CHARGE DISMISSED AGAINST DR. GEDDES

Not Proven That He Assaulted W. Leadley at Verona on August 6th.

Before County Magistrate Allison on Wednesday morning, Dr. W. J. Geddes, Verona, was charged with assaulting W. Leadley. The evidence showed that Dr. Geddes had been friendly with Mrs. Leadley, and this was witnessed by her husband. Some time ago, Mr. Leadley notified Dr. Geddes that he wished him to keep away from his premises and his wife. On Aug. 6th, Mr. Leadley on seeing the doctor in front of his store, talking to his wife, called to him to go on and leave his wife alone. Dr. Geddes came on down the street and some trouble took place between him and Mr. Leadley, the latter's companion, G. W. Lakins, walking on. Just what occurred was difficult to say, Mr. Leadley claiming he had been struck by Dr. Geddes in the face, and the latter claimed that he had merely shook his finger in Leadley's face. Several witnesses were called, but none saw any blow struck, although they said that Dr. Geddes had assumed a threatening attitude. On the evidence submitted, Magistrate Allison dismissed the case.

AMUSEMENTS
What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"REFUGE," STORY OF STRANGE AND THRILLING ADVENTURES.
A riot of thrills and fast action, together with the beauty and personality of the star, make Katherine MacDonald's new First National picture, "Refuge," at the Allen Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday well worth seeing.

The star player never looked more attractive, nor wore more beautiful gowns, while a new and vibrant note in her acting is making her many followers more enthusiastic than ever.

The story is something new for the "American Beauty"—a fast adventure tale laid in Moravia, an European kingdom to which three soldiers, weary with months of fighting in the trenches, go in search of peace.

They meet a huge touring car, driving like mad on the road. In the car is the beautiful Countess Nedra, who responds to their request for a "lift." In the tonneau is the body of a man! It is here a series of strange and thrilling adventures begin. Hugh Thompson, as the husband, gives a fine performance, while Eric Mayne, as the countess' uncle, is his own distinguished self.

To Arthur Edmund Carewe goes much credit for his repressed and convincing portrayal of a difficult part.

Gordon Russell, Gunnis Davis and Victor Potel, as the hastily recruited army of the lady in distress, are both chivalrous and amusing, while Grace Morse interprets the role of the faithful maid cleverly. Buster Keaton in "The Balloponatic" is the assurance of an abundance of laughs.

BEAUTY TYPES ARE WELL CONTRASTED.

For contrast in feminine pulchritude and temperament, few motion pictures recently produced can, by any stretch of the imagination, equal George Melford's latest Paramount picture, "You Can't Fool Your Wife," which comes to the Strand theatre tomorrow and in which the three principal feminine roles are played by Leatrice Joy, Nita Naldi and Pauline Garon.

Miss Joy, as Edith McBride, is the trusting wife, charming and ingenious, yet intuitive to the last degree. Her principal type of beauty, with her soft brown eyes and dark brown hair, gives just the necessary sympathy to the role of the modern wife, troubled and tormented by a millionaire husband who has reached the so-called dangerous age.

Miss Naldi is the siren de luxe in the picture—a polished beauty, wife of an eminent surgeon, who seeks social conquests to further her husband's practice. Her raven black hair and alluring eyes produce the desired effect when she sets out to annex a man to her long list of victims.

Miss Garon, chic, blonde, diminutive, is the flapper of eighteen, but possessing a sophistication that would be a credit to a woman of fifty. She bobs in and out of the picture on a breeze of spontaneity that is a delightful contrast to the action of the other two characters in the story.

With three such types there is little wonder that Lewis Stone, Paul McAllister and John Daly Murphy, who play the three principal characters opposite, should be hopelessly entangled in a domestic drama.

Funeral of Thomas Healey.

The funeral of the late Thomas Healey took place Wednesday morning from his late residence, Arch street, to St. Mary's Cathedral where a solemn requiem mass was sung for the repose of his soul by Rev. Father Clancy, there being a very large number of relatives and friends present, including officials of the Customs department. After the chanting of the solemn libera, the cortege proceeded to St. Mary's cemetery where the remains were interred in the family plot by the side of his deceased wife. The pallbearers were W. O'Donnell, Edwin Ada, Edgar Hiscock, James Macdonnell and Jeremiah Melville. Among the floral tributes were wreaths from the customs office.

Martin John Kenny, Port Arthur barrister, has been appointed senior judge of the district court of the provisional judicial district of Thunder Bay.

The happy mean is between too great contentment and too great ambition.

WOLFE ISLAND BARN STRUCK BY LIGHTNING
The Hay Destroyed — Mrs. Sydney Ley Was Stunned By the Bolt.

WOLFE ISLAND

A barn and horse stable on Wolfe Island were badly gutted by fire, as a result of being struck by lightning, about 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday.

