What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

MRS. CASTLE AGAIN APPEARS ON SCREEN.
Mrs. Irene Castle, famous dancer and actress, appears again on the silver sheet in "Slim Shoulders," which comes to the Allen Theatre on Thursday for an engagement of three days. It is difficult to estimate in advance that local theatre patrons will accord this celebrated and popular artist. Suffice to say that the Allen theatre will no doubt be crowded to capacity. Whenever she appears in this city Mrs. Castle has always been favored with capacity audiences, and it is safe to assume, therefore, that "Slim Shoulders" will draw record houses at each performance. The story of "Slim Shoulders" introduces Mrs. Castle in a series of whirlwind events. She dances, rides, swims, and wears a number of stunning wraps and gowns that will no doubt be the envy of every woman in town. The action of the story takes place in New York and picturesque Palm Beach. It is a modern story, written by Charles K. Harris, and is said to provide her with some of the best opportunities of her career. On the same bill will be shown the mirth monarch, Larry Semon, in "The Sawmill" a riot of laughter for two reels.

SPORTING NEWS
THE FEMALE MENACE HAS HIT YACHTING

Toronto Skipper Declares Lady Crew Has No Business in Yacht Race.
Writing in the Toronto Star, Lou Marsh says:
The "female menace" has hit yachting. Down at the Kingston Yacht Club, Scrapper 11, last year's defeated R.C.Y.C. George Cup challenger, has been trouncing Chirya III, the new Owen boat, in the trials to select a George Cup challenger for Kingston. She should be sent, but Scrapper II, owned by Dr. Bruce Taylor, principal of Queen's University, and is sailed by Dr. Taylor and his daughters. The girls are expert racing sailors, and have been "manning" Dr. Taylor's "boats" for years in club and lake yacht racing association races. Dr. Taylor refuses to accept a crew of men from the club and says that if Scrapper represents Kingston Yacht Club in the George Cup races at Chautauque Bay, July 25-26-27, she will be sailed by himself and his daughters.
Dr. Taylor's stand has created a division in Kingston yachting circles and being eagerly discussed by yachtsmen all over the lake.
"A lady crew has no business in a yacht race," said a prominent Toronto racing skipper who does not desire his name mentioned because he is a close friend of Dr. Taylor. "A skipper with the right of way would hesitate to enforce it against a boat manned by ladies and no skipper would drop his boat in on top of one manned by ladies and endeavor to tangle them up by forcing them to gybe spinners and mainsails in a battle down the wind where speed in handling light canvas is such a tremendous factor."

IN MARINE CIRCLES

There was very little activity in the harbor on Tuesday, only three vessels leaving or arriving in the city.
The steamer Winona arrived from Montreal on Tuesday night and cleared for the head of the lakes.
The steamer Susie Chipman arrived from Soda Point on Tuesday afternoon and is unloading coal at Queen's wharf.
The schooner Bert Barnes cleared on Wednesday morning for Oswego to load coal for Kingston.
The steamer Darymple was entered at the shipyard drydock on Tuesday afternoon and the steamer Simla was floated out in the morning.

CONCERT AT MOWAT.

By Concert Party Under Auspices of Y. W. C. A. Woman's Auxiliary.
Tuesday night was Y.M.C.A. night at the Mowat Sanitarium, and the patients and their friends were given an entertainment that was first class in every way. The concert was conducted under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary, a delegation which accompanied the concert party. The programme was given on the fine lawn at the sanitarium, the platform being directly in front of the west balconies of the infirmary, from which came a large share of the applause from the bed patients which the nurses and attendants had wheeled on the screened porches for the entertainment. The programme included the following: Solos by Miss C. Dack, Miss Olive Derry, Mrs. E. Trencor; duets by Mrs. W. Laird and Mrs. A. L. Moon; recitations by Miss Lorraine Potter, and John Smeaton; orchestra selections by a volunteer orchestra composed of Mrs. A. McGrath, Messrs. A. Arbuckle, Edward Connolly, William Allen, Mat. Donnelly and A. E. Hunt. The following accompanists also went with the concert party: Miss Bessie Rogers, Mrs. Eckhart, and Mrs. J. Y. MacKinnon. The orchestra numbers seemed to make a big hit with the infirmary patients, and many encores were given.
Mrs. Frank Smith voiced the appreciation of the patients and staff to all who assisted in the programme. The orchestra remained for an extra hour in the recreation room and furnished splendid music for dancing for those who cared to indulge.

Arden Personal.

Arden, July 9.—G. M. Kirk has a gang of men fixing the road. Mr. and Mrs. Coland Williams motored to Kingston on Saturday. Miss Marie Lott, Tamworth, is spending a few days at Mrs. William Wormworth's. Mrs. J. A. Pringle returned from the General Hospital, Kingston, where she was treated for appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barker and J. J. Post motored to Smith's Falls on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Toronto, are spending their holidays with their parents here. Everett Scott and family spent Sunday at Wellington Lee's, Mount Vale. Dr. and Mrs. Morgan, Roblin, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Green.
Luther Wright Mott, aged forty-nine, one of the foremost citizens in Northern New York and for thirteen years representative of the Thirty-second New York district in congress, died at his home at Oswego, N. Y., on Tuesday.

Griffith Feature Announced.

