UNITY SPIRIT IS STRESSED

(Continued from page 1). Mr. Elliott gave an illustration of the manner in which members of the Belleville chamber of commerce boosted Belleville cheese by insisting upon getting it in Toronto hotels. As a result the Queen's hotel in Toronto uses three hundred pounds of Belleville cheese per month, and Belleville cheese is on the menu. He also showed how the Belleville chamber of commerce acting through the associated boards of trade, got the government to supply ice to lake vessels and railways carrying cheese to Montreal. They also got a reduction in the tax on cheese. "We can get you anything if we go after it," said he, "for no government can afford to ignore the opinion of the associated boards of trade. We can also influence the British Government through the Imperial Association. There are many things in which the board of trade can be useful and in Belleville we do much by co-operation with the mayor and council. We want the farmers with us. If the board of trade can get industries for the city, does it not make better markets for the farmer? Canadian clubs, too, deserve the attention of the farmer for in them he will get a literary treat. We get the county council to attend the Canadian club in Belleville. We must let the farmers know that we are going to be of benefit to them before we get them in."

Export Possibilities. Mr. Elliott directed attention to the great markets in England, where 1,079,000,000 pounds of beef were imported last year, but Canada supplied a very small proportion of it. There was 1,033,000,000 pounds of pork imported but here Canada also was not meeting her opportunities. "Our farmers have a great field to develop in the beef and hog industry. There is a movement now on foot at the present time to bring British immigrants to Canada and we are going to get a better class than ever before. Of 98,000 immigrants leaving Britain last year only 42,000 came to Canada. "There has been uneasiness in regard to banking and a falling off of $40,000,000 in deposits, but let me say that no country in the world today has a better banking system than Canada. There is not a bank in Kingston today in which there is the remotest possibility of losing one dollar. When disquieting reports go about it should be your duty to oppose them. If a bank goes to the wall, it is the borrower that suffers as he finds it difficult to get his account carried by other banks. In the United States in three years there were 471 bank failures as against one in Canada. We want to develop western Canada, and they ask for another bank, but where would they get the capital and the deposits? The east has loaned to the west, $475,000,000 representing $135,000,000 more than they have on deposit, and all from Ontario and Quebec.

Canada's Prosperity. There is no country in the world more prosperous than Canada. It is the gem of the British Empire. There were last year deposits of $1,196,000,000 and these have increased to $1,985,000,000 this year. This shows the stability of Canada in an unmistakable way. In 1911 there was not one dollar of government loans placed in Canada but today there is $4 held in Canada as against $1 held in the United States and Britain. Trade is increasing by leaps and bounds.

The speaker quoted trade figures showing an increase in exports during the last year of from $1,511,000,000 to $1,892,000,000 and a balance in trade to our advantage of $110,000,000. He regretted that there was a decrease in the production of cheese. He thought the remedy was to be found in more help for our farmers. "When the gold and silver of Cobalt is forgotten our farms will still be adding to the national wealth," said he. He thought it was a mistake to send people away past the great clay belt of northern Ontario capable of sustaining a great population and increasing our wealth. "But of all our resources coal is one that exceeds the deposits of any other country. Alberta is now supplying 95 per cent. of the consumption of Manitoba. The deposits represent 21 per cent. of the reserves of North America, 37 per cent. of Canada and 72 per cent. of the British Empire. Our wheat, fisheries and forests are in proportion, but we don't realize what we have in Canada. The value of our field crops rose from $194,000,000 in 1901 to $321,000,000 in 1921 and our live stock from $268,000,000 to $760,000,000; manufacturers from $339,000,000 to $678,000,000 and the wages paid by manufacturing companies from $143,000,000 to $629,000,000."

Civic Greetings. Mayor Angrove extended the greetings of the city and suggested the development of the tourist traffic as being of mutual advantage to the county and city. For this purpose it was necessary to preserve our game fish. Warden Sibbitt also saw possibilities in the tourist trade and advocated that everybody boost the beauties of Frontenac. A. E. Weller, speaking on behalf of the Kingston fair, thanked the board of trade for the splendid entertainment. He purposed becoming a member of the board. Dealing with agricultural problems, he said they grew out of the war and left the farmer worse off although there had been a period of high prices. Costs were high and the farmer had heavy losses.

W. Y. Mills speaking as a merchant, said he hoped to see much good result from greater co-operation. They wanted to know what the farmer wanted so they could help him with his problems.

Knocker Not Wanted. William Guthrie saw need for the greatest measure of co-operation between city and county. "We don't want the knocker, but we have him in every community. There was no better country in the world than Ontario, but there was need of the loyalty and optimism featured by the addresses heard.

R. A. Hamilton said he always watched the proceedings of the city council and the board of trade with great interest. He enjoyed get together meetings in 1906 and he was pleased to see them resumed.

J. M. Campbell reviewed briefly the activities of the board of trade, and indicated some of the objects that might profitably engage the co-operative effort of the city and county. "I have always done business with our farmers," said he, "and they are the best people to do business with."

G. A. B. Clarke said he enjoyed the meeting. He appreciated the need for co-operation. He directed attention to some of the problems of the farmer and noted the loss in rural population. "What is the use of immigration when we are losing our own people?" he asked. J. L. F. Sproule dealt with rural life in general and expressed his disapproval of daylight saving time in summer.

H. C. Nickle told of the work of the suburban area commission which built thirty-five miles of good roads. He also told of the development of the feldspar mines in Frontenac. A new chemical industry was to be established and it was hoped that Frontenac would provide the raw materials needed.

Advertise Frontenac. James Halliday congratulated the board of trade upon the fine gathering. He emphasized the development of tourist traffic and hoped for the co-operation of the city in advertising the beauty of Frontenac.

Prof. Neish said he was much impressed with the spirit of co-operation shown. He hoped to see the game fish in the lakes preserved and advocated the formation of an anglers' association. He invited all present to attend a lecture at Queen's on Tuesday, Dec. 4th. The subject was the "Distillation of Wood."

J. G. Elliott dealt with the co-operation that has always existed between the county and city on commercial, educational and social matters and emphasized the points of common interest that might be more fully developed.

John Donnelly moved a vote of thanks to Rev. Mr. Sisco. President Davis announced that on Tuesday evening next there would be a public meeting of all citizens in Ontario hall under the auspices of the board of trade for the purpose of discussing the city by-laws that the people are to vote on at the civic elections.

Death of Erinville Lady. Erinville, Nov. 19.—On November 1st, Mrs. William Hayes, passed away. Decades had been in failing health for the past two years. Being of a bright and genial disposition, she had always hosts of admiring friends. Fortified with the rites of the holy church and surrounded by her grand children and her daughter, she passed peacefully away. The funeral was held from her late residence on Saturday morning. A long cortege of sorrowing relatives and friends followed the remains to the Roman Catholic church, Erinville, where a solemn
