CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE
By Uncle Ray

Chapter 16—The First Boat.
When people of the Stone Age wanted to get from one side of a deep river to the other, what did they do? There were no boats at first, so the only thing to do was to swim across—or else not get across at all.
This problem of rivers must have been a big one in the Stone Age. Families were in the habit of moving frequently. They moved in order to find new forests in which the men could hunt. They usually spent their winters in caves, but in summer they roamed far and wide—it was move, move, move.
When a group of people came to a shallow stream, the grownups could wade across, carrying the babies and small children in their arms. When the river was deep, the men and women had to swim across—probably carrying the children on their backs! People must often have been drowned when the current was very strong, or when the river was very wide.
Happily, people learned a safer way to get across rivers. They learned to use boats.
The earliest boats were crude affairs—just logs.
The idea must have come to a man who liked to think about a time when things would be easier and happier. Such a man may have seen a tree floating down the river. A fierce storm had blown it into the water.
"Oh," this man may have said to himself, "how grand would it be if I could go on water like that tree!"
He followed along the bank for a distance. Then a big idea came to him.
Into the water he sprang, and was soon at the side of the tree. He grasped one of the limbs, and held on. Down the river he floated with the tree!
Finally he climbed on the trunk and sat down. The tree did not

MRS. MORRIS RESIGNS. WAS FURTHER REMANDED.

As Director of the U.F.W.O. for Frontenac County
Mrs. J. D. Morris, Lake Shore Road, Portsmouth, who has been Director of U.F.W.O. for Frontenac county for the past two years, has resigned from her official position in the organization owing to ill-health. Notification to this effect was received by Mrs. A. Graham, Portsmouth, the county secretary, on Tuesday.
Mrs. Morris has been connected with the United Farmers of Ontario, in the women's branch, since the agrarian movement grew into a political force in this province, and was one of the chief organizers in this section of Ontario. She has spent a great deal of her time and un-limited energies in the furtherance of the interests of the movement, and took a prominent part in the last provincial and dominion elections. A very fluent speaker, and a tireless worker, her services were in constant demand on the platform and at various organization and committee meetings throughout the county, and she has been honored with many official positions that called for rare tact, patience and ability.
The resignation of Mrs. Morris, if accepted, will be carried out with deep regret on the part of her associates and friends, who will only do so because of her earnest wishes. It is needless to mention that her cheeriness, loyalty and ability will be a real loss to the county executive, who will join in expressing their sympathy concerning her illness and their hope that she will be restored to good health in the very near future.

So Ill He Could Not Leave House

Mrs. W. Arnold of Mt. Hamilton, Ont., Tells of the Wonderful Results Obtained Through Two Bottles of Dreco—Her Husband Had Been Ill For Years.

Stomach trouble, indigestion, gastritis and the resulting constipation and sluggish liver, persisting throughout several years, had brought W. Arnold, of 63 East 33rd Street, Mt. Hamilton, Ont., to such a condition that he had not been able to leave the house for some time. He had dizzy spells and all those other warning symptoms and they responded to no treatment administered.
"We had almost given up hope of finding anything to restore his health," says his wife, "and then came Dreco. Two bottles and he is like a new man." Mr. and Mrs. Arnold are enthusiastic over the results, but theirs is the same story that is told by every user of Dreco.
"We think Dreco a wonderful preparation," says Mrs. Arnold. "It can't be beaten. My husband had been sick for several years and hadn't been able to leave the house for a long time until he started taking Dreco. His trouble was stomach and liver complaint. Everything he ate would sour and cause indigestion, gas and heartburn. He had dizzy spells and spots floated before his eyes. He always had to take medicine to keep his bowels open. His nerves were in bad shape, and his system was weak and run down. We heard about Dreco and decided to try it. After two bottles he is much stronger and goes for daily walks. We are pleased to recommend this wonderful medicine."
There are many men well on the road to such a condition as Mr. Arnold found himself in—face approaching the day when ill-health will confine them to the house and deprive them of their power to earn a living for themselves and their families. Dreco will prevent this condition. Dreco tones up the system and helps the organs, the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to function correctly. Try Dreco to-day.
Dreco is being specially introduced in Kingston by Mahood's Drug Store, and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.
