What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

BEAUTIFUL IRENE CASTLE HERE IN PERSON TONIGHT The name of Irene Castle to American audiences is synonymous with grace, charm and personality and her coming to the Grand Opera house to-night will be the event of the early season.

at one point there is introduced a wonderful reproduction of the famous dark chamber where the original Bluebeard, of the old tale, killed and stored his wives. Gloria Swanson is sumptuously appareled, as usual, and the audience at times begins to wonder why such marvelous clothes could be designed and made for one woman. She wears them with the same distinction and charm, too.

Gloria Swanson in the Paramount Picture "Bluebeard's 8th Wife"

Huntley Gordon plays the leading man, and the other members of the cast are capable and well chosen. Some of the scenes are laid in Paris, others in Egypt, so the scenic elements in the photoplay are up to standard. The whole production, which was directed by Sam Wood, is typical of a Paramount picture at its best, and Kingstonians should resolve to see "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife."

IN MARINE CIRCLES

The steamer Glendowan arrived from the head of the lakes on Wednesday night and is taking on a cargo at Richardson's before leaving for Montreal.

"LISTEN TO ME" ON FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

If watching girls in beautiful costumes are an asset to a musical show, then "Listen To Me" coming to the Grand Opera House on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 21st and 22nd, with a bargain matinee on Saturday, should be the most popular musical play that will visit this city.

DE VALERA WILL SOON BE TRIED

London, Sept. 20.—Eamon de Valera and some of the other leading Irish republicans will be brought to trial at an early date, according to a report in Dublin quoted by the Daily Mirror.

No Left Hand Turns At Busy Street Corners

In an endeavor to help out in the congestion of traffic and avoid accidents on Princess street on Saturday night, the police authorities have given orders that drivers of autos and vehicles must not make left hand turns at Montreal or Bagot street intersections.

Four Injured at Fair When Race Horse Bolted

Barrie, Sept. 20.—The closing day of the Barrie fair was marked by a very serious accident. Just after the start of the running race, near the end of the racing programme, a horse bolted into the crowd, injuring three men and a boy.

BLUNDERS

Is this golfer in the proper position for driving? The answer will be found among to-day's want ads.

According to J. M. Donahue, law solicitor for Sydney Murrell, the extradition order by which Murrell was brought back to London from San Francisco was irregular, and an application for a writ of habeas corpus will be made on Saturday.

SOME PRIZE WINNERS IN KINGSTON FAIR

(Continued from Page 2.) At the conclusion of the races a very interesting tug-of-war was staged between teams representing Watertown and Kingston. The "heavies" staged a very good exhibition and their struggles were loudly applauded by the spectators. The Kingstonians won after a hard contest.

A wrestling exhibition between Haunz, of Kingston, and Stephens, of Watertown. The two gladiators went to it with a will for a hectic half hour without a fall and the contest was declared a draw. Haunz had his man in dangerous positions on several occasions but failed to come through at the critical stage. Both contestants were clever and fast.

Other Horse Prize Winners. C. M. Simkins got first prize for colt and second for mare and colt in the carriage class. Howard Keyes, Cataract, first for carriage mare; L. Trudell, Bath Road, second and third for yearling and two-year-old in the agricultural, and second for colt, also second for saddle horse. Manning Forster, Yarker, first for standard bred roadster. This fine mare was driven by Mrs. A. G. Robbs in an exhibition half-mile and won the applause of the grand stand. In the carriage class, C. Canning was first, C. Stokes second and T. Purdy third. Benson Coulter, Glenburnie, was first in the agricultural class, with his colt, and third for mare; George Robertson, Portsmouth, first for mare and second for colt; H. Long, R. R. No. 2 Kingston, second for mare and second for colt; R. Van Order, Genyvale, captured first place with a two-year old. A. Stein, Kingston, first on standard bred stallion roadster. P. McCoy first on pure bred heavy draft stallion.

