form of a note pointing out that the child is under the average weight or is ill, and Miss Hoppin, who is in charge of the dispensing of milk to children, places the child's name on her list at the parents' request. She now has about 120 who receive an extra pint of milk daily, and there is a marked change observable in the condition of many children. The teachers of Victoria school show sympathetic care of pupils in their classes, many being able to tell parents just what a child needs. Many are found to require more rest at home, especially the youngest member of the family, who is constantly trying to keep up with older children, and escapes the observation of the parent. There are many matters now being brought to light, and the adjustment of which is going to have a very important effect upon the future welfare of the children.

England Drinking More Tea.

England is the greatest tea-consuming country in the world. Recently her annual requirements have greatly increased, due to a largely increased consumption. This strong demand, coupled with the serious shortage in the tea crop this year, has caused tea prices to soar. We are feeling the effect of this condition in Canada, as the Salada Tea Company, the largest tea concern on the continent, has recently been forced to raise the price of all their blends, in order to maintain the quality in "Salada" that has built their business.—Adv.

Burial of Mrs. M. Henderson.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Henderson, who passed away in Rochester, N.Y., on Saturday, was held from James Reid's undertaking parlors on Monday morning to Cataract cemetery. Deceased was the widow of the late Henry Henderson, formerly a prominent Kingston photographer by trade, and was ninety-two years of age. She was a Presbyterian in religion. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Macgillivray, of Queen's University.

Change in Club Luncheon.

A change has had to be made in the visit of Sir Henry Newbolt. He has been asked to visit Government House on Saturday, Feb. 24th, and will not be able to reach Kingston until Monday afternoon, Feb. 26th. He will speak that night in Grant Hall, Queen's University, and on Tuesday, at noon, will be the guest of the Canadian Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs at luncheon in Hotel Frontenac.

The firemen were called to the home of Ald. George Laturney, 151 Princess street, at 11.51 a.m. Sunday, for a chimney fire. There was no damage.
