

LATEST LOCAL

SPORTING

GENERAL REVIEWS

NEWS

TIMELY COMMENTS

HOSPITAL CASES ON THE GROUNDS

When Hussars Won From Tanners 8-3—Many Accidents During the Game.

The grand old game of rugby was indicated yesterday evening when Hussars and A. Davis met at the thicket field in a scheduled game of baseball and there were several casualties, at least one of them being of a very serious nature. The Hussars won out 8 to 3, making their second straight win and it was certainly a Hussars night in every way. The Tanners' best was having the breaks of the game against them for the first time in many games, also had several casualties and Karl Quinn, regular twirler, will probably be out of the game for some time as the result of a badly injured ankle, the accident happening when he slowed up from running and twisted his foot. "Jim" Arneil, Hussars' shortstop got his hand in front of a drive and injured it badly and two men were hurt sliding into bases.

Advertisement for 'The Greatest Little Motor Boat' and 'Disappearing Propeller Boats' by Kingston Koppers, Ltd. and Davis Dry Dock.

Advertisement for E. W. Jackson & Son, Auctioneers, located at 108 Clergy Street, Kingston.

Advertisement for 'The Sunday Smoke Sir Haig Cigar' for 5 cents, with a 'Just try one' slogan.

Penning, on the mound for Hussars, won his game on his merits and with a good brand of support behind him. There were three double plays to speed up the match, and plenty of hitting, the Tanners leading in the hits by a margin of one. Extra base hits were credited to Arneil, with a two-bagger, Baker with the same, and Fenning with a triple.

Many changes were made in the makeup of the teams. Jimmy Quinn made his first appearance of the year when forced to go to centre field in the eighth to keep nine men playing and Squire turned out with Hussars and made a good impression. Karl Quinn started for Tanners and went until the seventh when LaRush relieved and Quinn went to second, which position he had been playing before he was carried off the field. Arneil was also forced to leave the game on account of his injury and even McCullough, Hussars' catcher, stopped a fast one with his neck and had to be rubbed for a minute or two. George Sullivan, the umpire, was the biggest man on the lot but escaped without a scratch.

Table showing statistics for various players including Davis & Son, Quinn, Arneil, Curran, Nickle, McCullough, Gourder, Baker, Coyne, Biomeley, Squire, Watts, Fenning, and Hussars.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

Hamilton people are looking forward to a crack Tigers' rugby team this year with young Crocker, Harding, "Snut" Veale and other stars moving in that direction.

Myrl Brown, the former Reading pitcher, sent to Dallas by the Pirates, has had his arm examined by Bonsetter Reese, who told him there was nothing organically wrong with the salary wing and that he could get down to work in a short time.

The Reds and the Phillies are trying hard to get Harold Carlson, the spitball pitcher, from the Pirates, on whom waivers have been asked. The Texas League, where the spitball is still allowed, however, has fond hopes of landing him for one of the teams in that circuit.

Ted Pilette, younger brother of Herman of the Detroit Tigers, has been doing well since he went to Duffy Lewis' Salt Lake team.

George Oeschger, younger brother of Joe Oeschger of the Braves, has been sent to the Mint League by the Pirates, who expect him to develop into a great pitcher.

Reb Russell has been mostly a "bust" as a hitter for the Pirates this season.

Morley Jennings, veteran player of the Minneapolis club, who said he had retired to coach college teams, has joined the Racine outlaws.

Bob Clark, the big right-hander from Milwaukee, has recovered from his arm ailment and is now taking his turn at Tulsa.

Another of Connie Mack's castoffs, Ed Larrison, is pitching great ball for Portland and is sure of the reasons why the club remains up in the race.

Jack Martin, who was manager of a Florida State League team last year and was obtained by Seattle by purchase, has been released.

The Syracuse University lacrosse team defeated Cambridge University by 14 goals to 1, at Cambridge, England. This is to United States team's fourth straight win.

Ray Grimes, first baseman, and one of the Cubs' hardest hitters, has been laid up for nearly a month with a wrenched spine. The Chicago club's surgeons are dubious and Manager Killefer is playing Hartnett, a young catcher, in Grime's place. Another Cub handicap was the long illness of shortstop Mollo, the long illness of shortstop Mollo, who is just beginning to play up to his best form.

"Babe" Ruth's "Comeback" Lags; Cy Williams To Be Crowned "King of Swat?"

CY WILLIAMS AT BAT AND CONNIE MACK

PHILADELPHIA—Will Cy Williams, of the Phillies, put Babe Ruth back on the shelf again this year as he was last year. In spite of his hard winter's training on the farm, the decrease in his wasteline and other symptoms of a "come-back," the Bambino has only knocked out 11 home-runs so far this season, to Williams' twenty.

Cy's performance has made as near a grin as ever appeared on the face of Connie Mack blossom there again for the first time in ten years, during which his team has been consistently in the cellar. This year, the sixty-year-old Mack's "kid" players are next to the top, beaten out only by the New York Yankees.

