A Substantial House With Garage Attached

For those who like a plain substantial house, something with a suggestion of dignity and permanence, here is one that will appeal. The house is designed to be built of hollow tile with stucco finish. The hipped roofs with broad overhanging eaves give good weather protection. The group windows with their flower boxes and the well designed entrance give interest to the exterior and offer a pleasing contrast with the plain stucco walls. A feature of this house is the garage which is placed under the living porch. A concrete incline leads down from the grade in the rear to the garage floor which is at the same level as the cellar floor. A fireproof door connects the garage with the cellar thus making the car accessible without going out of doors. The garage has complete water, lighting and sewer service, all connected to the house supplies at a very slight cost. The reinforced concrete floor of the living porch forms a fireproof roof for the garage. In the living porch a quarry tile floor is laid over the concrete. The living porch has been made another room by completely enclosing the openings with sash and screens, and a room that proves to be the most popular one in the house. The living room, dining room, kitchen and pantry are all well arranged. On the second floor are four corner bed rooms, each with a large closet, a bath room and a linen closet. A stairway leads to the attic where good storage space is provided. The laundry and other utility rooms are in the cellar. Cost about $8,800. Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-60.

THE ONLY CONSRIPTS IN THE BRITISH EMPIRE. The Channel Islands are now the only part of the British Empire where conscription is in force, but it is imposed by the will of the Islanders, who also have the distinction of being exempt from the tax laws of Great Britain. Conscription was suspended in 1914 in favor of the British recruiting schemes, but has now been resumed. The picture shows Lieut.-Col. W. A. Stoker, Officer Commanding the Militia, inspecting a soldier's dinner ration.

The Man On Watch

You cannot train a player who refuses to train any more than you can make a scholar out of a dull-head. The anti-union people have been named the U. F. O. of the church—Us For Ourselves. We are told that the destiny of the British empire is to be decided in the next thirty years. Its destiny, so far as the Dominions are concerned, was decided a long time ago, and if it is to be decided again the decision will be the same. There are more genuine red-headed girls in the Sealey's Bay district than anywhere else in Eastern Ontario. They are the real bright red-tops. The humane society has been existing on earth for years and doing wonderful work. With financial backing through a yearly tag day, it will make life still more pleasant for the dumb animals.

Why do the gardeners hereabouts not make an endeavor to protect their tender plants when frost threatens? Bonfires around plots for a few hours on a frosty night would save thousands of dollars of stuff, and refuse makes a very good bonfire.

Of all the cases heard in court here, the Leeds township action, in which a wife and mother was forced to protect the legitimacy of her children, takes the cake.

Alfred street appeared in its autumn glory during fair week. Its residents are very proud of their front lawns and their new road pavement.

Kingston is specially claimed as its own by the Tory party, which waves the Union Jack, but it is a surprising thing that during exhibition week just ending, scarcely a flag was to be seen on the streets. Even the city hall flags were not ordered at the masthead. American visitors received a shock when they visited Kingston to attend the fair and saw no colors in honor of the big event.

There are people who think they are not up-to-date if they do not read all the new fiction published. They think they should follow books just as they do dresses, but they will find that many of the old time novels are the best.

It is said that some member of the local "union" Presbyterian churches will secede and join the Scotch kirk when the union edict is final. And by the way the kirk people are getting their edifices all fixed up. It is being newly roofed and decorated so that it will look epic and span when it becomes the only Presbyterian church in Kingston. The Scotch are a peculiar people, and are very particular about whom they associate with, even in divine worship, and they will have none of the union business.

Rockfield Reports. Rockfield, Sept. 20—The recent frosts did considerable damage to corn, potatoes, etc., and now silo filling is the order of the day. B. Webster's outfit is busy at Harold Warren's today. A large number from here attended the funeral of the late Norris Ferguson, Junetown, at the Union Church on Sunday afternoon. Kenneth Warren has purchased a Star car. Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Herbison and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Green, and the Misses Earle are among those attending Kingston fair today. Mr. and Mrs. William Hunt, Mallorytown, were Sunday guests at S. Green's. A large number attended Lansdowne fair on Friday last. Messrs Stanley Birch and David Cartright have returned from the west.

IN TWENTY YEARS HE was only a little more self of humanity one year old when I took out a 20-year endowment policy in the Mutual Life of Canada for him. It seemed a long way ahead then—it doesn't seem far looking back over those 20 years now. "But the other night, when he came to me in the den, where I sat reading, it struck me very forcibly that my boy had grown into a man. He fairly towered above me where I sat in my lounging chair. "Father," said he, "can you lend me $1,000?" "What do you want with $1,000?" I demanded in surprise. "It seems he had an opportunity of entering a motor agency and garage business with some other young fellows whose fathers I knew well as successful business men. I looked up the date of the Mutual Life policy before I gave my answer. "Yes," I said, "I will have $1,000 for you on your 21st birthday—a little coming-of-age present from your mother and me." "Do you know, it was a wonderful satisfaction to be able to say that!" A Mutual Life Endowment Policy would put your boy through college, start him in business or help him in ways you might otherwise find difficult if not impossible. Let us help you.
