

Published Daily and Semi-Weekly by THE BRITISH WHIG PUBLISHING CO., LIMITED

TELEPHONE Private Exchange, connecting all departments 243 SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

year in city

Semi-Weekly Edition) year, by mail, cash$1.50 year, to United States$2.00 OUT-OF-TOWN REPRESENTATIVES: Calder, 22 St. John St., Montreal

Letters to the Editor are published only over the actual name of the writer. Attached is one of the best job printing offices in Canada.

The circulation of THE BRITISH WHIG is authenticated by the ABO Audit Bureau of Circulations

What humanity seems to need chiefly is a lower gear ratio.

for a rainy day is rheumatism. Fool law: One that interfere

The most that some men lay u with your pet graft or pet vice. The Angora cabinet has resigned

The Turks are taking to European

It isn't the rattled sword that menaces the world now, but the rattled football team which didn't expect to be beaten is licked.

A debacle is what it is when

The hunting season for small game is open now, but Leap Year doesn't begin until Jan. 1st.

One place where the irresistible force does not meet the immovable body is at the railway crossing.

Just because Italy is shaped like a boot, Mussolini mustn't get the notion that nobody will kick ft.

Nothing else so encourages swell head as the privilege of showing of before a wife who hasn't much sense.

Another reason for divorce. surmise, is a dish of cereal and vase of flowers on the modern breakfast table.

The reason a few people "run the church" is because nobudy else is willing to do so much work for nothing.

A Detroit scientist says reckless drivers are feeble-minded, and we had no idea idiocy was so nearly uni-

Pathos and humor are much the same. It all depends on whether the sore thumb is on your hand or the other fellow's

Any man can feel important when dressed in glad raimant, but only the great can feel that way while looking sloppy.

Matrimony has its little draw backs, but it offers people a unique opportunity to get acquainted with one another.

When Old Dobbin went whizzing by, he was feeling his oats. When a modern driver goes whizzing by, he is feeling his rye.

If you could sell oil stock to every man of your acquaintance, that's reputation; if you don't do it, that's

- As we understand the economists, the cost of living will not become ess until there is some falling off House of Commons. He believed in the demand.

The Turks don't yet know what real republic is. Wait until their le gislators begin to think up ources of revenue.

Nothing works out right. By the oking rather shabby and no longer s the neighbors.

to go to Sunday school last Sunday," would be in the hands of a perman- tional adolescence where carnage is said he, "but the church was packed ent central executive, selected beand I couldn't get a seat."

see that a revolt against democracy the people voted in electing their is already in being all over the representatives. The representaworld," says Dean Inge, the most tives themselves would represent no leaders in thought. Not for nothing is he known far and wide have a genius for pricking ordinary elected by classes, and they would easygoing mortals with uncomfort- co-operate in putting into effect such able truths or what appear to be legislation as would be favourable to truths-of which the said mortals all the classes in the country. would much rather remain oblivious.

In this case, evidence in support of his statement is only too plentiful. All through the twilit countries able to secure only such legislation of Europe are dictatorships, halfveiled or open. It was a pair of dictators whom Russia followed blindly into the abyss and whose dictatorial successors are now feeling their way back to surer footing, Poland, too, is said to be hankering after an all-powerful leader. In hours of crisis the Socialist government of Germany touches a button and presto! a dictator's strong hand deals with the Separatists or .er.se other native trouble-makers. And Italy fairly basks under the heel her "tyrant," for Mussalini, the dictator, is the most representative man at the head of any European country to-day. The Socialists and even many of the Radicals who year ago were flying before regiments of "Black Skirts" are now his supporters. For he has brought in a strong, capable government that has effected many of the reforms which they had long demanded in

Is then Democracy, inwhich we have put our trust, doomed to the way of other outworn forms of government? It hardly seems likely. In times past the quarrel has frequently been not with the wise dictator but with his incapable succesthese endless ups and downs that ter times, would be scorned and cast business centre.

ON COMING BACK.

