FIRST OF THE BOOSTER FREIGHT LOCOMOTIVES

Being Built at Kingston Works — Will Help Haul Canada's Western Grain Crop.

The new engine, number 3550, Mikado in style, is the first of a ten order contract which the Canadian Locomotive works has received, and it will be finished early next week. These engines, built to haul freight, will be used in the west to transport the big grain crops from the elevators to the east. Possessing all the splendid features of the passenger series, these monsters of the rails, though not quite as long, weigh as much. The only difference is that the engines are of the 2-8-2 type and have an additional appendage the famous booster, into which the steam is first turned. This booster is located behind the trailing axle, and after the engine has attained a speed of approximately ten miles an hour, it immediately shuts off allowing the locomotive to look after itself. One other feature is the new innovation the Bellaire boiler which allows a larger steam capacity and therefore greater power. The tender has a carrying space of twelve tons of coal and eighty-five gallons of water.

Several other orders for different types of engines have been received and there is every indication that the locomotive works will continue in operation for a long time.

"Jails" His Jailer And Makes Escape

Whitby, Sept. 7.—Although efforts are being made to trace Thomas Taylor, who escaped from the county jail here Monday night, the fugitive is still at large. Taylor made his escape in a particularly ingenious manner.

When the jailer was about to lock him in his cell for the night, Taylor, who was acting as cook, asked leave to go to the kitchen to attend to the fire. As he passed out of the corridor he shut the iron grating on the jailer, and by means of a rope made his exit from the building. Police in the adjacent counties have been notified. Taylor, who came from Oshawa, was awaiting trial at the fall assizes.

Quite a number of small tents, as well as two large dwelling tents, are erected in the nice grounds situated on the main road leading to Lyndhurst. The meetings have been good from the beginning and last Sunday was a special day in numbers and interest shown. The numbers are increasing and it is expected there will be a large turnout for the remainder of the meetings. Bishop A. F. Warren is in charge and a number of other preachers, Evangelists and singers are assisting.

Big School Attendance.

Preliminary reports on the opening of the city schools show that there is a big attendance. Some of the grades, such as the junior fourth, are over-crowded and it was necessary in some cases to split the classes in order to equalize them and facilitate the work of the teachers. Tuesday and Wednesday did not see all of the children in their places, however, as some families had not returned to the city, and the inspector, J. R. Stuart, was not prepared to make a general statement on the matter of accommodation.

BURNING OF TOWN HALL

At Picton on Tuesday — Building Erected in Sixties.

Picton Times. Tuesday morning the town building on the market square was gutted. Between 6 and 6:30 o'clock, J. L. Sheppard, the market clerk, arose and started a fire in the cook stove. He heard a noise like something dropping apparently upstairs in the firehall. He went around to the firehall, but no person was there. Charles Hawkins stood across the street and remarked that there was too much smoke about. But before an investigation could be made, flames burst from the upper floor, the upper part of the building apparently being on fire from end to end. The firemen quickly responded to the alarm and all the fire apparatus was removed and Mr. Sheppard's household goods with the exception of two stoves, as well as the furniture from the council chamber. At this time there was no fire downstairs. But it had evidently been burning for a long time on the stage and in the galleries of the town hall. The roof was burned off as well as the top of the hose tower. The fire alarm bell dropped through the building. The walls and chimneys are still standing.

The cause of the fire is a complete mystery, as the town hall was locked up and the stovepipes which were in use in the residence part enter the chimney on the first floor. The water pressure was good and the firemen had no difficulty in confining the fire to the one building. The building was insured for $4,200.

The town hall building was erected in the sixties. It was a very substantial building and served its purpose for many years. It contained the central fire station, the council chamber and the market clerk's residence on the ground floor. In recent years the town hall has only been used occasionally, the Regent theatre taking care of shows and the armoueries public meetings.

The fire bell is cracked, but whether it can be mended has not been determined. Pending re-arrangement of the system the Church of England bell will be used. The alarm will be installed in the market building and the market clerk will have temporary residence there. For the present the fire truck will be kept at Jones' livery. The town council will hold its meetings in the public library.
