POLITICAL SITUATION IN FRONTENAC COUNTY

Battle Likely to Be Between Conservatives and U.F.O. Candidates.

Although the representatives of the three political parties of the County of Frontenac are having very little to say as who the candidates will be in the provincial election, it is almost certain that the fight will be between the United Farmers and the Conservatives. C. G. McKnight, Godfrey, president of the Frontenac Liberal-Conservative Association, when asked by the Whig as to when the Conservative convention would be called for the purpose of nominating a candidate, stated a decision had not been reached. Several names have been suggested as candidates, but it would appear that Anthony Rankin, M.P.P., the present representative would likely be the choice of the convention. John S. Sibbitt, warden of the county of Frontenac, has been mentioned but it is understood that he will not oppose Mr. Rankin in the convention. Mr. McKnight stated that he would not like to make any prophecy, but he thought that Anthony Rankin would be the man.

A prominent Liberal, when speaking to the Whig, said he did not expect that the Liberal party of the county would nominate a candidate. The United Farmers will meet in convention on Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of choosing a standard bearer. Several names have been mentioned, including A. E. Weller and G. A. B. Clarke. The farmers are not saying very much and it would not be at all surprising if a man from the back part of the county would be the choice of the convention.

Several farmers from the north part of the county state that it is almost certain W. D. Black will be the Conservative nominee for Addington riding.

$1,400 IS CONTRIBUTED
 By the Kingston Jews Towards Zionist Appeal of Dr. Goldstein.

The handsome sum of $1,400 was realized Wednesday evening for the Zionist appeal, which was so forcibly delivered at the synagogue here by Dr. Alexander Goldstein, the eminent Russian Zionist. The synagogue was crowded, nearly all the Jewish people of the city being present. In stirring terms, the speaker told of the sufferings and hardships which are being suffered by the Jewish people in the different countries of Europe to-day, particularly in Russia, where starvation stares many of them in the face. He went on to describe the work that has been done so far by the various Zionist organizations of the world, describing the developments that have already taken place in Palestine. Dr. Goldstein himself is an important leader in the Zionist movement. He was a member of the Russian parliament under Kerensky and president of the Jewish Congress of Ukraine.

The Jewish people of Kingston have been noted for their ready response to any appeals for charitable or other worthy causes and last night they lived up to this reputation in donating the large sum mentioned above. In the absence of Ex-Alderman Isaac Cohen, president of the Zionist organization in this city, the chair was occupied by S. J. Zacks. Mrs. L. Abramson, who has done excellent work here in connection with Hadassah, the women's Zionist organization, represented that portion of the congregation. Moe Abramson made a very strenuous appeal for contributions, and his efforts were most successful in raising such a large sum. He is deserving of the highest credit for his excellent work in managing the whole visit of Dr. Goldstein and in leading the appeal last night.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY

Holds Another Meeting—National Societies Safeguard Against Bolshevism.

There was a very good attendance at the second meeting of St. George's Society on Wednesday evening and the officers formally elected were: President, Dr. L. J. Austin; secretary, Prof. W. R. P. Bridger; treasurer, Capt. E. J. Harvey.

At the opening of the meeting Dean Starr reported on the work of reorganization. He outlined briefly the objects and aims of the society which, he stated, were along the lines of brotherhood, with philanthropic and fundamentally imperialistic ideals. He stated that St. George's Society was not new in Kingston, although lying in abeyance for the last fifteen years or more, and gave it as his opinion that a real field of work existed for such a society in Kingston.

Dr. L. J. Austin, the president, gave an able address expressing his thanks for the honor of electing him president. He briefly outlined the characteristics of Englishmen in his own and other people's eyes. He saw all over the world, Scotch and Irish societies formed for the purpose of their own welfare, but very few English societies. The English, apparently, took everything lying down. The world was menaced today by Bolshevism and communism, and he felt that such societies as St. George's were a real safeguard in times like the present. He agreed with the dean that there was real work awaiting the society. In comparing the educational systems of the old country and Canada, he saw much that was to the advantage of Canada. State grants to such institutions as Queen's were a safeguard against higher education drifting into the English system which made higher education a privilege for the rich who only could afford to pay the fees.

