THE POLICE UNEARTH A 1,000-GALLON STILL

Most Important Seizure in Hastings County Annals Made Saturday.

Belleville, Oct. 16 .- At the end of a path in the thick woods on the farm of Joseph Chappelle, north of Tweed in the township of Hungerford, was found on Saturday afternoon one of the Jargest stills ever discoverot in the county of Hastings. Fifteen gallons a day of October distillation is the estimated capacity of the still.

It was in full swing and steaming; everything was hot and the still was operating when Inspector Walter Exley of Napanee and Provincial Constable H. E. Thompson came upon the scene. The authorities had been suspicious for some time and were prepared to surprise the plant. They did, for nobody was near when they arrived, although a boy dropped in apparently to stoke up the fire a bit.

One thousand gallons of mash was found and destroyed by the officers. It was contained in nineteen oak barrels of fifty gallons capacity, and there was thirty gallons of water. Old mash which had been discarded was spread over a pasture field. The material used for the "home brew" was of the best, corn, wheat, and so forth. There was one hundred pounds of sugar stored nearby.

While the officers were there the plant, which was a double-jointed affair, went on its work and made a gallon of the distillation. Quite a large quantity of liquor was found and it is sall to have been of a good

REPUBLICANS STILL ACTIVE IN IRELAND

The Ard Fheis Organization Almost Entirely Hostile to Free State.

Dublin, Oct. 16 .- Labor and financial questions have recently overshadowed the political trouble with the republicans, but this trouble is not at an end. The republicans discount the release from prison by saying that the government statistics of the releases are illusory, adding:

"In many cases the new arrests exceed the number of those released, and the overcrowding of the prisons is greater than before."

The republicans now are concen trating on the Ard Pheis, or general assembly of Sinn / Fein organizations, which is announced for October 16th. The Ard Fneis met last May when an arrangement was reached governing the elections.

Subsequent events, including the fighting, have altogether changed the situation, and the organization now represents almost entirely republicans hostile to the Free State. It is stated that the Ard Fheis will be at tended by 1,500 delegates representing 750 Sinn Fein clubs throughout Ireland.

Author and Publicist Makes Charge of "Political Mishandling" by England.

New York, Oct, 16 .- The forces of Israel must mobilize against another war and rather than "throw a match into such a powder factory as the globe has become," forego their political hopes in Palestine, it was declared last night by Israel Zangwill, son. Mrs. C. Diamond, who receiv-Jewish author and publicist spoke before the American Jewish | ported to the treasurer the sum of Congress in Carnegie Hall. He arrived from England recently.

"There was a moment when a Jew ish state might have arisen in Palestine," he said, "but the hour of des-

Mr. Zangwill asserted that the recent Carlsbad Congress had been too late with its protests against the fact that not even "state lands and waste lands had been allotted to the Zionists and that the Jews were not to be given the right to control their own immigration in Palestine.

"Politics is the realm of might," he said, "but Zionism can only rely upon as much of England's might as suits the policy of England, and since the Zionists are ready to accept any conditions, however, humiliating, however impractical, it is clear that only a minimum of might will be at the disposal of the Jewish home, and that mainly in the British
