GREEKS BURN ITALIAN FLAG AFTER BURIAL

Of Victims of Corfu Bombardment-The Italian Legation Attacked.

Athens, Sept. 5 .- A violent demonstration against Italy took place yesterday after solemn funeral services had been held in the Catholic cathedral for the victims of the Corfu bombardment.

The crowd burned an Italian flag and attacked the Italian legation. The newspapers are filled with resolutions passed by various public organizations protesting against the occupation of Corfu, which is described as a violation of existing treaties and international law.

The papers also print a message from the archbishops and bishops of Asia Minor to the various heads of Athens, Sept. 5 .- Italian forces the world churches and an appeal tion by Italian forces of the Alban- ferences over internal affairs and are cles to-day that, if any, the casual- for the similar four months of last is twelve and one-half years united in excordiating the Italian ac- ties were very light.

Kingston Ladies Are Likely Safe

Word has been received to the effect that Mrs. H.F. Woodsworth, who was formerly Miss Ada Chown, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Chown, University avenue, is likely safe at Kobe. This place was not affected by the earthquake.

Mrs. Floyd Shacklock, formerly Louise Herchmer Dunlop, a daughter of Rev. J. G. Dunlop, Alice street, is no doubt also safe. Her father served as a missionary for thirty-five years in Japan and the daughter before her marriage was taught in one of the colleges in Japan. Her marriage took place in July tast. She and her husband are in northern Japan.
