CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle Ray

Bakers and Trading
 Roman ladies of the richer class were able to walk along one particular street and buy almost any trinket or piece of finery their hearts might desire. Fans made from peacock feathers, ear-rings or gold or silver, and ivory dice were among the articles on display.
 Trading was done at little shops which lined either side of the street, making it narrower than ever. The shops were more like booths than stores. The front was open, except, sometimes, for linen curtains which did not hide very much of what was for sale.
 Some of the shop-keepers were slaves placed there by masters who wanted to gain more and more riches. Others were so-called "free-men," who were in business for themselves. There were so many persons trying to sell things that few made more than a bare living.
 A record shows that at one time there were 254 bakery shops in Rome. A scene at such a shop is pictured. A man is buying a loaf of bread. Notice what a queer shape the bread had. (It wasn't queer to the Romans, of course—they would have thought our loaves queer).
 Another picture shows a baker shoveling bread dough into an oven. That must have been hot work. The man wears hardly any clothing. He was doubtless a slave.
 One of the cruellest things about the lives of slaves was that they were not supposed to have wives or children. All day long they had to do such hard work as this baker, but there was not even the reward of family life, (unless they married in secret, which often happened.)
 Next—Cross-Bows and Battering Rams.

How bread was bought in Roman days.

A baker is here seen putting bread in a large oven.

ADVOCATES TOLL GATES TO STOP BOOTLEGGERS

And Also Car Thieves—What Highway Superintendent Would Have.

Oswego, N.Y., Oct. 16.—Predicting that in the near future, toll-gates will be established at various points along the improved highways of the state, and at bridgeheads, County Superintendent of Highways E. A. Howard believes that by measures such as these, bootlegging on the highways will be broken up, and stolen cars and reckless drivers checked.

Mr. Howard said that he had been giving considerable thought to a system which would render the highways safe for tourists and travelers, and believes that the toll-gate proposition is the only one which is feasible, and which will in any way check the indiscriminate and criminal use of the highways.

Bootleggers, once they get within the confines of the state, drive at chain lightning speed on well traveled roads at night, and by day, traveling to speed to cover so much territory that pursuit will be distanced, and choosing routes on which no guard has been established. They run little chances from detection, and even if a convoy of bootlegging automobiles and trucks is noted near the border, by the time prohibition forces may be assembled, the vehicles are lost on the maze of highways towards their destination. With toll gates, and a central distributing centre on information, it would be comparatively simple, Mr. Howard believes, to send out a message throughout the state and halt the progress of any car wanted. A similar scheme could be followed in tracing automobiles and in following on the trail of reckless drivers who run away after accidents.

Automobilists and tourists would, of course, strenuously object, Mr. Howard states, but after the system had been put into operation and wild and reckless driving checked by toll gates, the revenues of the state would be increased and it would be safe for pedestrians and automobilists alike, and the best interests of the public served.

Gifts For Bride-to-Be.

Pictou, Oct. 16.—On Saturday afternoon Mrs. I. Woods and Miss Bernice Woods gave a shower party for Miss Vera Branscombe. The bride-to-be was presented with silver knives and forks by the assembled guests.

On Sunday afternoon Mrs. C. B. Allison and her daughter, Mrs. J. Bolton, Montreal, entertained at tea for Miss Vera Branscombe.

On Saturday afternoon the Pictou Collegiate baseball team played the Deeronto High School in Pictou. The score was 9 to 2 in favor of the home team.

Fumes Disastrous.

Prescott, Oct. 16.—Allison Stephenson, general merchant, of Charleville, situated about six or seven miles from Prescott, was painfully burned about the face and hands when drawing gasoline from a tank on his farm by the light of a lantern. The lantern ignited the gasoline, and the flames spread rapidly to a nearby barn.

In endeavoring to save articles in the immediate vicinity Mr. Stephenson was badly burned.

MINE SHOWING UP WELL.

It Is Down Quite Deep and Has Twelve Drifts.

Northbrook, Oct. 15.—Pathmasters should see that all bad places are fixed before the hunting season and thus save any expense for damage of cars to the township. At the present a number of bridges need attention. It is a great help to the public since H. Leveir, our veteran and accommodating stage driver put on a truck.

