SHAUGHNESSY THINKS CANUCK GAME FASTER

And Big McGill Mentor Should Know Something About Both Styles.

A despatch from Baltimore says: Canadian football is a faster and better game than the American brand, according to "Shag" Shaughnessy, who forsakes the diamond in the fall to handle the reins as coach of McGill University.

The big, raw-boned mentor of the Syracuse Baseball Club has some reasons for his opinion, and does not hesitate to express them and his comments are worthy of consideration, from the fact that McGill has played Syracuse University during the last two years.

Shaughnessy believes that the frequent "times out" are seriously menacing the punch, which football at all times should exhibit, and that the Canadians, who make the contest move on the jump at all times are in advance of their brethren across the border in the swiftness with which plays are hurled at an opposing team.

Comparing the game as played in Canada and the United States, Shaughnessy said: "Playing their own game there are undoubtedly a number of college elevens in the States which would probably defeat the best that the Maple Leafs can produce."

"However, I think we have the better game. The rules state that when one play is over the ball must be put in play 'immediately' and by 'immediately' it means that unless it is actually handled in 20 seconds a penalty is inflicted."

"In the U.S. the game is slow, and is slowing up more every year. Frequent consultations before plays, 'time out' for almost anything, and playing to hold an opponent safe, have jeopardized the sport, and it is not as interesting as formerly."

McGill was beaten each time by Syracuse but Shaughnessy declares that his material was not of high order and that even then the eleven from the Sask City was given a hard battle.

Last year McGill held Syracuse scoreless for three periods, but a forward passing game, combined with a block kick, spelled defeat to the Canadians in the final quarter. McGill excelled in the use of the lateral pass and also showed defensive strength by holding Syracuse on several occasions within the 10-yard zone, according to Shaughnessy.

"He Was Always Trying."

Parkinson, of the Philadelphia team, led in the chances accepted with 919 and he committed 34 errors, also the most in the league. It does mean something. It shows that he hustled in going after everything that came his way. Less active players sometimes finish with better averages by falling to go after drives in their territories that are labelled hits when they leave the bat. To say that "he's always trying" is the most sincere compliment that can be handed to any athlete.

Carried Off the Prize.

Miss Kathryn Cull, Toronto, led a good-sized field taking part in the women's rifle tournament held during the week at the Pinehurst Gun Club, and was Sunday awarded the major prize for her leading target of 139 out of a possible 150 points. Other contestants, including Miss Dorothy Davis, also of Toronto, finished in a tie for the second prize with scores of 138.

KNOX TO U.S.?

Famous All-round Coach May Leave Canada and Cross Border.

Walter Knox, instructor in athletics under the direction of the Ontario Athletic Commission, may be lost to Canadian athletics. Next week Knox goes to Ann Arbor, Michigan, where he has been offered the post of coach of the field and track team recently vacated by Archie Hahn, of Milwaukee, ex-U.S. champion sprinter. Stephen Farrell is chief coach and he sent for Knox, whom he wants to start in by teaching at the summer school this summer.

If University of Michigan gets Knox he will not be available to coach Canada's Olympic team next year.

Knox has a busy two weeks ahead of him. Here is his itinerary among Ontario public and high school boys until May 11th:

- April 23-24—Sarnia.
April 27-28-30—Windsor.
May 1—Walkerville.
May 2—Leamington.
May 3—Alvinston.
May 4—Mount Brydges.
May 6—Delaware.
May 7—Stratford.
May 8-9-10—Woodstock.
May 11—Dunnville.
May 14—Beamsville.
After that he goes east.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

Well, it's good to see some money coming out of the city council for sports. Kingston would be miles ahead of its present standing had it possessed councils in the past who knew the value of sporting aggregations to a city.

Did anyone notice that following the record crowds at the Yankee Stadium for the opening American League game, and other similar sporting records this spring, business seemed to pick up?

One team got $500 from the city fathers and surely fourteen teams will receive some consideration when their plea comes before the finance committee and eventually the city council. If it does not, there will be hundreds of citizens who will mark the incident and remember it.

Billie Hughes is looking for some engagements in Syracuse with banners of that district and the Syracuse Post-Standard gives quite a chunk of space to the fact. If Billie ever goes over there for a fight they'll want a return engagement—if they have any fighters.

Cobourg Central Leaguers are working indoors so far. Bruce Thompson, former Kingston star, has been to Rochester to see if that bad arm can be remedied and will likely be able to fix it. Dick Turpin has been appointed manager and Tom Kenny assistant manager and captain.

Fred Fulton nearly took the measure of young Floyd Johnson when he opened out and fought in the last round but the awakening of the veteran came a little too late.

If Willard is in half the shape press reports claim the Milk Fund tournament on the 12th of May should be worth going to.

After all the talk about Dolmont all the Toronto scribes could say about him after twelve rounds was that he "might" have done something to Dundee.

The absence of George Sieler and the collapse of the pitching staff have placed the St. Louis Browns in an unenviable position. Last year Urban Shocker, former Toronto moundman, carried the load for the Foh-

Would Ask Papers to Cease Publishing News

Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis is planning to ask the owners and editors of the newspapers of the United States and Canada, especially the owners of papers in major league cities, to cease printing the tables showing the number of runs made weekly by the ball clubs.

His investigation of gambling and gambling pools in baseball have convinced him that the printing of these tables is merely catering to the pool gamblers and the gambling element, and that if the newspapers would stop publishing them, the gambling in that form would be reduced.

Commissioner Landis has been investigating baseball pool swindling in all the major league cities, and has discovered that the persons who "gamble" on baseball pools have practically no chance to win, since, in addition to the mathematical odds against them, the swindlers conducting the huge pools pay out less than 30 per cent. of the total money wagered in prizes and some of the pools appear to give back less than 10 per cent. of their total takings.

He considers this form of gambling, by which huge sums are piled up from small bets, to be most dangerous to baseball, and is pressing a fight to stamp it out all over the country.
