AMUSEMENTS

"ST. ELMO" STORY OF GREAT LOVE

She was a girl who bartered her troth to another to satisfy her consuming lust for his faithless friend. And as the neighbors gazed upon her, they wondered, even as do countless others, what the world is coming to. This problem strikes the fire that explodes the bombshell of engrossing romance and plot in the new William Fox feature "St. Elmo," now showing at the Allen Theatre today and Saturday. John Gilbert plays the title role in his film version of Augusta J. Evans's famous story, a role eminently suited to his dynamic personality. In the part of the faithless girl is that popular favorite, Barbara La Marr. Miss La Marr plays her "love cards" with impassioned sincerity.

Following the disaster brought about by her treachery, St. Elmo, a man whose cheery illusions of life have turned to charred husks of bitterness roams the earth. Vainly he looks for a little peace. But he can't get away from himself. Until he returns home again and there finds wistful little Edna Earle (played by Bessie Love), who has come to be a companion to his mother. How Edna Earle through her sincerity and honor guides St. Elmo's embittered soul into the light again leads to a climax of rare power.

POPULAR REX BEACH PICTURES GETS CROWD

Yes, the virile and humorous imagination of Rex Beach always appeals. The Strand was filled last night with an enthusiastic audience, who watched each new turn of the plot in "The Iron Trail" with deepening interest. "The Iron Trail" is of course a railroad story, but it has new angles that give it a regular interest. Races on the screen are two gangs of men, working with desperate energy for rival companies, trying to get a railroad into Alaska first. Drastic scenes are employed and rough work is done, for the ways of the North are hard, yet humor and love incidents gleam through, adding variety and lightness to the story. The climax is a heroic struggle to get a bridge across the river finished before springs sets in, and the bursting ice has a chance to undo a winter's work. This is both original and exciting, working the audience up to high tension, as the toilers labor day and night to complete their task. The cast has shade of the gripping story with power and skill giving naturalness to the most dramatic incidents. The photography is excellent, and there are great Nature scenes which make an impressive show in themselves. "The Iron Trail" is a strong and entertaining play. The comedy at the Strand, "Where is my wandering boy this evening," has a comicality all its own, and the Pathe News, as usual, holds the watchers, particularly in the glimpse of the Firpo-Willard fight, succeeded in conveying the light and

LLOYD GEORGE TO ATTEND BROTHERHOOD CONGRESS

Which Meets in Toronto on the 9th and 10th of October.

Toronto, Oct. 5.—More than 3,000 delegates are expected to register for the World Brotherhood Congress in Toronto on October 9th and 10th. Already reservations have been received from Vancouver on the west and Amherst on the east. Delegates from Great Britain, the United States and possibly several European countries, will be present.

As it was on the invitation of the brotherhood that Lloyd George was visiting Canada, it was necessary for the congress to be in session when he arrived. Four years ago, when Lloyd George gave the concluding address at the first World Brotherhood Congress, a Canadian, in moving the vote of thanks, invited him to a similar congress when held in Canada, and the invitation was accepted immediately. Since 1919, congresses have been held in Washington, Prague and Cairo.

THINK TWO OR THREE PERSONS WERE DROWNED

When a Launch Burned and Sank in St. Clair Flats.

Windsor, Oct. 5.—No traces of two or three persons, thought to have drowned when their thirty-five-foot launch burned and sank in the St. Clair flats, on Thursday night, have been found, although workmen have located the boat in twenty-two feet of water 1,500 feet below the lower St. Clair light.

The belief that one of the persons, who left the little craft, was a woman, was expressed by the keeper of the light, Henry Rattery. Rattery told the United States engineer's office in Detroit, that between 9 and 9:30 p.m. he heard cries for help, and that he put out in a small boat. One of the voices was that of a woman, he said. A heavy sea and a high wind, however, prevented him from locating the victims.

Guests at the old club on the lower end of the south channel sighted the burning vessel about 9 p.m. Boats were manned immediately and sent into the bay. By that time, however, the burning vessel drifted in a heavy wind, and was near the lighthouse at the head of the ship canal, a half mile from where it was seen first. Before the rescue boats reached the spot, it turned over and sank in eighteen feet of water. Neither swimmers nor bodies were found by the club boats.

He suffered a stroke five months ago, but appeared to be making good progress towards recovery, when the end came suddenly. He was a graduate of Queen's University, and after practising at Mountain Grove for some time, he went west where he built up a good practice. He was popular and represented his constituency, Souris, in parliament, for four years under the Union government. ### STINNES TO CONFER WITH GEN. DEGOUTTE

With Regard to Restoring the Ruhr Valley's Industrial Activity.

Dusseldorf, Oct. 5.—Hugo Stinnes, German industrialist, arrived here this morning, and it is known that he and several others of the Ruhr industrial group have arranged for a conference with General Degoutte, French commander in the Ruhr.

Herr Stinnes flatly refused to talk to newspapermen, but it is generally believed the Germans will propose methods of restoring the Ruhr valley's industrial activity and incidentally suggest some modifications of the Franco-Belgian military occupation.

WANT CANADIAN CATTLE.

Scottish Butchers Say Arrivals Not Sufficient.

London, Oct. 5.—A complaint that Canadian cattle were not coming forward in sufficient numbers was made at the annual meeting of the Scottish Federation of Meat Traders' Association in Glasgow. Mr. Welch, president of the Glasgow Flesher's Society, said that that body had helped to secure the removal of the embargo, and the promise was then made that the price of beef to the public would be reduced. That the promise had not been fulfilled was not the fault of the meat traders, because cattle had not come from Canada in the numbers expected or promised. He denied that Glasgow meat retailers were charging higher prices than those quoted in other centres.

BOATS AND BEER TAKEN.

Windsor, Oct. 5.—Two liquor smugglers escaped from a launch off the American shore, yesterday, when they saw the "Flying Dutchman," the flagship of the Detroit river United States federal prohibition fleet, closing in upon them. They jumped from a launch and swam under water for some distance.

The launch was found loaded with twenty-one cases of Canadian beer. Another launch, unoccupied, was found alongside, loaded with twenty-one cases of beer. Seven other cases were found on the shore. Books must follow sciences, and not sciences books.

PLAN TO FRUSTRATE ATTEMPT AT RESCUE

Sydney Murrell Will Be Strongly Guarded at Trial in London.

London, Oct. 5.—On October 15th, Sydney Murrell will be arraigned at the assizes here before Justice Wright, charged with the murder of Russell Campbell at Melbourne in April of 1921, John Williams, also known as "Slim," who was with Murrell when the killing took place, is to be brought back from Portsmouth penitentiary to stand trial also. It is stated that J. M. Donahue, who is acting for Murrell, will also defend Williams.

The authorities of the Middlesex county jail are making extraordinary preparations to frustrate any attempt at rescue of Murrell by his friends. When the trial opens, the prisoner will be brought to the courtroom by an underground passage instead of through the corridor, as has been the custom for some years.
