New Method Of Reducing Fat

A news item from abroad informs us that the American method of producing a slim, trim figure is meeting with astonishing success. This system, which has made such a wonderful impression over there, must be the Marmola Prescription Tablet method of reducing fat. It is safe to say that we have nothing better for this purpose in this country. Anything that will reduce excess flesh steadily and easily without injury to the stomach or the help of saccharine, dieting or absurd groases is a mighty important and useful addition to civilization's necessities. Just such a catalogue of good results follow the use of these pleasant, diuretic, we say economical because accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription Tablets (made in France) can be obtained of any druggist the world over or from the Marmola Company, 4613 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., for one dollar a case, which is a decidedly economical price, considering the number of tablets each case contains. They are harmless.

HOME AND SCHOOL CLUB.

Of Central School Holds a Very Interesting Meeting.

The first meeting of the Home and School Club of Central school was held in the school, Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, at 8 p.m. The president, Rev. Dr. Lennon, made a few opening remarks, in which he told of the good work accomplished by this club in previous years, and hoped that this year would be as successful. The new business for the coming year was then discussed. As Dr. Lennon was not able to assume the office of president again, owing to other duties, Capt. H. Law was elected president. Dr. Lennon taking the place of vice-president. It was decided to hold a tea and sale in the school towards the last of October.

Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson of Cooke's church then addressed the gathering. He spoke on "Education" and in a humorous strain told of how the child retained in his mind the treatment of his childish ideas. He also pointed out the need of parents and teachers having sympathy with the child. He emphasized the value of music in the schools, and also spoke of the great value of the playgrounds.

Solos were sung by Miss Margaret Phillips, teacher in training in the Model School, and H. Hill, supervisor of music in the public schools. Mr. Hill also acted as accompanist for the sing-song conducted by the model students.

W. M. Campbell, chairman of the board of education, then addressed the meeting. In his interesting way he spoke of how the Kingston Board appreciated the work of the Home and School Clubs, and how they tried to co-operate with the petitions of clubs as far as possible. Refreshments were served by the social committee, of which Mrs. Ryan is convener.

At Cataraqui, on Oct. 4th, Rev. Canon Smith united in marriage Margaret Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robson, and George Leo, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cadotte, Westbrook. The bride wore a travelling suit of navy blue tulle and carried a bouquet of opheelia roses. They were united after the ceremony dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, where a few immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present. The happy couple left on the steamer Waube with their motor car for Rochester and other points in the United States. On their return they will reside at Westbrook, where the groom is a prominent farmer.

Peaches Grown in Kingston. Dr. R. E. Sparks, Johnson street, left at the Whig one of three peaches grown in his garden from a seedling that grew from a stone thrown into the soil some years ago. The peach is well-developed and has the taste of a peach, but without the luscious flavor of those grown elsewhere. Dr. Sparks has been watching the growth of the peach since early spring when the twig blossomed. Three peaches were grown.

Russian Caps. Newest boudoir caps show a Russian influence, with an upstanding frame of tiny ruffles of Valenciennes lace.

White Sauce. When making white sauce if the sauce becomes lumpy a little cold water and a little more energy in stirring it will remedy all defects.

WRAPS FOR DAY AND EVENING

Very Simple in Design; They Fall Straight From The Shoulders.

By Annette Bradshaw.

Coats follow the straight, perfectly simple line. Gone is the barrel model of last season. The correct way of wearing a wrap is no more the way of drawing it in tight to the figure so that it shows every curve. It is allowed to fall straight and sheer from the shoulders. These two models stress the utter simplicity of wraps both for day and evening. The day coat, at the left, is made of a beautiful novelty imported material in lacquer red with flecks or orange through it. The lynx collar blends perfectly with the colors of the coat. The velvet wrap for evening is straight, too, with folds of the material making the deep collar. They fold upward, the flesh crepe de Chine, which lines each fold, casting a becoming glow over the wearer's face. The wrap itself is lined in flesh crepe de Chine, an interlining furnishing sufficient warmth for Winter evenings.

Linings, this season furnish some of the variety that coat silhouettes fail to give. When the wraps are so utterly simple, linings have a way of introducing shirring and puffs and contrasting bands of color by way of a little variety.

GOOD MANNERS ARE A VALUABLE ASSET

Your Morals Are Your Own, But Your Manners Belong to the Public.

A very wise man once said your morals are your own, but your manners belong to the public. And because of this good manners are an asset of untold value.

Few people are consciously vulgar or unkind, but so often an impression of crudity and rudeness is given simply because they are in ignorance of the right thing to do or say.

There are certain expressions and words which while not always ungrammatical quickly reveal an uncultivated person. One of the most common is the use of yeh instead of yes; another which unfortunately is heard many times a day is don't for does not. One never says "she don't" but always "she does not."

Between "you and I" is often heard and is used frequently by people of good education. This, however, does not mean that it is correct. Instead one should say between "you and me". "She is a very handsome lady" or "he is a nice looking gentleman" quickly betrays a lack of culture. When the sex only is to be indicated one always uses the words woman and man.

An Englishman once said, why do Americans always say "I am through" when they mean they have finished. And one wonders why it is so incorrect.

An unfulfilling rule that is well to remember is, never substitute the word party for person, and another equally important rule is, always refer to a person by name, never "he" or "she."

Women who are apparently well bred so often designate their husbands as Mr. S. without realizing that they have committed a social faux pas. If the person addressed is a friend one speaks of one's husband by his first name. At any other times it is more correct simply to refer to him as "my husband."

Chicken Garnish. A good garnish for baked chicken is alternate slices of lemon and small sections of fried bread.

Mackey's Whole Wheat Bread. From the Wheat Fields to You. Mackey's Whole Wheat Bread is the real bone and muscle building, rich in all the qualities that growing children need. A thick slice with plenty of good butter is a meal in itself. For grown people, too, it makes digestion wait on appetite and health on both. Why not try it to-day? Mackey's Bread Ltd. PHONE 834. TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE BY GENEVIEVE KEMBLE. SUNDAY AND MONDAY, OCTOBER 7-8. Sunday's horoscope points to a rather commonplace day with matters running in customary grooves. It is suggested that the family's health be made a matter of consideration. It may be a good day for attending to personal correspondence, literary pursuits or reading.

Renewing Complexions At Home By Absorption. If your complexion is marred by sallowness, mottledness, or such blemishes as liver spots, moth patches, pimples, freckles, it's useless to putter with powders and paints, jellies, creams and things, if you really want to get rid of the condition. The rational way is to take on the complexion itself, with all its offensive marks. Just get an ounce of pure mercurized wax at the druggist's and use at night same as cold cream. Remove next morning with water and soap. The mercurized wax actually absorbs the affected scurf skin, so gradually no one guesses you are treating your face—unless it be by the result, which is truly wonderful. There's nothing like it for restoring a natural, healthy and beautiful complexion.
