Queen's Summer Students Held Picnic at Thousand Island Park.

Queen's Summer School Association held a very successful picnic on Monday at Thousand Island Park. About 250 students left Kingston at 10 a.m. on the steamer Brockville, proceeding to Grenadier Island, Alexandria Bay and Thousand Island Park.

President Kreusburg, director of the summer programme, at Thousand Island Park Association, welcomed the students and did everything in his power to make their visit a pleasant and enjoyable one. Mr. Kreusburg invited the students back next year and expressed the hope that moonlight excursions could be brought from Kingston next year. Supper was served on the green, the orchestra playing throughout. The students enjoyed themselves at games and dancing and returned home well satisfied with their day.

MET WITH ACCIDENT.

Bicycle and Truck Collide — William Pratt Injured.

William Pratt, 53 Upper Charles street, was the victim of a painful accident, early on Tuesday morning, when he collided with a motor truck, on Ontario street, just opposite the Tete du Pont barracks gate. He was riding a bicycle out of the gateway and collided with the truck, passing at the time, and which he could not see. The truck belonged to the Royal Military College, and the driver was unable to avert the accident.

Mr. Pratt was thrown from his wheel with great force and had his hip badly bruised, his leg injured and received internal injuries. Dr. H. P. Huyck was summoned and had the injured man removed to the General Hospital in James Reid's ambulance. He is reported to be doing well.

In the west, hail, saw fly, grasshoppers and rust have all taken or are taking their toll of the growing crop and, consequently, in many districts the reseed outlook of a few weeks ago has been somewhat dimmed.

What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

Sunshine Trail a Hit at Allen.

"The Sunshine Trail" is a zippy western comedy-drama with a new twist. It tells the amazing story of a doughboy-cowboy who comes home from the war expecting to be a hero, but is thrown into jail instead by his fellow townsmen. For war veterans especially, there is ripping good amusement in this clever after-war comedy-drama.

And here are a few of the things the people he tries to help do to him:

Steal his pants and cash, refuse his railroad ticket, saddle him with a baby, make him miss his train, shoot at him in a bank, derange him of a $50,000 inheritance, make his life miserable with sheriff's constables and private detectives, denounce him as an impostor, ask him why he didn't stay dead in France where he was reported killed during the war, shoot his clothes full of holes when he tries to round up some bank bandits, accuse him of kidnapping, threaten him with lynching, tell him his best girl is going to marry the other fellow, refuse his bank drafts, and, finally, handcuff and throw him into jail.

"The Sunshine Trail" features Douglas Maclean supported by Edith Roberts, little Muriel Frances Dana, Josephine Sedgewick, Willaw Courtright, Barney Furey, Rex Cherryman and Albert Hall and will be shown tonight and Wednesday.

INGRAM PHOTOPLAY SCORES BIG SUCCESS

Rex Ingram has captured in a magnificent fashion the romantic and exotic spirit of the South Seas in his latest production for Metro, "Where the Pavement Ends," which was shown yesterday at the Strand theatre. It is an extraordinary photoplay in every detail—beautiful in conception and execution. It is not like anything Mr. Ingram has ever done and it marks another high point in the career of this young genius of the films. To say that "Where the Pavement Ends" is Mr. Ingram's work is to say that it bears the stamp of distinction and artistic finesse. This production is certainly off the beaten track, in visual appeal as well as in story.

The story tells how love came into the life of the lonely, beautiful daughter of a South Seas missionary. And it is romance supreme, amid the beauty and strangeness of the leisuely tropics where love and hate burn with consuming flame.

Two men fight for her with that furious madness which can be engendered only by jealousy over a beautiful girl. Thence the plot moves forward to a thrilling climax. The story has in it all that strange and exotic romance which is associated with the islands far below the equator.

Alice Terry plays the role of the missionary's daughter with charm as well as tremendous power and feeling. Ramon Novarro, who portrays the man who symbolized love to the lonely girl, should add considerably to his reputation as one of the most popular young actors on the screen by his fine work in this picture. Edward Connelly as the missionary and Harry T. Morey as the villainous trader, are excellent.

Rex Ingram prepared the screen version, which was based on a story by John Russell. John F. Seitz, who was at the camera, again gives us a demonstration of his mastery photography.

TOURNAMENT OPENS AT QUEEN'S BOWLING CLUB

Thirty-Three Clubs Entered In Competition—Result First Day's Play.

The green of the Queen's Bowling Club presented quite a gala appearance on Monday. Flags and bunting decorated the entire enclosure, while in the background, refreshment and official tents could be seen, gallily inviting one to enter.

A very pleasing incident occurred at the opening of the tournament in the afternoon, when Mayor Angrove presented the key to the city to the oldest visiting bowler, Dr. Milne, Ottawa, an old Queen's graduate.

Mayor Angrove, in welcoming the visiting bowlers, expressed the hope that they would enjoy themselves and assured them of his hearty co-operation.

Dr. Milne made a very fitting reply, stating how great a pleasure it was to return to Queen's, the place he loved so well.

On behalf of the Queen's Bowling Club, J. F. McMillan welcomed the visiting bowlers and assured them that they would have to extend themselves to defeat the bowlers of Kingston, where good fellowship reigns.

In the evening the orchestra furnished a fine programme, while the ladies looked after the "terrible" thirsts of the hard-working bowlers, with soft drinks, and "punch."

At the conclusion of Monday night's play, three Kingston rinks and one Ottawa rink were still in the running for the Kinnear and d'Esferre cup.

The rinks, thirty-three in number, played as follows:

The Bandit Had a Presentiment That His End Was Near at Hand.

Mexico City, July 31.—The fight of his numerous widows and children for the estate of Francisco Villa, slain bandit chieftain, promises to be as exciting as the search for the 7,000,000 pesos which "Pancho" is popularly reported to have buried in the vicinity of Parral.

Reports from Chihuahua state that Villa had a presentiment of death several weeks before his assassination, and wrote to several of his wives promising them shares of his estate. Thus far five wives and a small army of children have filed claims, in addition to his brother, Hipolito and his sister, Mariana.

The wives who have filed claims are as follows:

Ester Cardona, of Chihuahua, who has two children; Paula Aiamillo, of Torreon, no children; Soledad R. DeVilla, of Canutillo, one son; Petra Espinosa de Santa Barbara, one son; and Austrelia Renteria, Canutillo, one son and an unborn child.

Claims also have been filed by: A daughter, Maria Canutillo, mother unknown; a son by Juana Torres, who died recently in Los Angeles; a son by the late Guadalupe Coas, whose father Villa slew; a son by the late Anselmo R. DeVilla, Canutillo.

More than a dozen other children in Parral and Canutillo claim the bandit chieftain as their father, alleging that their mothers were kidnapped by him and never reappeared. Reports of the buried treasure are believed by the authorities to be without foundation.

Dissolution of Dail.

Dublin, July 31. — President Cosgrave announced, yesterday, that the dissolution of the Dail would probably take place this week.