The little boy who kept hitting his enquiry that he did it because it felt so good when he stopped. The little boy had the true philosophy of a vacationist.

About once a year we get a yearning to go away from wherever are, to be different, to get out of our chosen path of life; and after much preparation and worry about where and how and when to go, we make the break and are gone. And we are only away a little while when we begin to get restless; we have a new yearning; this time it is to get back, back to the comfortable routine of the years, back to the cozy bed with just the right size pillow, back to the easy chair. back to the little nook in the scheme of things as they are; away from the half-cooked yet burnt food of the woods, away from the mosquitoes of the summer cottage away from the knock-head nudity of the beaches.

We have a feeling away down in the deep, dim recesses of our sou that it's not the going away that helps; it's the coming back.

A VISIONARY M.P.

Some visionary ideas for the go crnment of Canada are being put forward by Rev. William Irvine. M.P. for Calgary, who is at present making a lecture tour of Ontario. Mr. Irvine is not satisfied with the present form of government. It was useful enough at one time in the history of the country, he says, but it has outlived its usefulness and but the tool of the monied classes. As Mr. Irvine is a labour member of the most advanced type, this is only what he might be expected to say. He goes on, however, to further criticize the party form of govern ment by intimating that the two main parties are exactly alike political economy, in practical legislation, moral qualities and intellectuality, and that, being under the control of the monied interests, they do not have much consideration for the other classes throughout the While seeking a solution for th condition of affairs which he sees in Canada, Mr. Irvine is not greatly enamoured of the idea of a' third party. This, he says, puts a small clique in a position to dominate the policy of the government, and he be lieves that this is wrong, although he sits with the Progressives in the that the group system, with six or eight small groups in the parliament of the day, would be an improvement on the system whereby a third party can hold the two main parties by the throat and force compliance with their demands. The big idea in his mind, however, is one of a system of what he calls used to be frowned upon severely .co-operative governments. He fav- | Cincinnati Enquirer. ours a system in which there would be no government party and no opposition party. The conduct of the Correct this sentence: "I meant affairs of the nation, under his plan. cause of outstanding ability to serve | Parkman.

DEMOCRACY IN THE DISCARD? for an indefinite period, and to be "A man must be very blind not to maintained in office no matter how oracular and unblinking of English parties nor political creeds. They would simply be the representatives of the classes which elected them. "The Gloomy Dean." He seems to for Mr. Irvine wants to have them eliminating the government part and the opposition party, Mr. Irvine is of the opinion that he would be > as would be received favourably by all the people. This plan is one which sounds like a good one on the surface, although evidently Utopian. It does away with all thought of government responsibility, and would bring into effect a gathering of a motley body of representatives, each with his different ideas, without leadership, and without cohesion. It may be a good principle in theory, his theory of cooperative government, but in these days when governments have to bear heavy responsibilities, it is hardly feasible. At the best, it is a dream of a visionary, who is seeing so far in advance of his own time that he cannot see present day conditions, and it is not likely that the dream will ever come true, unless it be in GOOD ROADS AS ADVERTISED. The cost of building and maintaining good roads seems so great that many taxpayers are inclined to lie go down and say they simply cannot be afforded. Yet before taking that attitude, it is well to reflect on the returns that a good road brings. The news that a certain city or district has good roads spreads for sors, and it was partly to avoid many miles around. Motorists drive that way when out for pleasure, or the democratic form of government will go in that direction when seekwas evolved. But now, in the world's ing a trade centre. They will go sickness, quacks and doctors are many miles out of their way if they run after and endured who, in bet- can find a good road into some

The convenience and comfort of a good road is thus a magnet that draws trade and business, that spreads prosperity into the surroundhead with a hammer explained on ling country. It makes a city seem a live one. The streets in its business centre are well filled with visitors, which a city with poor outlying roads finds visitors going elsewhere. It costs something to solve the good roads problem, but it costs more not

MORE PEOPLE COMING.

