Loss of Efficiency from eye strain

YES, there is a tremendous amount of it. It is found everywhere—in offices, factories, schools and stores. If the Optometrist can by supplying glasses to those patients increase their physical welfare and their efficiency surely the Optometrist is rendering a worthwhile service. We are doing that every business day in the year.

KEEP NORTH AMERICA AS WHITE MAN'S LAND

Dr. Bruce Taylor Speaks At Watertown on "International Relations."

Watertown, N. Y., Standard. "International Relations" was the subject of a most comprehensive address at Asbury Methodist Episcopal church Sunday evening by Dr. Bruce Taylor, president of Queen's University, in which he especially emphasized the friendly relations existing between the States and Canada. Speaking of the late President, Warren G. Harding, Dr. Taylor characterized him as a man with an earnest desire for peace, a man of immeasurable kindness, who bore his great burden as chief executive with such great faithfulness, and as recognized by the rest of the world outside the States, as an ambassador of international peace.

Dr. Taylor pointed out the differences in the governments of the sister nations, but placed special emphasis on the things in which we have so much in common, such as language, our religious life and social ideals.

Discussing the points of controversy which have confronted the two countries in the past and are causing grave concern among the statesmen of both today, Dr. Taylor said in part:

"The status of the United States has changed greatly since the war. Formerly some British aristocrats perhaps regarded your representatives as just as, but now they realize how erroneous was this impression. The British government today recognizes the United States as a great and powerful nation.

"So has the situation of Canada changed since the war. There seemed to be, at one time, a sentiment that the Dominion would eventually become a part of the United States. Of course it is understood now that this would never be true. Should Canada desire her independence, England would never try to hold her for she could not. However, there is a tie that binds the whole British Empire together and which does away with any thought that Canada would desire independence. It is that great feeling of loyalty and devotion to the mother country.

"During the past century there have been many instances when both countries might have had war, but the causes of the controversies have been eliminated by courts of arbitration. Such a settlement is better than war. There never yet was a boundary which was a war between sister countries.

"Especially in education are we closely associated. There is constant educational play between the two countries, students coming back and forth from one to the other. The religious life is also largely the same and our social ideals are the same, especially a feeling of confidence in the future of the North American continent. The constant interchange of citizens is another great point in common.

"We are together facing a great problem, that of the yellow races. Since it is impossible for the white man to compete with the standards of living of the yellow races, it is better to keep the North American continent a white man's land and we are determined to do this. That is the sorest problem which Canada and the United States have today. We are becoming more and more united on that policy.

"There is another question which is causing so much trouble and that is prohibition. With the exception of Quebec and British Columbia, which have government control, the provinces are all dry. While Ontario is dry, the manufacturer and export of liquor is allowed. That is not fair to the best interests of Canada and it is not fair to you. When a ship leaves Canada for Cuba, for instance, it should be seen that that ship lands in Cuba and in no other place. It is of the keenest concern to our statesmen that anything is being done in Canada which disturbs your prohibition.

"Let us hope and pray that, with so many things in common, we may have the wisdom to live another century in peace as we have in the past, settling all controversies by arbitration."

To exemplify the good feeling of the sister countries the service was closed with the singing of "God Save the King" by the entire audience.

BUSH FIRE NEAR ODESSA HAS STARTED AFRESH

Not Enough Rain on Tuesday Afternoon to Extinguish the Blaze.

Fanned by a breeze, the bush fire near Odessa started afresh on Wednesday morning, and a message from the village Wednesday forenoon stated that the situation was still quite serious, but that the firefighters were still at work and hoped to be able to cope with the fire.

It was stated that the fire was at that time in the woods of Alva and David Snyder. These woods are very thick with trees and brush, and the men engaged in the fight were free to admit that they would be unable to save these places from the fire.

"We did not get enough rain here to lay the dust," said a resident of Odessa over the long distance telephone to the Whig, on Wednesday morning. "If we had a heavy rain it would help conditions. We did not get even as much rain as fell in Kingston."

Another general alarm was sent out to the surrounding district by the telephone operator on Wednesday morning, and another big fight will be staged during the day to extinguish the fire.

A band of men and women worked hard all day Tuesday and towards evening were rewarded for their efforts, when it was found that the fire had been well checked, but a change in the wind on Wednesday morning made conditions worse.

The residents of Odessa state that great credit is due to the men employed by McGinnis and O'Connor, road contractors, who worked hard all day Tuesday in fighting the fire. Mr. McGinnis was on the scene the greater part of the day and rendered valuable assistance. The big trucks were utilized for carrying water.

AUTO FEATURES FOR OTTAWA EXHIBITION

Polo and Races Should Give Thrills Aplenty to Patrons of Big Fair.

Auto polo and auto races will again be featured in the grandstand programme for the Ottawa exhibition. Each afternoon and evening there will be auto polo and this is sure to furnish thrills aplenty when the fire spitting polo cars, handled by skilful and daring drivers, tangle up on the track. It was a big hit last year and stronger teams have been secured for this year.

The auto races will be given for two afternoons only. On the first four days the trotters and pacers will be seen in competition for $5,000 in purses, and then they will move out of the spotlight to make room for the begoggled space eaters and their glittering distance consumers from all over the land, headed by some of the greatest speed stars that ever trod on the throttle of a high-powered racing car.

Burr Lampkin Coming.

Burr Lampkin, noted daredevil and world's short distance champion, heads the long list of pilots, and he has entered his French made Peugeot in the local events, the same car which holds the foreign car track record made on the famous Indianapolis paved course. This car won the 500-mile speed classic in 1919 from perhaps the greatest field of speedway drivers that were ever assembled together in a single meet. Lampkin will make an attempt to lower his own speed record on the local oval. He will also make a try at the world's record, which is at the present time held by little Sig Haugshal the Norwegian pilot, with his three-miles a minute world's wonder car.

Also in Heavy Car Division.

Fred Leckler, a newcomer from Toledo, Ohio, and San Diego, California, is also in the heavy car division, and because of wins in the Southwest last year, he is thought to have a good chance at the big event with his Earl Special.

"Pop" Daily, another veteran, is also a newcomer in Eastern Canada, and he will be seen at the wheel of a Deussen. This is the same make of machine which formerly held the world's mile record, and Daily will try to uphold on the dirt tracks the reputation that this make of machine has gained on the beach courses and on the speedways.

Cleo Barles, famous Ford driver, and Jack Pettiford, of Essex fame, are the strong contenders in the light car classes, and they are battling about even with race fans who claim to know what they are talking about.

Mrs. Ogglesby "Happiest Woman in London" Now

"Tanlac helped me the very day I commenced taking it, over a year ago, and I regained all my health and strength and fourteen pounds in weight," declared Mrs. Alice Ogglesby, 122 Maitland St., London, Ont. "At the time I got Tanlac my health had been poor for four years. Sometimes I would go all day and eat nothing but tea and toast. I couldn't walk more than a hundred yards without becoming so short of breath my heart palpitated until I thought sure it would stop beating. I just dreaded to see night come, for I was so nervous I couldn't sleep. "Well, I feel fine now, although it's been fully a year since Tanlac restored my health and built me up so wonderfully. I can walk for miles with no discomfort. My appetite is better than ever, and it's a pleasure to retire, for I sleep like a child every night. I am the happiest woman in London." Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold. Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.