"The Mother and the Law," a new D. W. Griffith feature production, will be the attraction at the Strand Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mr. Griffith describes "The Mother and the Law" as a play of today founded on fact. The vivid imagery with which Mr. Griffith propounds his dramatic philosophy of life — prominently brought out in "The Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World" — is found in this latest of his super-plays. The cast, too, is up to that high standard always maintained by this wizard of the drama, and contains such names as Mae Marsh, Robert Harron, Miriam Cooper, Ralph Lewis, Walter Long, Alberta Lee, Margaret Marsh and Tod Browning. There are many sensational scenes in "The Mother and the Law" including one wherein an automobile races with an express train to save a human life.

LORD MORLEY'S RETIREMENT

London Morning Post.
"In a letter of characteristic dignity—a letter whose reticence enhances the feeling by which the writer is evidently moved—Viscount Morley, of Blackburn, has conveyed to Manchester University his desire to retire from the chancellorship.
"This is the last link severed between Lord Morley and the public life of which he has for so many years been a distinguished ornament.
"It is years already since he, one of the few survivors of the heroic age, received 'the high mark of regard and friendly opinion conveyed in the invitation to take post of chancellor of the university in the capital of my native Lancashire. It is not surprising if Lord Morley, now in his 85th year, feels that he cannot overlook 'the fullness of time and the growing weight of years'; but for Manchester University the severance of such an association must be painful. Not easily will a man of equal character and achievement be found to fill the vacant office, and to reflect on the university the honor and dignity of such a name.
"In literature, not less than in politics, Lord Morley has left a mark upon his age; and no man could well feel that he had better earned the repose of age, with that which should accompany old age—love, honor, troops of friends. A party man of a rather rigid school—almost, it might be said, a doctrinaire—Lord Morley has always enjoyed in a peculiar degree the respect of his political opponents, not less than of his political friends, for his unflinching straightforwardness and unquestionable sincerity. Even more than to his substantial achievements as a statesman our English public life is indebted to the high standard of intellectual honesty which he has always set. He is one who never paltered with the truth to serve the hour; and in these days we may well keep the name of such a one in honorable remembrance.
"In taking his leave of Manchester University, Lord Morley confers upon it one more benefit by announcing his intention to bequeath for the benefit of the women students what he calls his 'modest handful' of books. It is a rich gift from a poor man; and as such it will, we may be sure, be valued. 'I would fain hope,' writes Lord Morley of these dedicated books, 'that generations of new readers may find in them the same genial, instructive, fortifying comrades that they for a lifetime have been to me, and still are.'"

Frontenacs Meet.

This evening the Frontenac Hockey Club will hold its annual meeting in the Board of Trade Rooms at eight o'clock. The main business will be the election of officers for next season and all those who are interested in hockey should make it a point to attend.
If there happened to be any fans who were not satisfied with the administration of the club's affairs last season, they are invited to come to this meeting and speak out freely, as all suggestions will be gladly received. The meeting is an open one and any responsible person has the right to nominate officers or discuss the questions before the gathering.
Frontenacs are laying plans for a good season during the coming winter and there may be some important disclosures made at this meeting.

Thinks Actions Speak Louder in an Words

Toronto Star: Queens athletic directorate has accepted the resignation of George Awrey, of Hamilton, as athletic director and has appointed him honorary coach of Queen's 1923 rugby team. The action of those in charge of the government of sports at Queens should effectively set at rest a lot of stories which have been circulating regarding Awrey's reasons for leaving the Presbyterian college. It is surely an effective public recognition of the value of Awrey's services to Queens and the cordiality of the relations which still exist between the Hamilton man and Queens. Awrey is a clever rugby coach and a fine type of a man to have in charge of any college sport. He has resigned because Queen's demanded full time services and he cannot spare that from business.

Queen's Bowling Games.

The members of the Queen's Bowling Club have received invitations from several other town clubs to play tournaments and games. Napanea desires a tilt with Kingston, and several of the best local bowlers are going up.
The results of the regular rink games last evening were as follows:
L. Sleeth defeated R. S. Graham 14-11.
F. S. Evanson defeated G. Vanhorne, 12-9.
J. F. McMillan defeated Dr. R. E. Sparks, 15-12.
N. Munsie defeated J. Taman, 14-13.

World's Fiercest Fish.

Which is the fiercest fish? The shark is terrible enough, but he is a lamb compared with a small fish that haunts the rivers of South America.
The pirhana, as it is called, does not grow much bigger than the perch or roach of our waters, but it is provided with an enormous cavern of a mouth filled with long dagger-like teeth. Should an unwary traveller stop to bathe his feet in a river he will be attacked, first by a single fish and then by a whole shoal. It he does not beat a hasty retreat, he will be dragged under in a few moments by scores of funny devils and devoured.
The pirhana is dreaded by all beasts, for he is absolutely fearless and will attack any animal, no matter what its size. The shoal seems to know almost at once that one of their number has found a quarry, for no sooner is the victim attacked by a single pirhana than the water is thick with frenzied fish biting and tearing as though possessed with the fury of killing. The natives dread them more than the giant alligators that haunt the same waters.

A SUCCESSFUL PICNIC.

Was Held in Dennison's Grove Near Lavant Station.
The annual church picnic, held in Dennison's Grove, on July 5th, was a decided success. Two very interesting baseball games were played during the afternoon. The first game between Hopetown and Lavant resulted in a victory for the former team, the score being 7-5. Elphin then played the winners and the score was 6-6. The receipts for the day were $378, net proceeds, $191-50. Misses Isabel, Vietta and Mabel Millar, Snow Road, visited at Mrs. Joseph Morean's a few days last week.
