SAY GOOD-BYE TO LADIES HAZARDOUS MARINE TEST

Who Are Leaving Sydenham Street Methodist Church for Foreign Parts.

On Monday afternoon, the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Sydenham Street Methodist church gathered to say farewell to four of its valued members, Mrs. J. G. Dunlop, who is leaving shortly for Japan, Mrs. E. A. Muirhead, and Miss Fanny Chown, who are going to make their home in California, and Mrs. J. F. Stevenson, who is also moving to California.

Mrs. R. O. Joliffe, president, referred to the good years Mrs. Dunlop had been with the society, and she said "to know her was to respect her, and to love her." All the members of the auxiliary had derived much help from Mrs. Dunlop, but Mrs. Joliffe stated, that probably those of the mission study class had derived the greatest benefit, as Mrs. Dunlop had made the classes so wonderfully inspiring and bright. She felt that all those who had attended had a far greater insight into conditions in the foreign field. Mrs. Joliffe, in presenting Mrs. Dunlop with a "Life Members' Pin," said that no one could wear the pin more appropriately than Mrs. Dunlop.

In replying, Mrs. Dunlop said that she was very pleased if she had been of any help to the society, but she felt that the meetings had been of more profit to her than to the members. Mrs. Dunlop stated that in going back to Japan, she felt that there was a far greater opportunity than ever, since the recent disaster, for the Christian nations to show the Christ likeness.

Mrs. A. E. Knapp presented Mrs. Muirhead with a "Life members' pin," and said that although all would feel very badly to lose Mrs. Muirhead, "it was no time for tears, but to be glad that we have known her." Mrs. Muirhead was one of the pillars of the church, and the Christian spirit was always in everything that she had done, and she was always ready to go anywhere, or to do anything. Mrs. Knapp stated that she felt that what was the loss of the Kingston branch would be the gain of the Pacific branch, as she knew that Mrs. Muirhead would transfer her work there.

In replying, Mrs. Muirhead said that she counted it as a great privilege to have been able to work in the auxiliary. Of course, she regretted leaving Sydenham Street church, as it had been her home church for a long time, and that no church could ever be quite the same. Mrs. Muirhead said that her one desire was to go on and attempt even greater things, and she hoped that the disaster in Japan might be the means of leading it to Christ.

Miss McIntyre, in referring to Miss Fanny Chown, said that she was a great friend of the missionary society, and that she could do no better than to say what she once heard Miss Chown's mother say of her daughter, "that she was so particular that anything that she asked her to do, she knew it would be done well." Miss McIntyre said that was certainly the case, as Miss Chown always was a willing worker and what she did was done with a will. Miss McIntyre presented Miss Chown with a pin, a souvenir of Canada. Miss Chown in replying, stated "that she was no speech-maker," but she was very grateful, and would always remember the kindness of the Sydenham missionary society.

Mrs. W. M. Campbell, when speaking of Mrs. J. F. Stevenson, stated that she had been a most active and highly honored member. Many would remember how Mrs. Stevenson had guided them through the devotional period at the W.M.S. meetings. Mrs. Campbell said that it was three and a half years since Mrs. Stevenson had come across from the States to make her home in Canada, and now she was going back to her home country, and with the thoughts, prayers and very best wishes of the society. Mrs. Campbell presented Mrs. Stevenson with a bouquet of flowers, as a token of the esteem of the auxiliary. Mrs. Stevenson said that she would leave feeling that she had made some very dear, sincere friends in Kingston, and that she would feel no stranger in her new home as she would only feel that she had been transferred from the W.M.S. here to the society at the coast.

During the afternoon, Miss Tweedell, Miss Irene Shaw and Miss Keitha Lloyd rendered solos which were much enjoyed and appreciated. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served, and all had an opportunity of saying farewell to the guests of honor.

Taxis Boys Meet.
"Rain or shine, I'll pay my fine, riding, riding on the dummy dummy line." So the Taxis Boys of Princess Street Methodist church sang, when they met for supper and held their elections. Sixteen of them preparing and serving their meal, organized for service the coming fall and winter, under their minister, Rev. J. K. Curtis. John Quirt was elected praetor. Every effort will be made to secure the boys of their age for attendance at school and activities without. E. E. Parkhouse was unanimously elected their Sunday school teacher, and the Taxis boys of Princess Street Methodist church are planning for a nice campaign of worth-while things.

Performed by the Donnelly Wrecking Co. in Releasing the Steamer Pabjune.

The Donnelly Salvage and Wrecking Company, which was successful in releasing the steamer Pabjune, which went ashore on the rocks on the west shore of Ogden Island below Prescott, performed one of the most difficult and hazardous feats accomplished on the St. Lawrence River. The steamer went ashore on Sunday, Sept. 23rd, and was released on Friday morning at 8.30 o'clock. To release the steamer from the rocks, it was necessary to place the anchors from the pulling tugs Frontenac and Johnston 4,500 feet up the river to get a proper holding. The current was very swift at this particular point, and the work was very dangerous.

After being lightened of 22,000 bushels of wheat, the Pabjune was released. The grain taken off was placed on the lighter barge, Manie, and towed to Montreal by the tug Frontenac.

The Pabjune carried a record cargo on a draft of 12 feet 10 inches, being the largest that ever passed down the St. Lawrence route at this lowering depth. She carried 86,700 bushels of American wheat in bond for England. She proceeded to Montreal with air compressors working to keep down the water. At Montreal she will be given right of way in order that her cargo may be elevated at once. She will then be stocked.

The tug Johnston and the lighter Harry D. arrived back from the scene of the wreck on Monday night and the tug Frontenac and lighter Manie were due to leave Montreal on Tuesday morning.

It is not known the extent of the damage until the steamer is placed in dry dock.

Captain John Donnelly, Kingston, was in charge of the releasing operations.
