LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Items of Interest Picked Up by the Whig Reporters.

There was a frost in the northern townships early Friday morning. Mr. Swaine, piano tuner. Orders received at 100 Clergy street west. Phone 564w.

There was no session of the police court on Friday morning. Everyone was evidently on good behaviour for the circus.

Dr. John H. Orr left on Wednesday for New York, where he will take up hospital work for the next two years.

The people are now visiting the city treasury office to pay their taxes in order to secure the two per cent. discount.

Captain F. W. Matthews, local representative of the Matthews Steamship Company left for Toronto Friday morning owing to the death of his sister.

The announcement is made of the birth of a daughter, on June 13th, to Capt. and Mrs. Harry J. Martin, Outremont, Que., formerly of Kingston.

J. S. Brown, a wealthy Britisher, is at his summer home "Linden Cove," near Alexandria Bay, N.Y. He drives a Rolls Royce auto valued at $25,000.

The remains of the late Alexander Sabourin, an overseas veteran, who passed away in the Mowar memorial hospital, on Friday morning, were shipped to Gatineau Point, Que., the late home of the deceased, by the James Reid firm on Friday morning.

Kingston was thronged with visitors today on account of the John Robinson circus. For two hours before noon, the main thoroughfares were jammed, and thousands lined the sidewalks to witness the parade which was pronounced an excellent one.

Says He Had Right To Close Nominations

Returning Officer Wightman states that Section 58 of the Election Act permitted him to close the nominations on Thursday as he did. The section, he says, states that if one hour elapses after the first nomination is received without a second one being presented, the nominations may be closed. The nomination of W. F. Nickle came in just after the opening and after waiting for a little over an hour for a second one, Mr. Wightman closed the nominations.

Inspector Boyd in City. Inspector Boyd, of the provincial police force, is in the city. He has been following the John Robinson circus on its tour through Ontario.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

In a Case For Damages Against City of Kingston.

The one civil case, that of Mrs. Elizabeth Pickering, Nelson street, claiming damages for $500 against the corporation of the city of Kingston, as a result of injuries received when she fell on an icy sidewalk in Victoria Park, on November 23th, last, was begun in the county court Thursday afternoon, but was not concluded. Court adjourned about 6 p.m., until 11 a.m., Friday, when argument was heard in the case.

W. M. Nickle appeared on behalf of Mrs. Pickering and T. J. Rigney, city solicitor, acted for the city.

Mrs. Pickering, who is seventy-four years of age, stated that while walking through Victoria park, on the day in question, she slipped on an icy walk, which had not been sanded, and as a result had her left arm fractured between the wrist and the elbow. As a result of the accident she could not bend her thumb or shut her hand. She had her arm in a sling for six weeks.

Mrs. Pickering claimed that there had been negligence on the part of the city in the fact that the walk had not been sanded.

Dr. H. E. Day gave evidence concerning the injuries suffered by Mrs. Pickering and Ernest Harris, of the faculty of science, at Queen's university, gave a report on the weather conditions on the day of the accident. Two sons of the plaintiff also gave evidence concerning the condition of the walk.

City Engineer Howard Dick stated that the walk was a new one constructed last summer. As regards sanding the walks, he pointed out that only walks in the down-town district had been sanded.

When the court opened on Friday morning at 11 o'clock, Judge Madden heard argument in the case and reserved judgment.

Guest of Honor.

Major General Sir Archibald Macdonell, commandant of the Royal Military College, Kingston, at the closing exercises of Ashbury College, Ottawa, Wednesday, briefly addressed the boys and their relatives. He said that he was very pleased with the character and ability of the young men who come to the Military College from Ashbury; in fact he did not recall a single one of these who had not been a credit to his alma mater.

Presented With Chair.

When Fireman Hugh Polley went on duty at the Brock street fire hall on Thursday night, he was given a very pleasant surprise when he was presented with a leather upholstered rocking chair, as a gift to mark his marriage which took place on June 4th. The gift was accompanied by an address, conveying the best wishes of the members of the fire department. Chief Armstrong read the address, and Capt. Cockade made the presentation of the chair.

The death took place on Thursday in Formosa, of Rev. Dr. William Auld, senior Presbyterian missionary there and long a fellow worker with George C. MacKay.
