ABSOLUTELY, MR. READER—

The Whig takes great pleasure in announcing to its readers that the famous "Mister Gallagher and Mister Shean" comics, which have just been introduced in the newspaper field, will commence in its columns on Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, and will appear daily thereafter.

Among the entertainers of the present generation "Ed" Gallagher and "Al" Shean stand out as two of the greatest. Their first rendition of their celebrated duet was received with an enthusiasm such as few such things have caused and it has remained a favorite ever since, appearing in many varied forms of wording and costume, but always full of "pep" and a sure laugh-getter.

Few people realize that Messrs. Gallagher and Shean are real people—or comparatively few of the millions who have come into touch with their work—yet they are very real and very likeable and in their new departure, a daily comic strip, promise to become greater favorites than ever.

Here is how they express it:

"O Mister Gallagher, O Mister Gallagher,

In the comics we'll meet Polly and her Pals.

With Jiggs and Maggie we'll strut On the page with Boob McNutt

And other funny boys and nifty gals."

"O Mister Shean, O Mister Shean,

In Barney Googles company we'll be seen;

There's be Abie and his mob

With Jerry on the Job—"

"And also, Mister Gallagher,"

"With yours truly, Mister Shean."

Don't miss this latest and funniest comic strip. Starts in Daily Whig Tuesday.

OBITUARY

The Late Annesley Burrows.
Annesley Burrows, a former well-known newspaper writer of Detroit, Mich., died in a Toronto hospital on Monday morning after a long illness. In his later years Mr. Burrows suffered from blindness. The deceased was born in Kingston and for some years was a telegrapher in Toronto. Then he drifted into newspaper work and became a feature writer in Detroit. His articles were of the most racy style. For some years, after his eyesight began to fail, Mr. Burrows conducted the Bijou moving picture theater in Kingston. Later he returned to Detroit and resumed newspaper work, but eventually, following a critical operation in Chicago he became hopelessly blind. A year later he was stricken with partial paralysis. The body is to arrive in Kingston Tuesday afternoon and Rev. W. E. Kidd, assistant rector of St. George's cathedral will officiate at the burial service at Cataract cemetery.

Late Mrs. Allan Chadwick
The death occurred on Monday morning of Mrs. Eliza Chadwick, wife of Allan Chadwick, at her residence, 80 Frontenac street. The deceased was a Methodist in religion and a member of Sydenham street church. She was sixty-three years of age. The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock to Cataract cemetery under the direction of the James Reid firm. The service will be conducted by Rev. R. H. Bell.

Late Mrs. Jennet Paul.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Jennet Paul, who passed away in the General hospital after an illness of two weeks, took place on Saturday afternoon from John Cornelius' undertaking parlors to Cataract cemetery. The deceased, who was a Presbyterian in religion, was in her seventy-sixth year. Besides her husband, the late Mrs. Paul is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William Hughes, Kingston, and Mrs. David Machan, Lavant; also three sisters, Mrs. Darol, Renfrew; Mrs. Thomas Dodds, Lanark; and Mrs. David Gillespie, Toronto.

Late Mrs. John O'Connor.
Mrs. John O'Connor, a former resident of Bedford, passed away at her late residence, Watertown, N. Y., on Friday after an illness of four months. The remains arrived in the city on Saturday and were transferred to Bedford for interment by John Cornelius. The deceased was a Roman Catholic in religion and was forty-eight years of age. She is survived by her husband, John O'Connor Watertown, one daughter, Miss Bertha, and one son, Francis, both at home; also four sisters, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Elginburg; Mrs. Edward Davidson, Kingston; Mrs. William Kivell, Hamilton; and Miss Ansel Brennan, Bloomington; also one brother, John Brennan, Bedford.

A science freshman, who disobeyed the rules of the second year men and walked on the side-walks, was captured on Monday morning, taken to the gymnasium and made to wear his combination underwear over his street clothes.

French Are Running Down Communist Plot

Paris, Oct. 1.—French police officials are actively engaged in running down a communist plot to create defections in the army. The extremist leaders are using the pretext that French forces in the Ruhr and Rhineland are likely to be called on to suppress disturbances and uprisings of either communist or nationalist nature.

To Protect American Interests in Russia

London, Oct. 1.—Reuter despatch from Moscow quotes Minister of War Trotsky as saying in reply to a question:

"As long as private property exists in America, American interests in Russia will be respected, and all engagements entered into with the Soviets will be scrupulously kept. Any other action will be suicidal."

Brought from Toronto.
Police Constable Leslie Clark arrived from Toronto Monday afternoon, with William McEachern, who was arrested there on a charge of "securing money under false pretenses." It is alleged that he gave a worthless cheque to a Kingston dealer, for an auto, and that he also put over a worthless cheque for a license number here. The Kingston police traced him to Toronto, and the police in the latter place took him into custody.

Kingston's Coal Supply.
Dr. W. W. Sands, city clerk, received a letter from the Ontario fuel controller on Monday morning, stating that Kingston had received one-half of its coal supply, and that the remainder would be forthcoming. He said he did not anticipate any coal shortage for Kingston this year.

Rally Day services were held in the Sunday schools of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches of the city on Sunday. The services were very largely attended.

L. A. P. Knight, Alice street, has returned from maritime provinces where he was campaigning with interests of the lobster industry.

A British mail closed at the Kingston post office at 11 o'clock on Monday morning.