William Reynor is the owner of the property, and Sydney Ley is the tenant. The barn was filled with the season's crop of hay, and it was destroyed. Luckily all the stock, consisting of twelve head, were saved. The farm machinery was also saved. The hay made a big blaze and the fire was burning till 4 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The crop of oats had not yet been put into the barn, so this too was saved. Water was secured from a well on the farm to fight the fire, but this went dry after two hours' pumping.

Mrs. Ley was engaged in milking in the barn, when the bolt of lightning struck the buildings and she was badly stunned, but escaped serious injury.

Mr. Reynor carried some insurance on the buildings but Mr. Ley had no insurance on the stock.

EX-MAYOR T. L. CHURCH, M.P.

Of Toronto, who, according to persistent rumor, will seek mayoralty honors in Toronto again. He occupied that post for a longer period than any other mayor in the city's history, having been elected every year from 1915 to 1921 inclusive.

ECONOMIC WAR BETWEEN BRITAIN AND FRANCE
Is Now Suggested As the Result of British Reparations Policy.

Paris, Aug. 15.—Suggestions of economic war between France and Great Britain are met with frequently in current conversations with leading French business men engaged in trade with Great Britain, and now are creeping into the press. Large importers of woolens from Great Britain expressed the view yesterday that business between the two countries would necessarily decline on account of the extraordinary rise in the pound sterling, and that no organized movement was required to bring that result about, as it was the inevitable outcome of what is declared here to be a London campaign for the depreciation of the franc.

The Martin in a double leader today asks Prime Minister Baldwin if he is not aware that his policy toward France is tending to bring about movement in which the watchword will be, "No business with England, no purchases in England."

RAIN EXTINGUISHES MANY SERIOUS FIRES
Within a Fifty-mile Radius of Peterboro—Lumber Companies Suffered.

Peterboro, Aug. 15.—Rain which fell for several hours last night was effective in extinguishing many serious fires within a fifty-mile radius of this city. The flames had crept quite close to the settlements in many cases and caused considerable anxiety. Summer cottagers were also threatened. The property of lumber companies sustained considerable damage. In the Apsley district, forty-five miles north of here, the residents, under the direction of fire rangers had been fighting bush fires for a week.

BOWLING GAMES.

Bowling in the regular rink games at Queen's was interrupted last evening for a while on account of the rain. The rinks which did play finished as follows—

C. Crozier defeated R. S. Graham, 12-9.

Dr. R. C. Cartwright defeated Dr. R. E. Sparks, 14-13.

SPORTING NEWS

OBJECTS TO HUSKIE.

Old friend Lou Marsh spills some more wisdom.

The Toronto Star of Tuesday has an imposing article by Lou Marsh questioning the selection of the Huskie II, of the Crescent Yacht Club, Watertown, N.Y., as the L.Y.R.A. representative in the Y.R.U. series the first week in September. Although the whole article is carefully guarded in that respect, it is plain to see that Lou is shocked, pained and surprised because a Toronto boat was not selected. He mentions the case of Lillian E. and Nayada in the George cup trials and thereby reminds yachtsmen that they actually have mistakes in Toronto on occasion.

The Huskie II won the George Cup series fairly and squarely and has as much claim to the post for which she has been chosen as any other boat.

Summer School Baseball.

Playing the spectacular game which has characterized their work all season, the Queen's summer school soft ball nine on Tuesday evening defeated the fast intra-mural team by a score of 16 to 15. The play was strenuous throughout, and the more experienced team won out. The teams lined up as follows—

Intra-mural — McNeill, Mundell, Cherry, Shaw, Campbell, Moore, Wood, Douglas, Delaney.

Summer school — Crowe, McVitie, Steele, Hinchley, Boyce, Cannon, Watson, Staps, Maldell.

With the Golfers.

On Wednesday afternoon the four players tied for the sixteenth place in the championship play-off at the Cataract Golf and Country Club will enter the elimination trials for the vacancy. The process of deciding the candidate will depend upon the showing of the four players from hole to hole, with the possibility that the winner may be declared at the third hole.

The Pictou visitors arrive in the city on Thursday and preparations are being made for a good tournament in the afternoon. The ladies' competitors are expected to be especially keen and everyone is looking forward to a splendid day.

The club championship round will be continued at the latter end of the week, and it is expected that the trials will be completed in plenty of time for the finals early in September.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS GRANT.

Hon. Mr. Nickle Denies That Stated Case is To Be Submitted.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—In reference to a story in an evening paper that the Government was going to submit a case to the courts regarding the separate school grant, Hon. W. F. Nickle, attorney general, stated yesterday afternoon that he had made no such statement, and the matter had not yet been considered by the Government.

Likely To Have a Change.

At Watertown, N.Y., the Times reports Dr. Bruce Taylor as saying Ontario which has just come thoroughly under the control of the Conservative party, seems likely to have a referendum on the question with the probable result that in the province also the government will supervise the sale of spirituous beverages.

George Stewart, youthful brother of Miss Anita Stewart, famous screen artist, was probably fatally beaten up by a movie director at New York. Another movie scandal is promised. Baskets of peaches, Carnovsky's.
