But nine years back from the period at which the play opens Whiter Allen had been shot in the very room which is presented on the stage James Allen, a brother of the murdered man, has secured engagement as secretary with Horace Heardon for the purpose of securing proof as to motive against Mrs. Hearndon, who has been twice tried for the crime, with jury disagreement each time. The question throughout is. 'Who shot Allen?" And don't be too sure you know until the curtain

The Dumbells Company, Limited. will offer Capt. Plunkett's fifth annual overseas revue in Canada. "Cheeriq," for a limited engagement of three nights commencing Thursday, Nov. 29th., with a matinee on Saturday afternoon at the Grand Opera House.

The company is still headed by the famous Canadian stars, , Ross Hamilton and Al. Plunkett, while a third star has been added to the constellation in the person of John Hagan, known to every returned soldier as the famous comedian of the "See Too's," and familiar to all who read the English illustrated magazines and stage publications, as the principal comedian of the Daly's heatre productions since the war. His greatest hits being in .The Lady Of the Rose" and "Whirled Into Happiness."

Of all the actors brought out in the various concert parties France, Hagan was the one landed first and highest in the field of professional theatricals.

True, he was a professional before the war, having appeared in many New York successes. In fact he gave up a splendid engagement on Broadway to join the C.E.F., away back in '14. Three years in France and Flanders merely served to ripen his art and broaden his experience. It has been said that to be a really great comedian one must first learn sorrow and repose. John Hagan bas qualified. He will prove an outstanding addition to Canada's greatest soldier show.

All the favorites of the "Carry On" cast are now playing in "Cheer io," Stan. Bonnett has been given a leading place on the programme, while Pat Rafferty, T. J. Lilly, Ben Allen and Jack Grace are better than ever.

Captain Plunkett stated that the last time he was here that he intend ed to make this season's revue just a bit better in every way than any of his former "Dumbells" productions. "Cheerio" seems to have lived up to that promise. The gallant Captain himself, and his tenpiece Overseas Orchestra, add the final touch of perfection in entertainment value.

Playing for Money?

Down in Montreal, a strong objection is being raised to the attempt to have the final game between the winner of the Tiger-Queen's game and Regina played in Hay Toronto. The Montreal Herald says July that if a switch was made from would only go to show that money and not real amateur sport was what the game was being played for.
