NEW YORK TO BE THE BURIAL PLACE

Of Princess Anastasia of Greece—A Memorial Service in London.

London Sept. 1.—The interment of Princess Anastasia, of Greece, will probably take place, it is learned, in Woodlawn cemetery, New York, beside the graves of her father and mother, and a memorial service will be held in London. Final arrangements, however, will not be completed until the sister of the Princess, Mrs. Henderson Greene, who is now on her way from New York, has arrived.

Princess Christopher's son, W. B. Leeds, who married Princess Sofia of Greece, was with his mother during her last illness. There was a recurrence of an internal trouble, which first made itself felt early in 1921, when the princess was in Athens. An American physician, Dr. Aided Hoover, was summoned from Constantinople and he diagnosed it as internal inflammation. The princess underwent an operation and experienced some relief. She was able to travel to Paris, but was never again in robust health. Twice again she had to go under the knife, although in between operations she was able to live a fairly normal life.

Princess Christopher was always much annoyed, one of her closest friends stated at rumors, that she had been active in anti-Venizelist intrigues, and used her wealth for partisan purposes in Greece. She denied taking any part in politics at Athens.

"I may have a good deal of money," she used to say, "but it would be a mere drop in the ocean of the Greek needs."

But the princess did a deal in other ways for the Greeks. She helped hospitals greatly, and was most generous in her response to appeals from people in distress. Consequently, although she only spent a few months in Greece, she had won an extraordinary popularity. Both she and Prince Christopher, her husband, had also the kindest feelings for England, and in the first year or two of the war her contributions to English war charities amounted to £15,000.

To Guillotine Soldiers For Striking Superior

Casa Blanca, Morocco, Sept. 1.—"Death! We want death! Sentence us to death!" shouted two French soldiers Podelvin and Tourbes, yesterday along with a string of invectives they hurled at the court martial which had just condemned them to penal servitude for life on charges of insubordination.

The judge ordered them led away but with frantic rage the convicts, across whose foreheads the words "out of luck" were tattooed, giving them sinister appearances, threw their hats in the face of Colonel Juliard, the presiding officer, and again shrieked "A mort!"

They will be guillotined as the court martial obligingly revised its sentence for "striking a superior officer."

USE OF TELEGRAM.

In Turkish Religious Fetes Upheld

Constantinople, Sept. 1.—Religious conservatives throughout Turkey are much excited because the minister of religious affairs has ordered and the religious court has approved the sending of a telegram to fix feast dates. Conservative newspapers oppose the methods as "too progressive," a view which has many supporters.

The trouble began recently when a national religion feast day was observed. Customs provide that the feast open when someone sees the new moon. But different Turkish cities saw the new moon at different times, this year. So there was a succession of services which should have been simultaneous.

The Ankara government decided to offset this, by putting all power in the hands of the religious minister, who, on being properly convinced someone had really seen the moon, could send out a general telegram. Older churches appealed the order, but the religious court upheld it.

TO FIGHT EMBARGO ON VANCOUVER GRAIN

British Columbia Wheat Exporters Charge Effort to Discredit the Port.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 1.—Grain exporters in this port are making preparations to oppose the recently announced embargo placed by railroads on all wheat coming to Vancouver, domestic or export, after September 1st, unless permits for cars have been obtained and space on boats arranged.

Exporters have claimed that as there is space for 1,250,000 bushels of grain in the local elevator, it is too early to place an embargo on grain moving this way.

R. E. Beattie, of the Vancouver harbor commission, says that he sees in the new regulation an effort on the part of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to discredit this port in the eyes of the shipping farmers by having the report circulated that there was an embargo on wheat moving this way. Fort William frequently has congestion, it is pointed out by the commission, but no embargo is placed that way.

The Vancouver harbor commissioners would be satisfied if the railroads would fill up the local elevator before placing an embargo.

No Home Large Enough For Two Families

Windsor, Sept. 1.—Magistrate Gundy yesterday in police court refused to make an order against John Webb, 79 years of age, for the support of his wife, Mary Webb, 30. Mrs. Webb, who charged her husband with desertion, admitted that her son, by a former marriage, and who seldom worked, had lived with them for four years.

"No home is large enough for two families," commented the court as he dismissed the charge. "You had better choose between your husband and the son," the court advised Mrs. Webb as she left the courtroom.