Bishop Bidwell said the society was open to all Englishmen, to be run by Englishmen for Englishmen, and not by any church or group of clergy. He would have all remember, however, that they were now Canadians and were called on to do all in their power to build up Canada, the land of their adoption.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and confer with the Sons of England regarding the advisability of holding a banquet on May 24th.

Mr. Swain, a charter member of the Sons of England, and a member of St. George's Society since 1874, was present.

The next meeting will be held on May 10th and an effort will be made by the officers to increase the membership.

P.W.O.R. TO MARCH OUT ON FRIDAY EVENING
 Citizens Will Have a Chance of Seeing Unit on Parade.

Since the commencement of training on the 9th instant, the Princess of Wales' Own Regiment (21st Battalion, C. E. F.) has been busy organizing for the season, issuing uniforms, arms and equipment, and generally clearing the decks for the year's work.

On Friday evening the battalion will hold its first march-out of the season, leaving the armouries soon after 3:15 and parading through the city. It is anticipated that the unit will parade in full strength as all ranks are showing enthusiasm and interest, which bespeak a successful year. Friday evening, then, will be the first opportunity this year for the citizens to see its premier infantry unit on parade.

Immediately following the return of the battalion to the armouries a presentation of prizes will take place. These include several cups, the battalion inter-company challenge shield and many individual prizes for shooting. The public are invited to attend this presentation and are requested to proceed direct to the galleries in order that the battalion may have a clear floor upon which to manoeuvre.

The presentation will be made by Mrs. Dawson, wife of Colonel H. J. Dawson, C.M.G., D.S.O., officer commanding the 7th Infantry Brigade, of which the P. W. O. R. forms part. Mrs. Dawson will be assisted by Mrs. E. B. Sparks, wife of the regiment's popular commander.

After the presentation, the various companies will be served with refreshments in their rooms, and the officers will be at home in their mess.

Charge Was Dismissed.
 In the police court on Thursday morning, a young man was charged with operating his motor car without lights, but the case was dismissed. The evidence showed that the accused purchased a new car recently. It had been left in a local garage and had been taken out without his knowledge. On this evidence, the magistrate found that the young man was not guilty.

Burial of Ambrose Dunn.
 The remains of the late Ambrose Dunn, Kingston, chief engineer on the steamer Maplehurst, who lost his life in the tragic wreck of that vessel on December 1st 1922, arrived in the city on Thursday afternoon. The funeral was held from M. P. Keyes' undertaking parlors to St. Mary's cemetery.

"I want," said the little bride, "a piece of meat without fat, bone or gristle."
 The butcher regarded her reflectively for a moment, then turned and carefully surveyed his stock and remarked: "You'd better have an egg, ma'am."

To be vain is rather a mark of humility than pride.
 Avarice begins where poverty ends.

POOR EYE SIGHT

A very large percentage of all school children have defective vision. Many children are considered dull and backward, who are simply suffering from weak eyes.
 Such children are unnecessarily handicapped. The eye troubles which interfere with their progress can be overcome with a little attention and proper corrective glasses at this time may result in perfect vision in after years.

The matter is too important to be neglected. It concerns the future of the child.
 An examination by our Optometrists will determine whether or not your child requires glasses.

IN MARINE CIRCLES

The harbor was exceptionally smooth this morning making conditions ideal for the busy marine men who are shifting vessels and loading various supplies and equipment.

The steamer Outland left on Thursday for Toronto, and it is thought that she will not have to coal at Cape Vincent.

The steamer Concretia arrived this morning from Prescott and cleared to place buoys in the Bay of Quinte district.

The steamer Aragon arrived down from Picton on Thursday morning. The steamer Keynor is at the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company's drydock undergoing repairs.

The staff of the Davis drydock have a great deal of work ahead of them, and another vessel is expected before the end of the week.

Was Given Shelter.
 The only occupant of the police cells on Wednesday night, was a young man in hard luck, who stated that he had been unable to secure work. He was also given shelter at the police station, on Tuesday night. When he left the station on Thursday morning, he stated that he would make another attempt to get a position. He left his home in Toronto about ten days ago, and has been drifting around several places in Eastern Ontario.
