DEDICATION SERVICE AT CHRIST CHURCH, CATARAQUI

Wilson Memorial Chapel and Electric Lights Dedicated by Bishop Bidwell.

The Bishop of Ontario made his episcopal visitation to Christ church, Cataraqui, on Sunday. At the morning service he celebrated the Holy Communion and preached an impressive and eloquent sermon on the resurrection and witnessing for Jesus Christ. He referred to the noble devoted examples of the late Rev. Dr. Henry Wilson, who was the first rector and founder of Christ church, and the late W. B. Dalton, one of the congregation's first members. His Lordship at the request of the rector, Rev. Canon T. Austin Smith, dedicated to the glory of God and the use of the church two valuable donations, the Henry Wilson memorial chapel with its beautiful furnishings, and the electric lights, and spoke in warm appreciation of the generosity of the gifts made by Miss Madeline Wilson, New York, and Mrs. R. J. Sedgwick, Toronto.

Vessels to Be Ready on 20th of April

Vessels in the Kingston harbor have been ordered to be in readiness to sail on the 20th inst. The ferry steamer Wolfe Islander will not attempt to cross the harbor until Thursday. The ice punt is still crossing and sailed over Monday with three passengers who report that the ice is weak and sags in the channel.

The Collingwood Shipbuilding Company has not completed its contracts for repairs, and fears are entertained lest the opening of navigation be so late as to prevent any work being done on vessels ordered to dry dock for that purpose. The lateness of the season this year is spoiling plans made last fall.

Kingston Will Begin Daylight Saving May 6th

Kingston will go on daylight saving on Sunday morning, May 6th, and the new time will be observed until Labor Day.

Citizens are hoping that the Weather Man will be on his good behaviour for the opening of the summer season, and that they will not be compelled to burn coal, but then one can never tell just what kind of weather is coming along these days. The Weather Man has his own troubles trying to dope it out these days.

Y.M.C.A. Song Service.
The Sunday evening song service held at the Y.M.C.A. was a decided success, there being a splendid attendance of young people from the various denominations. H. B. Trotter presided, and the devotional exercises were conducted by George Pound and the general secretary. In addition to the usual rendering of songs by the assembly, the following programme of sacred music was given: Solos, Miss Olive Woodman, Miss A. Pollard, B. Fowler and F. J. Wilson; duets, Miss K. Lloyd and Miss A. Pollard; piano solo, A. Davidge; violin solo, W. C. Cannon; and mixed quartette, Miss M. Wheeler, Miss K. Lloyd and Messrs. Trotter and Fowler.

New Pastor Coming.
Rev. J. G. Potter, M.A., Montreal, preached at both services in Cooke's Presbyterian church on Sunday, and delivered two thoughtful and inspiring discourses. The choir rendered splendid music at both services. The new pastor, Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson, Lanark, is expected to arrive in the city on Wednesday, and his induction into his new charge will take place on Friday evening. The new pastor has taken a home at the corner of Victoria and Park streets.

Living in Barbaric Age.
Rev. Dr. Bell in his sermon in Sydenham street Methodist church, on Sunday morning, said the Christian conscience of the world has not yet been aroused to the horrors of war and many other evils. People a hundred years hence in looking back will likely regard us as having lived in a barbaric age.

THE SMALLER NATIONS TO JOIN THE BIG ONES

Struggle For Freedom and Liberty Continues in the Near East.

Dr. O. D. Skelton, dean of arts faculty, Queen's University, was the speaker at the annual social gathering of the local Queen's Alumni at Renfrew on Friday night. His subject, "The New Nations," afforded an intellectual treat. He spent last summer in Central Europe and studied conditions at first hand and spoke of the breaking up of Empires (as the result of the world war), and the effect industrially, economically, socially and religiously, the various peoples were experiencing and would continue to experience. He compared conditions before and after the war in Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia (the latter two made out of Austria-Hungary and Germany), of the enlarged Poland, of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. The greatest change, he said, was in Central Europe through the breaking up of landed estates and creation of millions of independent farmers. These people for decades, looking for reforms, acquired them suddenly and many years must elapse before they could resolve themselves into self-governing peoples. He believed many of the smaller nations would unite to form larger, and Christendom would watch sympathetically their continued struggle for freedom and liberty.

OBITUARY

Late Robert Kemp.
Robert Kemp, 4 Corrigan street, passed away at his late residence on Sunday, after a short illness. Deceased was nearly six years of age. He was an Anglican in religion and a life-long member of St. George's cathedral.

Late William Gavine.
William Gavine, an aged and well-known resident of this city, passed away at his late residence, 25 Frontenac street, on Saturday afternoon. He was a Presbyterian and a member of St. Andrew's church.

Died in Portland, Oregon.
The many friends of Mrs. James Bennett, formerly of this city, will regret to hear of her death in Portland Oregon, recently. The remains were taken from the home of her daughter at Portland, to Walla Walla, Washington, for burial. Mrs. M. Bennett, Barrack street, Kingston and J. McCabe, Pine street, this city, are sister and brother of the deceased.

The Late Mrs. S. Dermady.
The Angel of Death entered the home of Stephen Dermady, Lombardy, on Wednesday morning, April 11th, and took to her heavenly home, Ellen O'Mara, his dearly beloved wife. The deceased had been a patient sufferer for years, and only took to her bed a week previously, but the ravages of the disease soon overpowered a robust constitution and she passed peacefully away surrounded by the members of her family and relatives.

She was a very lovable woman, possessed of many fine qualities and virtues and a truly great mother—having had the happy satisfaction of seeing her ten children grown up and enjoying the fruits of her noble motherhood. Her charitable deeds and kindly disposition were the admiration of the countryside, and the younger generation loved her exceedingly.

She was a faithful attendant of the Blessed Sacrament Church of the Sacred Heart.
