Once Was Newcastle District. F. H. Dobbin, Peterboro, writing about the early district of Bathurst adds this local item: "In 1823 the district was known as the District of Bathurst, just as the lands to the west, past Addington and Frontenac. were known as the Newcastle district, and afterwards to be carved into the counties of Northumberland and Durham, Peterborough and Victoria, to mention only a part."

Educational Sermons. Educational topics featured the services in Queen street and Princess street Methodist churches on Sunday. The schemes of the church in the training of its ministers was discussed. An alert intelligent ministry was required in these days of religious activity. Rev. C. B. Mc-Laughlin, Seeley's Bay, and Rev. A. S. Doggett, Pittsburg, were the speakers.

Sheep Killed by Dogs. George Leatherland, a prominent Inverary farmer, had sheep to the value of $150 destroyed by dogs. There were three dogs and they tore the sheep so badly that three died and others had to be killed. Mr. Leatherland has been a very successful breeder of Dorsets and Shropshires and he feels his loss keenly because the compensation allowed by the township does not restore his