Large Vegetable Display. Considering the very dry weather the display of vegetables was considered very large. The judging took place on Wednesday. Baiden Bros., Portsmouth, were awarded first prize for the best collection of vegetables in the show and C. C. Friendship, Bath Road, was second. The following won first prizes: F. Bailey, Brock street, yellow onions; Baker Bros., potato onions; John Baker, large onions; Baiden Bros., red onions; Cooke Bros., tomatoes; Baiden Bros. and John Baker, cabbage; Baiden Bros., beets; J. S. Knight, table carrots; John Baker, carrots; James Grant, cauliflower; J. S. Knight, yellow bantam corn; Baiden Bros., white corn. LOCAL NEWS

Brief Items of Interest Picked Up by the Whig Reporters. Mr. Swain, piano tuner. Orders received at 100 Clergy street west, Rev. H. J. Farrell, Enterprise, has returned after a vacation at his home Drogheda, Ireland. Glynn Vandewater, Nanikas, was married on Wednesday to Miss Ruth Diamond, Campbellford. Melvin Thurling, Peffy Chantier, Frederick Baldwin and John Turnpenny, Woodstock, are to attend Queen's university. A shopping bag and a package of Lemmonia will be given away with every 50c purchase of Du-Ko at the Kingston fair, in the main building. Sgt. J. O'Connor, R.C.R., London, Ont., was given $500 for uncovering a fire bug. The arsonist made a confession in Portsmouth penitentiary as to his guilt. Armadale, the well-known racer, who won the 2 1/2 mile race at the Toronto Exhibition will be in the free-for-all at the Kingston Exhibition on Saturday.

See how sugar, eggs and labor may be saved by using Du-Ko for pies and puddings, in the main building at the Kingston fair. A shopping bag will be given away with each purchase of Du-Ko. H. J. Main, superintendent of Trenton division of the Canadian Pacific railway, and Col. Ripley, district engineer for the C.P.R., were visitors at the fair on Wednesday afternoon. Tea and eggs are in the same class. You insist on fresh eggs, and since tea deteriorates even more rapidly if exposed to the air, you should insist on tea sealed like "SALADA" in airtight aluminum to keep it fresh. Do not accept bulk teas of questionable age.—Adv't.

First we flatter ourselves and then the flattery of others is sure of success. It awakens our self-love within, which party is ever ready to revolt from our better judgment and join the enemy without. Who overcomes by force overcomes but half his foe.

Tuberculosis Address. A large audience assembled in the tent of the Kingston Tuberculosis Association at the industrial exhibition last evening, to hear a lecture by Dr. J. R. Currie, professor of preventative medicine, Queen's university, on the subject of "Tuberculosis, Prevention and Cure." The lecture which was illustrated by lantern slides showing the various phases in relation to the disease, was perhaps one of the most interesting and instructive ever delivered on this all-important subject in Kingston. The lecturer dealt with the question of tuberculosis, both in the Old Country and Canada. The need of fresh air as the greatest aid in the fighting of tuberculosis was fully explained, together with the necessity of pure foods, especially that of milk. It was brought forcibly home to the audience the ever present danger to the community at large of darkness, dampness, dirt, drink, degradation and despair. The urgent need for sanatorium treatment for all afflicted with tuberculosis as the only present known method of combating this dread disease, was emphasized by the lecturer.

JACK HOLT'S GREAT ROLE

IN "GENTLEMAN OF LEISURE" Jack Holt's latest picture, "A Gentleman of Leisure," will be given its premier presentation at the Allen Theatre last evening. The story is a delightful melodramatic comedy with the star unadorned by practically forced by his aunt and uncle, who are in dire financial straits, to court the girl of their choice, Molly Creedon, of New York City. Spennie does not wish to disobey Sir John and Lady Blount, but he is determined to marry a certain chorus girl.

Pitt meets Miss Creedon while dining in a restaurant. She is with the Blounts. At their next meeting at a house party given by the Blounts Pitt obtains an introduction to Molly through Sir Spencer. It is at this party that, through a curious twist of events, the far-famed Blount necklaces is stolen, and Pitt, because Molly's father, Deputy Police Commissioner "Big Phil" Creedon had seen him in company of a crook the day previous, is accused of the theft. Things are cleared up in the end, however, and all turns out well, especially for Robert and Molly. The supporting cast is one of the finest and includes Sigrid and Holmquist as Mr. Holt's leading woman.

MODERN BLUEBEARD IN NEW PARAMOUNT PICTURE

Seven, we are told by sages ancient and modern, is the perfect number. But John Brandon, modera millinaire and Bluebeard, went one better in the matter of wives. After marrying and divorcing seven he married number eight, and Mrs. Brandon the eighth gave him a lively time until he realized her worth, confessed that he sincerely loved her and brought matters to a happy climax. This is briefly the theme of "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," with Gloria Swanson as star, the splendid Paramount picture which opens at the Strand this afternoon. Although the story, and its scenes and settings, are modern, corpus will be made on Saturday.