The figures for immigration into Canada for the first nine months of 1923 are such as to give the government and the people of this country much cause for satisfaction. When the Liberals came into power, one of their election planks was to take such measures as might be necessary to increase the number of people seeking to find a new home in Canada. It took time to build up a policy which would accomplish this, but they have been successful and in less than two years from the time they took office.

The figures just issued show that during the first nine months of this year fifty per cent. more immigrants settled in Canada than during the whole year of 1922. The total number of new arrivals in this country up to the end of September was 106,000, while during the whole of 1922 only 74,000 immigrants entered Canada. That the improvement was a constant one, and did not fall off as time went on, is shown by the fact that the months of August and September showed the greatest increases of the nine months under review over the figures for the pre-

Another matter which gives cause for satisfaction is found in the fact that the proportion of immigrants from the British Isles is steadily growing, and is taking the foremost place in the sum total. Of all the settlers to come to Canada, half were from the British Isles, and the remainder were divided between the United States and all the other countries of the world. There was an increase of 133 per cent, in the number of British immigrants, to enter Canada, and this figure, also, is showing a consistent rise. The immigration department the government is to be complimented on this splendid result of its ef forts. It is making good the undertakings given in 1921, and is bringing to this country an increasing number of settlers of the right type. Canada needs such settlers. and the more numerous they be come, the more prosperous will this country grow as the years go by.

Where Prohibition Pays. Ohio's prohibition director asserts prohibition is a paying proposition, as the bootleggers produce much revenue for the State. The me argument for the old-fashioned saloons

On the obscure strife where men tions of as deep import for posterity ity and ancient glory. as on those mighty contests of nareckoned by thousands .- Francis

Looking Backward.

as suspected to be hiding.

Not only does this contravene the teaching of Scripture, and exhortation of the makers of verse, but it must play havoc with the plans that many an ancient potentate made for his resurrection. These venerable rulers, who entered the Undiscovered Country thousands of years ago, parting with their friends in the serene conviction that when the signal come, they woud awake again in their old home towns, will discover that something untoward has happened, when they awake in a glass case surrounded by the craning necks and peering eyes of a museum throng, extraordinary in appearance, and irreverent to a degree. The shock will surely send them back to slumberland, this time

Canada seems to be keeping away from the eminent, though remotely, departed. The Dominion is after live people, and would like to add several millions of these to her population immediately. But England is already back on the job at King Tut's tomb. She merely got out the furniture: now she is after His Majesty himself. She has had a peep at the box he is probably in, through a hole Lord Carnarvon made before the fatal bug bit him, and the heat of the Egyptian summer did the

Many Students Labor. The heat has gone now, and in his lordship's stead Howard Carter is working at the hole, and expects soon to have the coffin of the king of such unusual posthumous out where the archaeologists can pry it open. The gentlemen do not doubt that they will soon have much knowledge of the funeral etiquette early Egyptian royality, which now quotations at 60,000,000 to the Canadian cent, will be most helpful As soon as the world has mastered the prescriptions for burying Egyptian kings three thousand years ago, it may take a look at the House of Nuns that Dr. Morley has found in Yucatan. None of the nuns has been seen on the premises in approximately 15,000 years, but their coops on the hillside are interesting. Some say the nuns came from Atlantis, a place now inhabited entirely by fish. Tut or other similarly remote poes, beneath the ocean that separates Europe from America

The Carnegie Institution and the Smithsonian Institute, both of Washington, are studying problems bearing on this question. The case for Atlantis is good, according to reports or rumours of the results of the investigations, while the Mexiten years of exploration work.

One of Japan's great students, Dr. farewell to progress. Count Otani Kozui, F.R.G.S., Lord Abbot of Nishi Hon-gwan-ji, the Monastery of the Original Vow, is prospecting along the route that Buddhism took during its progress from Ceylon to Dai Nippon. He has been over this route several times, and regards his finds as of much value to Buddhists the world over. Incidentally, the count has established seven missions for the propagation of his faith along the western shore of the Pacific. The crown prince of Sweden busy in Greece. He is at the site of Argos, famous since the days of the gods, not far from Corinth. He may discover who the divinities of Greek mythology really were. Heroes became deities in distant days, as all religions indicate.