With twenty home-runs to his credit so far this season Cy Williams, of the Philadelphia Nationals, has put the "Babe" on the shelf so far as personal glory is concerned.

Babe Ruth, expected to make a spectacular "comeback" this season after his complete fluke last year, is not doing so well, with only eleven home-runs to his credit.

Worry over his wife's health, and his own entanglement in the lawsuit of a young woman who charged him with the paternity of her coming child, influenced the Babe's batting, in all probability.

The lawsuit was withdrawn and the charges denied later, however, but not soon enough to avoid upsetting the Babe's poise. Year before last he knocked 'em over the fence fifty-nine times, but found it impossible to repeat the performance last year.

Williams' stunt is causing a grin to appear on the face of Connie Mack, sixty-year-old manager of the Phillies, who has not been known to smile in ten years.

Coming up into the sunlight, after many years in the cellar, Connie Mack's "kid" players are in second place just now, next to the New York Yankees.

When the series is played, Williams expects to have chalked up a record that will draw the spotlight away from the Bambino and turn it on himself.

A PEDDLED POP. Charlie Grimm Formerly Soft Drink Salesman at Pittsburgh. When it comes to bargaining it would seem that the Pirates annexed one of the greatest of modern times when they secured Charlie Grimm to do some first basing for them.

Grimm not so many years ago, was a programme and soft drink salesman in the Pirate ball park. He always had the ambition to become a ball player and got a chance in 1916 with the Athletics. He was then only 17 years old. He failed and was farmed out to Durham in the Carolina Association. He next appeared with the St. Louis Cardinals for a brief spell, but wasn't sufficiently seasoned and was sent to Little Rock, Ark.

The Pirates purchased him in 1919 for $3,500. Grimm, not yet 24, ranks as one of the most remarkable fielding first basemen of the game and so far this year has been a batting sensation. He has been polling the ball for an average which fluctuates between .375 and .400.

If you asked Barney Dreyfuss if he would accept $100,000 today for the youngster who cost him one-thirtieth of that sum, it is likely that Barney would look at you in a quizzical way in the effort to discover whether you had suddenly lost your sense of value.

GIANTS, YANKS, VIE FOR SPACK ON SPORT PAGES If the Yankees should buy a new lawn mower, the Giants would have to match the "news" with the purchase of a rake or a hoe. So the newspapers having been full of the latest retirement of Tim Huston, the press agents of the Giants claim space with a story that Broker Stoneham is about to sell out and bid baseball farewell. To make the story more interesting it is stated that Huston may be the purchaser of Stoneham's interest in the Giants. This angle follows a declaration by Mr. Ebbets that he has decided not to retire just at present and that Huston hasn't a chance to buy a chunk in the Brooklyn club.

A batted ball broke Jack Scott's pitching hand several weeks ago and upset the plans of Manager McGraw of the Giants. There is no telling when Scott will be ready to return to the fring line, so that McGraw must get along as well as he can with Nohf, McQuillan and Bentley doing the bulk of the work.

Advertisement for HEMLOCK lumber, featuring Allan Lumber Co. at Victoria Street, Phone 1042.

Advertisement for NEW COLUMBIA RECORDS, 3 for $1.00, from Treadgold Sporting Goods Co. at 88 Princess St., Phone 529.

Advertisement for Car Owners Attention, Kingston Battery Service, 118 Brock St., 3 doors below W. P. Peters.

Large advertisement for GUTTA PERCHA CORD TIRES, featuring the Sun Never Sets on 'GUTTA PERCHA' CORD TIRES, with contact info for Suddaby Bros. at 222 Wellington Street, Phone 1006.

Advertisement for Exclusive Agents for Kingston 'Gutta Percha' Tires, Suddaby Bros., 222 Wellington Street, Phone 1006.

"THEM DAYS IS GONE FOREVER"

You not only read it, you sing it. Try it on your piano. Watch nightly for this big comic hit.

Comic strip panel 1: A woman says 'THIS CORKSREW AIN'T NO USE NO MORE - YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO SPEND' while a man looks at a broken cork. A woman says 'THE PRICES THAT THEY ASK FOR BOOZE - WE'RE THROUGH - THIS IS THE END -' while a man looks at a broken bottle.

Comic strip panel 2: A woman says 'LET'S KEEP THE THING FOR OLD TIMES SAKE - IT'S BEEN A FAITHFUL FRIEND' while a man looks at a broken bottle. A woman says 'THEM DAYS IS GONE FOREVER!' while a man looks at a broken bottle.

Advertisement for Thompson's Ginger Ale, featuring a bottle and the text 'THOMPSON'S BOTTLING CO. Family Beverages. PHONE - 304. 254 PRINCESS ST.'

Advertisement for Tommy Thirst, featuring a cartoon character and the text 'It's a good drink before or after the game. - Tommy Thirst.'

Advertisement for Thompson's Bottling Co. Family Beverages, featuring a bottle and the text 'THOMPSON'S BOTTLING CO. Family Beverages. PHONE - 304. 254 PRINCESS ST.'