THE LABOR UNIONS' PICNIC OPENING AT THE GRAND

Held at the Fair Grounds on Monday Was a Big Success.

The Labor Day picnic, held at the fair grounds on Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Kingston Trades and Labor Council, was a great success despite the threatening weather. There was a shower during the progress of the sports but nothing could dampen the ardor of the contestants, and all of the events were run off, including a baseball tournament between city league teams, numerous races for all ages, tug-o-war, bicycle races and quoit pitching, to the winners of which sizable prizes were awarded. There were also prizes for the finest babies and for the prettiest girls, and in the evening at a dance held in the Labor hall three prizes were awarded to the best waltzers. A feature of the day was the selection of the most freckle faced boys and girls for which money prizes were donated by Hon. W. F. Nickle, K.C.

The results were as follows: Races—Macdonald school, Ed. Millard, Thos. Boyd; Louise school, George Richardson, George McCullough; Robert Meek school, George McDonald, Hugh Clark; Central school, A. Popie, Sydney Fleet; Rideau school, E. Frost, George Jackson; St. Mary's school, L. Muchmore, H. Savage; Frontenac school, Lloyd Smith, Jack Veale; Victoria school, Donald Bows, Bernard Palmer; Sydenham school, S. Mulholland, Stephen Amey; St. John's school, Elmer Burns, W. Robinson. The silver cup for the best runner in all of the schools was won by Donald Bows of Victoria school. Girls, aged 16 and under, Edith Turner, M. Burke; young ladies 16 and over, Edith Turner, Helen Saunders; boys and girls, 7 years and under, Andy Orr, Dorothy Mulholland; 100 yards dash, tree for all, A. Buell, E. Sullings.

Married ladies, Mrs. G. Dickson Mrs. A. Cunningham. Old men, R. Arnel, W. Fleet. Married men, Joseph Smith, William Fleet. Fat men, W. Fleet, A. Rawley. Single ladies, Edith Turner, Frances Rogers. Married ladies, Mrs. D. Leslie, Mrs. A. Cunningham.

Three-legged race, E. Watts and H. Fleet, R. Hewgill and O. Bearance. Young ladies' balloon race, Frances Rogers, Isabella Quick. Married men, A. Buell, E. Sullings. Half mile, E. Sullings, A. Heap. Married men, A. Buell, E. Sullings, O. Clow.

Dr. G. W. Bell's prizes for the prettiest girls were won by Viola Irwin, Mary Strachan, and Cecilia Quick. The winners in the baby contests were: Baby from one to six months, Mrs. W. Trill's, 523 Albert street, first, Mrs. A. H. Smith's, Clow's block, Chatham street, second, and Mrs. T. Partis', 255 Earl street, third. Babies one year old, first, Mrs. Thompson's; second, Mrs. Dickson's and third Mrs. Anderson's. The judges in these contests were A. E. Hunt, Prof. Noury and George Cooper.

Throwing a baseball, Edith Turner, Besie Easton. The team from the Trades and Labor Council defeated the plumbers in the tug of war.

The winners in the freckled face contest were, William Davis, Ernest Wright, Georgian Wilson and Gwendolen Allen.

Quoit throwing, Dr. F. Waugh, and A. E. Miller, George J. Kirkpatrick and Samuel McCormack. Waltz Prize Winners: Patrick Dee and Mrs. West; William Kelly and Mrs. Leah Jenkins; H. Watts and Miss M. Phillips. Salisbury's orchestra provided the music.

The organization in charge of the picnic was composed of the following: President, J. Melville; vice-president, E. Stanford; secretary, A. E. Hunt; Committee chairman: Sports, J. Potter, J. F. Ramsay; finance, O. Clow; grand stand, H. Teeple; grounds, W. Fleet, John McRory; baseball, P. Moran; official scorer, Joe Kehoe; judges in races, Walter Shull, M. Coyne; race starters, J. Minifie, W. Malden; announcer J. Feeney; dance committee, J. Sepalon; ticket sellers, W. Kelly, J. Davis, M. Morgan, F. Martin, H. Turcutt.

An unfortunate occurrence took place in the judges' stand when the bell dropped on Eddie Clarke's hand, breaking one of his fingers. Hon. W. F. Nickle took him to the General Hospital for treatment.

Vanity dies hard—in some obstinate cases it outlives the man.

24pt—opening of the grand The Grand Opera House opened for the season on Labor Day with "Cinderella" as the offering, matinee and night.

The old, old story of Cinderella and the slippers, with Prince Charming, Fairy Godmother, and other characters, so well known, never loses its charm. Miss Theo Farlane, as Cinderella, was very winsome in her speaking part, but very weak in her singing. As Prince Charming, Miss Ruth Marr had all the dash and swing the part calls for, while Miss Nell Verum, as the Baroness and Jerry Ketchum, as the Baron, were good. The balance of the company was just fair, while a lack of scenery was a great drawback to the play. It is only fair to the company to state, however, that this was their opening night, and even with the best regulated shows things do not like clock work on opening nights.

The Grand has a number of strong attractions booked for the season. On Friday and Saturday of this week the "Originals" of the Third Division, C.E.F. will present the new revue, "Rapid Fire."

D. B. Branigan, the gent manager of the Grand, has had the theatre redecorated and everything is looking spic and span for the season's business. Always looking after the comfort of his patrons, Mr. Branigan, on Monday, at the matinee and evening performances, had the electric fans going and this was very much appreciated by the holiday audiences as the weather was somewhat sultry. The theatre has been given a thorough cleaning. All the seats have been given special attention.

BACK TO THE OLD TIME.

Daylight Saving Is Over For Another Season In Kingston.

Kingston said good-bye to Daylight saving time on Monday night, and My! but was it not grand and glorious feeling to get that extra hour's sleep on Tuesday morning? And coming after the holiday, citizens certainly appreciated the extra hour. It was a good day to start on the old time, over to the opening of the schools.

Big Class Girlswimmers.

The swimming lessons given at the Y.M.C.A. for girls last week was a great success. It was stated on Tuesday morning the twenty-five girls had learned the art, as a result of the instruction given by Capt. H. E. Law, and this is regarded as a most successful showing. It is the intention to hold another "swimming week" next summer. The swimming classes just closed, were planned months ago.