The Italian government, with the permission of Mussolini, is digging up new data which is nearly 2,000 years old, near Naples. Pompeii and Herculanium, buried together under the ashes of Vesuvius, near the end of the first century of this era, are being restored, even to their floral

Cambridge University has sent several scientists to New Mexico to find out who lived there 10,000 years part of the earth's crust, some millions of years earlier-the only dent of its kind in captivity, and as interesting as a miracle to talk about. Other Englishmen are considering Ur, where Abraham went occassionally for the week end, or longer. He liked the place. It was a considerable town in his day, and had temple in honor of the Moon, which to take care of its own share and was as popular as the cinema is to- part of that of the skin, kidneys day, and took in much money as and lungs. well as persons.

Nubia is to receive attention too. It lies along the Nile, between the been sitting so much that your liv-Red Sea and the "Garden of Allah," er gets lazy and likewise the intesthe great desert. The Boston Mus- tine. You do nothing to stimulate en collars and cuffs, and monograms eum of Fine Arts and Harvard Un- action on their part. iversity are busy in this part of Africa. They will make excavations ting rid of weste get behind with round the Great Pyramids at Gizeh, their job, and you feel heavy and with the idea of getting more clogged. information as to the builders died by teny or by scores hung ques- these astonishing exhibitions of van-

> Restless Curiosity. Professor Erman, of Heidleberg. is compiling a dictionary of hiero-

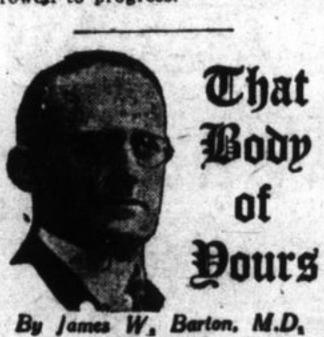

Clarence Ludiow Brownell, M.A. Fellow Royal Geographical Society, London, England.

The admonition "let the dead bury the dead," which one reads in poesy and in Holy Writ. receives honor in the breach to-day. Such countries as Japan, and Sweeden, United States, Mexico, several separate states of the American Republic, France, England, Greece, and even bankrupt Germany are as busy as may be with the oldest obtainable dead, wherever these are so much glyphics. It is a catalogue of all glyphs known to date, with sentences wherever possible, showing the use of the particular glyph. Professor Breastead, of the University of Chicago, is at work on Egyptian "coffin literature," prayers and inthat the German mark appears cantations that accompany burial caskets. Probably a dozen others are now making considerable efforts learn what kings and others did in the distant days, so long gone by that man's memory recalls nothing whatever concerning them. The layman may disapprove the millions of dollars that this sort of enquiry costs annually. He does not care tuppence for the latest news of King tentales whom he believes to be permanently dead. He has no time even to listen. But it is well that there are men who value other rewards money: men who will concentrate their splendid talents on reading the past, for, from the past we learn can government has leased the area tion, and because of this can venof Maya ruins, including the hillside ture guesses as to what is to come. holes, to the Carnegie Institution for The curiosity of intelligent minds never rests. Resting would

By the Sweat of Your Brow. I know that I talk a great deal about the necessity of having the waste matter from the intestine removed every day. Constipation rs a deadly thing and I believe many of my readers have realized that for

But so many think that the onl method of ridding the body of waste is by the intestine, that I must say once again that it is only one the four methods Nature uses to keep your body, your blood, perfect-

You may remember the others ago, and why. They will also study the perspiration from the skin, urine a dent which a comet made in that from kidneys, and breath from the Now, if you sit down all day wh

Well, the skin doesn't get rid all its share of the waste, the kignevs and lungs likewise do than their share.

What happens?

