THE MAYOR ENTERTAINS

At a Banquet Held in the Randolph Hotel Friday Evening.

The Mayor's banquet in the Randolph hotel on Friday evening was a most enjoyable event. Mayor Thomas B. Angrove entertained the aldermen, city officials and other representative officials at a dinner to mark the close of his first year in office. There were numerous toasts, and the addresses sparkled with wit and good humor, making the occasion one long to be remembered by everyone present. McAuley and Salsbury's orchestra played throughout the evening. Seated on either side of His Worship were Sir Archibald Macdonell, commandant of the Royal Military College, J. M. Campbell, Dr. A. E. Ross, M.P., H. C. Nickle, public utilities commissioner, W. M. Campbell, chairman of the board of education, Lemman A. Guild, president of the Rotary Club, and Ald. H. N. Robertson.

Dr. W. W. Sands, city clerk, officiated as toastmaster and he was particularly fortunate in his choice of speakers.

Alderman W. F. Peters, proposed the toast to "The Dominion Government" and Dr. A. E. Ross, M.P., responded.

MAYOR T. B. ANGROVE

poned. Dr. Ross said that the spirit in which the Canadian government was being received by the Empire today was a cause for admiration. Premier Mackenzie King is being honored by British universities. Canada has undertaken things that no other part of the Empire has undertaken. He congratulated Kingston upon having so able a man as Mayor Angrove in the chair. It was quite an honor to be mayor of Kingston because of the long line of distinguished men who had filled the office. The year now closing was one of successful administration and he extended his congratulations to Mayor Angrove and the aldermen.

Ald. Howard Kelly proposed the toast to "The Ontario government". W. F. Nickle, K.C., M.P.P., was named to reply but he was unable to be present.

Water and Power Possibilities. "Water and Power Possibilities" was proposed by Ald. F. J. O'Connor and ably responded to by J. M. Campbell who gave a survey of power development in Ontario. The question of waterpower is a pressing one just now, and he told of the visit to Toronto this week by a deputation from Kingston. "It was found," said he, "that our developed waterpower would be utilized to the fullest capacity during the course of the next year, and the municipalities of western Ontario are now taking up this same question. At the present rate of consumption the 600,000 horse power at Chippawa will be entirely used up within the next year. One reason for this is that the power rates are lower than in any other country in the world, and the demand is keeping ahead of supply. In Eastern Ontario we have been a little behind and we have always had an amply supply. When the St. Lawrence development takes place, Eastern Ontario will take the position now held by Niagara. At present the question of jurisdiction over the St. Lawrence is a matter to be settled between the dominion and the province. The possibilities of further development at Niagara are limited by the water supply. The Trent develops 36,000 horse power and there is a surplus of 10,000 horse power yet available, but no more Mr. Campbell said that Quebec has all the power needed there."

The Utilities. "Our Sister Institutions, the Public Utilities" was proposed by Ald. Geo. Laturney who created much amusement when he declared that Section 42 of the act was still in force. He suggested that the commission hand over its hotel to the hotel committee and solve Kingston's hotel problem.

H. C. Nickle responded and dealt with management of the public utilities. He directed attention to the splendid report on water supply recently made by Dr. J. R. Currie. Kingston is free from typhoid for the first time in forty-six years. Dr. Currie showed that our water is better than that in Longbeach Lake.

Ald. Boyd proposed "Our Educational Institutions" and Major General Macdonell and W. M. Campbell responded. Lemman A. Guild proposed the toast to "The Municipality" and eloquently referred to the splendid past of the city. "We are prone to look back rather than forward to the building of a better city," said he.

The Mayor. Mayor Angrove received hearty applause when he rose to respond. "No one can be elected to the office of mayor without feeling the honor very much," said he. "There have been some very fine links in the chain of mayors and I fear that I have been a weak one, but we got along very well."

It was possible there were some things to criticise, but he was glad to know that Kingston was to get more power.

The toast to "The Press," proposed by Ald. P. B. Chown, was responded to by J. R. Forster of the Whig, and F. Beaudry of the Standard.

Ald. H. N. Robertson proposed a toast to the ladies and William H. Newlands and Howard Dick responded.

Bubble Machine at Anderson's It is well worth while visiting Anderson Bros' store at the corner of Princess and Division streets, and seeing one million bubbles being made in a minute. The machine, which is doing the work, is simply wonderful. In the bowl at the base of the machine, a cake of Fairy soap has been cut up and a continuous flow of bubbles is pouring out all the time the machine is in motion. When this exhibition was shown in Toronto a short time ago, thousands of people visited the store for the purpose of seeing the much-talked-of million bubbles and were certainly not disappointed. In connection with the exhibit there are a number of special offers for soap, which were advertised in Friday's Whig.

IN MARINE CIRCLES

The steamer Dardenella is loading for her last trip up the Rideau river this season.

The steamer Brockville made a trip to Picton and return on Friday.

The steamer Britannic arrived from Montreal with package freight Friday afternoon and cleared on Saturday.

Salvation Army Event.

Ensign H. Porter, territorial organizer of the Life Saving Scouts, arrived in the city on Friday. He has worked at Headquarters in connection with the young peoples' work for the past six years. Guards and Scouts, of the local corps arranged a welcome tea in the drill hall when about fifty sat down. Ensign Boshier introduced the organizer, and Guard Leader, Mrs. Sharp, and Scout Leader, Alec McBride, also Brother Walker, spoke before the organizer addressed the boys and girls. A leader's meeting was held afterwards at which several of the local men were placed in executive positions in the new troop.
