The Unity Corps of the Y.W.C.A. gave a tea and sale of home cooking in the club room on Saturday afternoon, in aid of the camp fund, which was most successful. What the Editor Hears

That no one could have witnessed the works of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides at their entertainments in St. George's Hall last week, without realizing that the movement which has taught several hundreds of our boys and girls the valuable lessons of discipline, efficiency and courtesy, as well as to keep their pledge of honor to God and the King, and kindness to man and least, should have the support of the community.

That from three to six bracelets on the right arm is what the smart member of the younger set wears to-day. If she does not like the choker necklace with its single strand, she winds a long string of beads three times about her throat.

That you can make your soiled rugs look like new with salt and water, a new stiff finger brush, some good soap and plenty of elbow grease. Rinse in salt and water to set the color.

That that newest idea, which has been exploited by Chanel of Paris, is a knitted sweater, covered with sampler cross-stitch in four colors, widely bordered with crepe de chine that matches one of the colors and a muffler is of the crepe.

That the K. C. I. concert in the Grand Opera House on Saturday evening was a great success.

That a Portsmouth lady had hepaticas blooming in the house a month ago. The children will soon find them in the woods and we will hope they will pick them carefully and leave the roots for another springtime.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kamble

TUESDAY, APRIL 24th.

Although this bids fair to be a lively day, it may not be forecast as altogether propitious. Troubles may beset those in the employment of others, and anxieties may be read in the auguries. Change should be avoided, and all disagreeable and disastrous conditions should be circumvented by keeping firm control on tongue and temper, as the Martial impulse may stir up strife and defeat.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of troublesome conditions. Those in the employment of others may not be under altogether safe conditions, and all should be careful not to offend by ill-temper or quick speech. A child born on this day should be trained in self-discipline.

DISHES IN THIS WEEK'S MENUS
 Spinach Salad: Boil two quarts of spinach till very tender, then drain and chop it finely. Mix with three slices of bacon which have been crisply fried then chopped, one tablespoon of butter and one hard-boiled egg, also cut small. Press this mixture into four tumblers (or any cup or glass with a round base) and stand in a cold place to cool and set. Just before meal-time turn these four spinach molds out of their glasses onto crisp lettuce leaves and put a dab of mayonnaise dressing on each.

Liver Boulettes: Put cooked liver through a food chopper, and to one cup of the chopped liver add one beaten egg, one tablespoon each of bread crumbs and minced, partly cooked onion, and a pinch of salt. Form this mixture into small, flat cakes with the hands roll each cake in flour, and fry in bacon fat until brown, turning once so as to brown the other side. Serve hot with tomato catsup.

Vegetable-Stuffed Peppers: Mix at the palace not later than one o'clock.

The state dining room and the great upper room will be utilized. The dining room is to be used by members of the royal family and near relatives of the bride with a few privileged guests, between sixty and seventy in number, who will be accommodated at a series of tables holding from ten to twelve guests each. At the principal table will be the king and queen, the Duke and Duchess of York, the Earl and Countess of Strathmore, the Prince of Wales, Queen Alexandra, the Empress Marie of Russia and the Duke of Connaught.

About a hundred guests will be accommodated in the upper room, where the Lord Steward of the Household, the Earl of Shaftesbury, will preside.

At the conclusion of the breakfast, the king will invite the guests to fill their glasses and drink to the long life and happiness of the bride and bridegroom, while the Earl of Shaftesbury will do likewise in the supper room.

The two parties will then proceed to the great drawing room suite of the palace. In the blue drawing room members of the royal family will sign the registers of Westminster Abbey, which will have been signed at the abbey only by the king and queen and the parents of the bride. The bride will then be called on to cut the series of great wedding cakes and portions will be passed around to the assembled company.

Almost immediately afterwards the bride and bridegroom will leave the apartment to prepare for their journey and the remainder of the party will adjourn to the main hall to witness the departure of the young couple.

Y.M.C.A. Sunday Evening Service.
 The regular vesper song service at the Y.M.C.A. Sunday evening at 8.30 o'clock made a very fitting Sabbath day closing, and those present not only enjoyed singing together the good old hymns, but also were greatly inspired by a fine programme of sacred music contributed by the choir of Princess street Methodist church. The opening number was a rousing anthem by the choir, the solo part being taken by Mrs. L. M. Loney, choir leader, who also gave a very thoughtful reading entitled "The Measuring Rod." Solos were given by Miss Jackson, Miss M. Quirt, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. W. Archibald. A mixed quartette composed of Miss Jackson, Mrs. Archibald and Messrs. J. Marshall and L. M. Loney also gave a splendid selection. During the meeting, prayer was offered by Rev. A. S. Duncan, and John Kinch. F. R. Anglin gave a bible reading. The general secretary presided.