Mont Wood returned from Napanee with a car. The Meeks of Cloyne were as fortunate as usual at the shooting match at Bridgewater returning with two yearlings and twenty-three chickens. The third yearling was won by the noted baker, William Arbor, Tweed. Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Smith have moved to William Toboe's farm near Flinton and will be missed in the vicinity in many ways.

Mr. Elsworth, Madoc, spent last week surveying in Wolfe Lake district for the Ore Chimney Mining Co. They are erecting a large dam there which will assure abundance of water at all times for their power plant. Levi Snyder visited his daughter, Mrs. Frank Lloyd, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Parks of Elm Tree, have moved to this vicinity.

Judge Madden and J. L. Lloyd held court at Denbigh, Thursday. Mrs. Monjin sold her household furniture to Mr. J. Both and will be leaving for Chicago where she will reside in future. Mr. and Mrs. William Both and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wood spent Sunday at Mrs. R. Robinson, Queensboro. Frank Peterson and Ernest Vanness are moving to Bancroft for the winter to catch foxes which are numerous in that district. The Petersons caught over one hundred last winter.

C. C. Thompson's new gasoline signs are conspicuous to the motoring public. Mr. William Kehoe motored to Kingston, Sunday, and brought Mrs. Kehoe home from the Hotel Dieu where she underwent a successful operation. Same Both broke all records when he motored from the Ore Chimney Mines to Kingston, a distance of sixty-eight miles, in two hours and twenty minutes.

Teachers attending convention at Sharbot Lake were well pleased and benefitted by the programme this year. The Ore Chimney Mine is over four hundred and fifty feet down and has twelve long drifts, all showing exceptionally rich ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lloyd were Sunday visitors at E. Cumming's. Miss Lillian Atkins is visiting Toronto friends. Ira Forbes is again on his farm and we welcome old neighbors.

Hold-up In Port Hope.

Port Hope, Oct. 16.—A man named Mitchell entered the Ontario House yesterday, threatened the proprietor with a revolver and as a result of the hold-up secured a sum of $25. The man then commandeered a car and compelled the driver to convey him to Howard's farm, on the Peterboro road. Chief of Police Brown quickly followed, and found Mitchell in a house. He fired at him through the door and the man fled through a back window and made for the bush. Provincial police are hot on his trail.

Automobiles For Australia.

Montreal, Oct. 16.—Carrying $1,500,000 worth of automobiles from Canada to Australia, the Canadian Challenger, one of the ships of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, is in port at Sydney, taking on shipments and steel products preparatory to setting out on the long voyage to the Pacific. The Canadian Challenger loaded the automobiles at Montreal.

If you take off your hat to the devil on week days he will not care, how much you worship the Lord on Sunday.

AUTUMN MEANS NEW CLOTHES

WHAT WILL THEY COST? HOW WILL THEY LOOK?

There's solid satisfaction in answering these questions for the woman who makes her own clothes.

They will look—these smart, new garments—just as she wants them to look down to the smallest detail of trimming.

They will cost—a whole new supply of pretty things—no more than she wants to spend.

All because she makes them herself according to just the designs and with just the fabrics she chooses—and she makes them successfully because she uses the McCALL PRINTED PATTERN—so marvellously simple that sewing becomes a pleasure, and so modish that the styles of New York and Paris are every woman's for the taking.

The new Autumn styles are on display in the Pattern department. The new McCall Magazine is here and contains a wealth of beautiful styles and the latest fiction.

Match the Material to your new Style!

Brocades and Chiffon Velvets for evening, Twill Cords and Tricotine for daytime wear—and many, many other fashionable fabrics are waiting for your inspection in our Dress Goods and Silk sections.

McCall Printed Pattern 3362

A wide choice of styles and a wide choice of fabrics—but no need of choice between patterns since the McCALL PRINTED PATTERN is the one that well dressed women inevitably use.

McCALL PATTERNS

- are simple to use.
- are most accurate,
- and fashionable in their styles.
