What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"CUSTARD CUP" WITH MARY CARR.

"The Custard Cup," the Fox Film Corporation picture featuring Mary Carr, at the Allen today. Here is a story with a series of characters and incidents that are as natural and lovable as the situations and types in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." of blessed memory. Mrs. Penfield who is called "Penzie" by her neighbors, has endeared herself to thousands of readers all over this country by her unselfish cheerfulness, and she is "Penzie" to them as well as to her foster children. Readers of the story who are familiar with the family of the optimistic little washer-woman and the strongly marked individuals who are her friends and neighbors, will find them all in the screen version, with not a feature nor characteristic altered. First, there is the precocious Crink, with his early developed self-reliance and his admiration for the little accomplishments of the pugacious Lettie. This quick-witted young person, educated in the stern school of necessity and urged on by an insatiable appetite, who knows of no other means of getting the thing she wants except to fight for it, is played by little Miriam Battista.

Larry Semon in "The Show," and the usual short subjects complete a splendid bill.

At The Strand.

"Nero," a William Fox special, was presented at the Strand theatre last night for the first time and it is a picture worthy of the name, staggering in its magnificence, gripping in its story, wonderful in the handling of its mobocracy; "Nero" comes pretty near standing alone — the acme of the spectacular in motion pictures. The scenes of the burning of Rome are magnificent, and cannot help but give a movie fan a nervously enjoyable evening. Patrons of The Strand who saw this picture last evening were greatly pleased, so much so that many expressed the intention of seeing the picture again. The production will be shown tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

A DISASTROUS FIRE

Wilbert Ball's Barns at Vennachar, Burned—Fire in Woods. Vennachar, August 11.—Fire on the 10th, supposed from the chimney of Wilbert Ball's house, caught in his barnyard, spreading immediately to the barn, horse stable and pig pen, of which, none were saved. By immediate use of the telephone farmers with their cars soon placed the bucket brigade on the scene and a favorable wind saved his house. Then it was noticed the fire had been carried by the wind to the woods, just east of the barn, but the government fire rangers and neighbors are holding the fire in check to-day, but with very dry weather it is hard to control.

The municipal council meets at Charles Ball's today. C. B. Bebee and wife and son, Rev. Chester Bebee, wife and child, and George Wheeler, all of the State of Pennsylvania, are renewing acquaintances here and visiting the former's brothers, G. M. Bebee and Charles Bebee.

George Bebee, Oswego, N. Y., is spending a couple of weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bebee, and helping his brother, Alfred Bebee, in the harvest.

Now Await The Exhibition.

With the O. B. L. baseball this year, at least, the fair grounds will be forgotten until the exhibition time comes around again. Repair work is going on apace just now.

O.B.A.A. Play-offs.

Word was received in the city on Tuesday morning that the Sydenham nine, champions of the Inter-county League, and Napanee, winners of the Lennox and Addington League, have been drawn for the first round of the intermediate O.B.A.A. play-off, with the first game scheduled at Sydenham on Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, and the return engagement at Napanee on the following Tuesday afternoon. George Sullivan of Kingston will be umpire-in-chief for the opening game, with one other to be appointed later.

It was first reported that the Sydenhamites would engage the Kingston intermediate winners, but owing to the fact that the local champions might not be declared until Saturday next, other arrangements were made. Vice-president "Jake" Solomon Peterboro, is in charge of the intermediate and junior play-off series in this district.

No official word has been received to date with regard to the junior provincial series, and the Kingston executives and Circle Six management are totally in the dark as to the plans of the O.B.A.A. The Belleville juniors are the logical opponents of the locals.

It is expected that the winners of the A. Davis-4th Hussars series will be matched with the winners of the Napanee-Sydenham engagements for the second round of the O.B.A.A.

More Definite Word.

More definite word concerning the O.B.A.A. play-off situation was received on Tuesday afternoon when President James Kane of the city league was in telephone communication with "Jake" Solomon at Peterboro. Mr. Solomon stated, with regard to the junior series, that the only eligible junior teams in Eastern Ontario were Kingston, Peterboro and Oshawa, and that the Belleville juniors were not considered contenders for the O.B.A.A. championships, not having complied

FIRE RAGING NEAR ODESSA

Seeking More Help.

The authorities at Odessa have communicated with the deputy minister of highways at Toronto and made a request to have the gang of men employed on road work near Odessa, help in fighting the fire.

The farmers are utilizing all their milk cans carrying water. The water has to be carried a mile and a half.

Bush Fires at Tamworth.

Quite a bad bush fire is raging about five miles out of Tamworth. The fire is on the property of John Storrington and John Woodcock. It is on some very rough land and extends over to Beaver Lake, almost to Erinsville.

The Whig was in telephone communication with Tamworth Tuesday and it was stated that the firefighters appeared to have the blaze under control and that it was not expected that there would be any serious trouble.

Baldwin's Stand Praised.

With the exception of Lord Rothermere's Daily Mail and Lady Rathurst's Morning Post the English press today is unanimous in its praise of the strength of Mr. Baldwin's note and demands that it be followed by equally strong action. There is a large school of opinion demanding the immediate withdrawal of the British troops from Cologne, but there is at least an equally large school holding that this would be turning over to France the only security England has got for her share of reparations. At any rate, this is not likely until an independent commission, which is now almost certain to set up, has reported.

BRITAIN LOOKS TO OTHER ALLIES FOR SUPPORT

In Appointing Commission to Assess Germany's Capacity to Pay.

London, Aug. 14. — It, as it is expected, France and Belgium decline to meet the British views at all on reparations, the next step will be to sound out the other allies and neutrals about the appointment of a commission to assess Germany's capacity to pay and to determine the most convenient method of paying.

It is certain that Italy and Japan will agree with Great Britain on this plan, and most of the northern neutrals as well. It is hoped that America and some nations of the little entente will agree, and all hope is not gone that Belgium may still tire of being tied to the tail of the French military kite.

In any case, the British argue that they are now committed to investigate the Germans' capacity to pay. They have declared to France that they only want from France and Germany together, enough to pay the American debt. The amount of the American debt is known. When they determine what they can expect to get from Germany, they will be able to fix the amount which they are determined France shall pay.

British Heavily Taxed.

There is still some hope that France will see reason when the matter is presented in terms of dollars and cents and when she realizes that the more she wrecks Germany the more Great Britain will demand from her. Until Mr. Baldwin's note was published today, few realized how much money France owed Great Britain or that she would make no attempt to pay. It is pointed out today that the Britons, who went into the war to save France from destruction and who incurred the American debt in order to be able to finance France, are being taxed about £16 ($70) per capita annually, while the French are only being taxed about five pounds, ten shillings.

It is also pointed out that there is no more reason for Great Britain to forgive the French debt than for America to forgive the British debt, the British relations to the French being much the same as that of the allies to America.
