THE THREE BY-LAWS ARE CARRIED

Chemical Company Measure Received Necessary Two-Thirds Vote—Purchase of Fire Motor Pump Endorsed.

The three money by-laws submitted to the ratepayers on Monday all carried. The chemical company bi-law, in view of its granting exemption from taxation, required a two-thirds majority vote, and the measure secured this. The by-law to purchase harbor front property for the chemical company also carried by a wide margin. The fire motor by-law, about which there was a good deal of doubt, was given a favorable vote and carried by a majority of 72. The two latter measures required only a majority vote. The votes were as follows:

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE
By Uncle Ray

Frosti Wins King Snow's Daughter. King Snow answered: "No, never shall you marry my daughter. Get away from here!" Frosti did not go far. He sent this message to his love: "Frosti has lost his heart, to thee, and wishes to take thee to the far north. He was bright and north."

This picture shows a scene on a mountain near which many Norsemen lived. The huge rock must have suggested giants to the Norse story-tellers.

Shining—fair to look upon. One day he made a trip to the land of Finns.

That day was the greatest of Frosti's life, for in Finland he met a beautiful woman called Shining Snow.

Shining Snow was the daughter of a gruff old giant, King Snow. She fell in love with the handsome Frosti, and he went to ask her father for her hand.

Shining Snow replied: "Tell him I love him, too. I shall wait for him at the seashore."

They met at the seashore and started to flee from the country. King Snow gave chase. His soldiers fired shower after shower of arrows at the couple but the arrows were like blunt white needles. They did no harm. Frosti and Shining Snow escaped and began a happy married life in their bright northern land.

The ex-Crown Prince of Germany on his arrival at his home at Oels, photographed with the ex-Crown Princess, with whom he has become reconciled, it is reported, because of the ex-Kaiser's wife's secret ambitions to place her own son on the throne of Germany. He defied his exiled father's commands in regard to his return to Germany, and it now appears that his trip across Germany included consultations with many prominent royalist leaders. He declared that 20,000 men of his selection would wipe out the republic.