Well, your poor old intestine has Does it do it? Certainly not, because you have Thus all your processes for get- to size-are most attractive.

Well, away back in the good book you read, "By the sweat of your purpose as moth balls. brow you shall earn your bread." Do you see the idea?.

Big Suit and Overcoat Special

BIBBY'S

To-morrow; we place on sale one hundred and fifty Overcoats and two hundred Suits - Men's and Young Men's models, at-

SUITS

are dandy-good looking-Tweeds and Cheviots-all nicely tailored-Men's and Young Men's style-all good colorings and neat patOVERCOATS are Young Men's Ulsterettes, and Ulsters Chesterfields, etc. all newest models-newest shades-pure wool fabrics.

The Biggest $25.00 Worth Since Pre-War Days.

BIBBY'S

Kingston's Cash and One Price Clothing Store

NEW ISSUE rovince of Untario

> 5% BONDS

Due 15th October, 1948 PRICE 98 AND INTEREST

Γ. J. Lockhart 58 BROCK ST., KINGSTON Phones 322J and 1797J.

read for you, but will make life worth the living. Do you see what happens? You work or exercise that body Immediatey you create heat in the body which burns up the waste products, and they are thrown out by the four methods spoken of above.

Four or five minutes real exercise twice a day is all that is necessary. Your skin perspires and throws off it share, the urine contains waste products within a few minutes after you exercise, and your breath throws them off during the exercise. And your intestine?

Why the liver is squeezed, the intestine massaged, and your intestines, large and small, ctimulated to increase action. Isn't it wonderful when you think about it, that if you simply obey the good book's injuction you are made free from all the ills that come retaining waste matters in the

So, simple, and so effective:

Why the British are Poor. Actually the French people in a better position to pay their war debts than the British, who are making a desperate effort to do so. The chief difference between them that in England the Government has the money and the people haven't. while in France the people have the money and the Government goes short. In other words, the French Government won't tax its people to the extent necessary to make a war debt payment possible. The British Government does. France prefers to wait and get the money first out of Germany, Britain, too, hopes to get the money eventually out of the Germans, but in the meantime starts to pay her own debts. This is the reason why the British Government is in a better position than the French Government and can keep its coinage stable, while the French people have more spending money than the unfortunate British .- Los Angeles Times.

Jersey Popular.

Jersey is one of the most popular materials for every day wear Straight line frocks with white lin--sometimes most overgrown as

A Different Perfume. Whole cloves sprinkled liberally throughout the clothes that are to he packed away will answer the same

"sweat" will not only earn your is called class legislation is not to Beaconsfield

SICK ROOM SUPPLIES

As you want themwhen you want them.

Telephone 343

Prompt and Efficient Service.

Dr. Chown's Drug Store 185 Princess Street. Phone 348

All British Goods

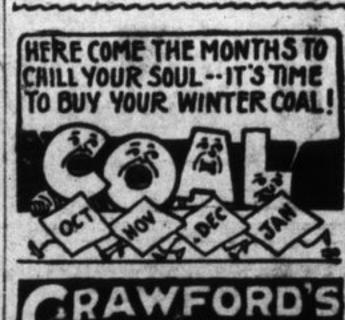

Cheese from New Zealand. Green Turtle Soup . 85c. per tin Green Turtle Meat 55c. per tin (from Jamaica) Large Skinless Codfish

Newfoundland Jas. REDDEN & CO. PHONES 20 and 990.

Hotel Frontenac

"The House of Satisfaction"

Kingston's Leading Hotel Every room has running het and cold water. One-half block from Railway Stations and Steamboat Landings. J. A. HUGHES, AKE A look at the calendar, Turn back two or three or four months and you are apt to turn up your coat collar. You know that cold weather is coming and that it would be a matter of downright sane economy for you to call us on 'he phone and give your order.

QUEEN ST PHONE 9.

The only way to terminate what The simple matter of 'creating in the language of the present day entrust power to classes .- Earl of

Why don't you?