What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

BRINGING UP FATHER ON BROADWAY COMES TO GRAND. In the latest edition of "Bringing up Father," which is to be the new attraction at the Grand Opera House on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 23rd, and 24th, with a matinee Saturday, under the title of "Bringing Up Father on Broadway" the army of admirers of this wonderful entertainment will have an opportunity of judging yjust why this particular production is miles ahead of its rivals. In the first place the idea of the offering is unique and distinctive. There is something about a "Father" show the lifts it above the pale of ordinary amusement. 'Those responsible for the production are always on the alert to keep things moving, upto-the-minute and ever prepared to make its fame deserved. With the result that "Bringing Up Father" is not alone an institution. It is a public necessity for the world must have its laughs and forget the sidelights of tragedy and pathos. The vogue of the cartoons from which "Bringing Up Father" received its inspiration for stage purpose far reaching. There is no doubt that Jiggs Mahoney, his wife, Maggie, and Dinty Moore are as well known in the jungles as they are in Canada. They are characters who will always be remembered and probably be immortalized for seasons to come. Every criticism of the shows in which these beloved characters appear there is a feeling of real happiness which is desseminated across the footlights and penetrative in its effects. So much so that the mere announcement of a "Father" play rouses an anxious theatre-going public to a high pitch of expectancy which is soon realized in screams of joy and guffaws. Such the penalty of being able to make everybody laugh.

NORTH ROMANCE

Rintintin, the champion police dog, who is also a "movie" actor, appears in "Where the North Begins," the far-north picture nounced for a three days' run at the Allen Theatre, beginning to-morrow, as the feature attraction. Around Rintintin centres most of the action of the story, the dog being instrumental in foiling a plot, furthering a romance, and ending the career of a dangerous crook.

"Where the North Begins," a Warner Brothers classic of the screen, is the story of the struggles of two men for the heart of a woman, far up north, in an isolated Hudson Bay Company's rading post. Shad Galloway, the factor, lords and bullies over all, forcing his unpleasant attentions on Felice McTavish, who loves Gabriel Dupre. a young .French-Canadian trapper.

Scane from "Where the North Begins" A WARNER BROS-CLASSIC OF HE SCHEN

Wishing the young trapper out of the way, Galloway offers a reward of $500 to anyone who will leave the post with a load of fur, this being a dangerous mission due to the operation of a gang of outlaws. Gabriel sets out, in due time comes in collision with the outlaws in wait for him, and is saved only in the nick of time from certain death by Valuable Household Furniture, 132 a wolf-dog. This is a dog who had One antique dining room set. Turk- wolves and who, as soon as he meets ish rug, dinner waggon, brass and iron Gabriel, reverts to his dog state, rods, two bronze statues, walnut hat and makes friends with the young rack, oak bed, dresser and wash stand, betrayed trapper, marble top tables, walnut dining room

"Where the North Begins" was and pictures. Many other articles too filmed in the far north, amid many vicissitudes unsual even to motion picture producing companies inured to hardship and always expecting the unexpected. It was taken in a region where a depth of thirty feet of snow lay on the ground and where the thermometer always dropped low.

Drilling Machinery.

Edward J. Wilcox, of Boston, is at the Randolph Hotel. He is President of the Non-Exhaust Machine Company of Canada, and will . be here for a few days.

A number of Contractors and rock drillers have been witnessing 'demonstrations of one of these drilling machines at Mr. A. Rawson's premises, 41 Montreal street, this city, during the past few weeks, and have expressed themselves very freely, and make the assertion that these new machines are bound to revolutionize the business of rock drilling, etc. And why? because these machines can be purchased at less than one half the cost, they weigh less than onefourth the weight, and lastly, can power of present day "outfits" used
