Nova Scotia Interior as Moose Pasture

SAM GLOBE, INDIAN GUIDE

LOUIE HARLOW, EXPERT MOOSE CALLER

Nova Scotia is a country of lakes and streams, offering many ideal canoe trips, and the interior is a great moose pasture. Ideal, too, is the moose hunting, because both the canoe and automobile are used by hunters and guides, thus saving many miles of weary hiking through the wilderness. On the Liverpool chain of lakes reached from South Milford via Annapolis Royal or Digby, and on Lake Kedegamakoope, Lake Rosignol, Lake Munro, Loon Lake and the Liverpool River expert Indian and white guides use the canoes for long distances and even call the moose to the shore with their birch bark horns. When some distant point is to be reached from "Deer" Thomas' South Milford camp, canoes, guides, hunters and duffle are loaded upon a big motor truck for the journey.

South Milford is 15 miles from Annapolis Royal and is a favorite outfitting point. So is the Esdgemakoope Rod and Gun Club, on famous Lake Kedegamakoope, in the heart of the wilderness 36 miles from Annapolis Royal. Both of these camps have ample accommodations and plenty of canoes and reliable guides.

The Nova Scotian moose season lasts from Oct. 1 to Nov. 15. Deer are as plentiful as moose, and the open season for this game lasts from Oct. 16 to Nov. 31.

Although large numbers of moose are shot each year, many with magnificent "spreads," the annual increase is said to equal the kill. Such guides as Louis Harlow, half-breed Indian and Sam Globe, full-blooded Indian, are expert moose callers and stalkers and rarely disappoint the hunter. The cleverness with which they simulate the calls of the cow moose with a simple roll of birch bark fashioned into a horn, is sure to fool the wisest old bull in the wilderness. When the calling season is past, the moose no longer comes to the hunter and the hunter must go to him. Neither canoe, nor automobile figures much in this phase of moose hunting except that one, or both, may help the hunter near the place where the quarry is supposed to be and carry him home when the hunt is over.

TOO MANY EMPTY CRADLES IN BRITAIN

If Empire Falls It Will Be Because of Low Birth Rate.

Leeds, England, Oct. 2.—England's empty cradles continue to form a subject of animated comment among the newspapers, doctors and sociologists. Not a few British officials express misgivings over the future of the race if the present rate of decline in births continues.

Dr. J. Johnstone Jarvis, medical officer of health for Leeds, in his report for 1922, refers in some striking passages to the subject of birth control. Commenting upon the fall of the birth rate in Leeds from 21.8 to 19.8 per 1,000, he says: "How people can, in these circumstances, talk of birth control and the necessity for the reduction of the birth rate, passes comprehension. To talk of the risks of over-population with Europe depleted by war, revolution, famine and disease, and other continents calling out for settlers to occupy their land and develop their industries, is childish folly."

"This Malthusian myth of over-population was exploded long ago, so one thought, but it has been resurrected, and is again being made to do service in this anti-social campaign to reduce the birth rate. No one objects to the restriction of the unfit, but to interfere with the birth of the fit—and this seriously—is what is intended—is to invite disaster."

"Let there be no mistake about it, if the British Empire falls it will not be for lack of money, as so many seem to fear, but for lack of men, and because its sons and daughters have been influenced by the vapourings of a few seekers after notoriety and have allowed selfish interests to come between them and their duty."

"The state also has a duty in the matter, namely, to ensure that every parent has an income to enable him to maintain himself and his family in comfort and health. If it fails to do this it falls in that on which most depends our national health and welfare."

For War Time Control.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The Grand Trunk railway of Canada is entitled to final payment of $1,363,000 from the United States government, the inter-state commerce commission announces, to make good losses sustained during the first six months after the termination of the war time federal control over its lines within the United States. The Grand Trunk western railway is entitled to $1,171,000.

HARVESTERS REMAINING.

Brittishers Find Employment in Canadian Centres.

Winnipeg, Oct. 2.—British harvesters in Canada are slowly being absorbed by the labor market, according to reports reaching local organizations, and it is expected that before snow flies all who can be used will have been placed in positions. Many applications have been made for these men from western points, several have gone east to work provided for them and those for whom no work can be found in the Dominion will be on their way home by the time winter is here.

RIVAL OF BURBANK.

Cape May Farmer Grows Scarlet Apples.

Cape May, N.J., Oct. 2.—Professor Edward R. Brunyate, superintendent of the Cape May county public schools, declares that Cape May county, in the village of Cold Springs, has a rival of Luther Burbank. To prove his assertions, Professor Brunyate recently displayed two big apples, under the peel of which were the initials J.C.E. and the words Cape May. Another apple showed a likeness of a pig. The initials are those of Joseph C. Elliott, the farmer who grows the fruit. Professor Brunyate said Elliott could grow apples reproducing any scene on his farm he chooses. The method is being kept a secret.

The need for officers to man Germany's navy and merchant fleet is so great that three sailing ships soon will be in operation to train young men to follow the sea.

WISH TO CELEBRATE FREEDOM OF SIREN

Descendants of American Slaves Ask for Special Day in Gambia.

Bathurst, Gambia, British West Africa, Oct. 2.—Descendants of liberated American slaves, repatriated to Africa by American abolition societies in 1823, have petitioned the governor of this British possession to specify the day during the next three months when they may celebrate the centennial of their establishment on MacCarthy island in Gambia river.

On this island, 160 miles due west in the jungles and mangrove swamps of the interior, where monkeys, hippopotami and crocodiles are listed as public nuisances, I had the opportunity of meeting and talking with the children and grandchildren of the transplanted American slaves, and to note what progress they had made during a century of freedom under the British flag.

Their knowledge of the land that liberated them was practically nil, and only the dimmest memory of slavery days has come down to them in legend and folklore, but they were well aware of and grateful for Great Britain's part in their repatriation, which consisted in purchasing MacCarthy island from native chiefs for bottles of trade gin and in protecting the newcomers from savages.

Thus their fathers were landed back on the coast from which it is estimated that more than 3,000,000 were carried away in slave ships. Sir John Hawkins in 1562 was the first Englishman to participate in the slave traffic, which he did under royal permission.

Georgetown on MacCarthy island is a community of galvanized roofed trading posts and the residents of the English commissioner and his wife who are the lonesome king and queen of some 30,000 natives.

Chinese Girls in U.S. College.

Wellesley, Mass., Oct. 2.—A tradition of ancient China was broken when a smiling little girl slipped quietly into Wellesley and rented a hall bedroom in a small boarding house on a side street. The girl was Miss Grace Li, daughter of Li Yuan Hung, president of the Great Eastern Republic in contravention of the custom of insulating the daughters of the rulers of China with troops of attendants. Miss Li arrived with but one companion, Miss Harriet Chou, herself only 21 years of age. The girls are entering Wellesley College to take two-year courses in political economy.
