In Tune With Opportunity

Some musicians play their instruments wholly "by ear" as it is called.

They are only half-way musicians compared to those whose musical training enables them to play "from notes."

Similarly, some people know only those opportunities that they learn "by ear." Their advantages are restricted by the meagre bits of word-of-mouth information they hear.

Others read the A-B-C Classified Section. They are like the musicians whose skill brings the music of the whole world within the scope of their playing ability.

Readers of the opportunity ads become informed regarding all the chances for profit and economy. They are not handicapped like those who learn only "by ear."

Don't be a half-way opportunity seeker! Read the A-B-C Classified Section to-day—and every day!
