AMUSEMENTS

What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

Too Many Husbands.

Victoria was a very pretty and very spoiled young woman, and very popular with the male sex. She had always had her own way, and always done the thing that was "Bing Done." Suddenly the war came along, every one was marrying soldiers. "Oh, it was quite the thing my dear," So Victoria decided to be in the swim, that is marry a soldier, oh not an ordinary soldier—merely no, but something special in the military line, so she cast her eye about and espied and captured a certain Major Lowndes, D.S.O. Very popular and home on leave. Major Lowndes is called back to duty, a few months later reported officially dead. Poor Victoria has a beautiful time, mourning becomes her so well, but as time goes on and she casts off the widows weeds, people are still marrying soldiers, so she yields to the persuasion of her handsome best pal Major Cardew, also by that time a D.S.O., who swears for his old friend's sake to make her life and that of her little son one long dream of happiness.

The play commences some time after the war with Victoria, a bit fed up on Major Cardew, and owing with favor a rather ancient "War Profiteer," when to upset her plans husband number one turns up, back from the dead as it were. The fun then commences, no one can think of anyway to explain the affair to husband No. 1 and he is left in ignorance for quite some time. This fact and the fact that he sees husband No. 2's little son, make it all the more impossible for Major Cardew, to tell him. The latter is one of those lovable fellows who is though, an awful ass.

Rex plays the part of the lovable silly ass, Cardew, Bill Seymour, the Husband No. One, and Bill Yule the Profiteer. Zane Vaughn is ravishing as the pretty petty, and dreadfully spoiled young woman, and sighs and smiles, and wears a gown as only Zane Vaughn can. Hazel Williams has a duel role, and all the other parts are taken by new members of the company.

"The Spanish Dancer" Big Winner.

Pola Negri's latest Paramount picture, "The Spanish Dancer," which will be seen for the last time tonight at the Allen theatre has proved a big winner. The picture has been showing to capacity daily and its splendid scenes, strong characterization, romance and thrills have won popular favor. Antonio Moreno as Don Cesar de Bazan, plays opposite the star with signal artistry. The support is excellent.

"THE CAPITOL"

New Home of Capitol Entertainment in Kingston.

An event which will mark a new era in amusement circles of Kingston will be the opening of the Capitol, December 10th, as "Capitol Entertainment" Theatre. The Famous Players Canadian Corporation Ltd., with headquarters in Toronto, will operate the local house with Ernie Smithies as manager on the same pretentious scale as other of its big "Capitol Entertainment" houses which dot the continent from coast to coast, and include such amusement Palaces as the Hippodrome, Toronto; the Montreal Capitol, The Winnipeg Capitol, and the Vancouver Capitol.

"Capitol Entertainment" has been made synonymous with all that is artistic in the field of motion picture presentation. The slogan is known to theatre-goers throughout Canada.

First run pictures, the larger and more lavish productions will be shown at the local theatre at the same time, and frequently prior to their presentation in larger cities of Canada.

With the opening of the Capitol Theatre, it has been arranged to transplant the same shows given at the Hippodrome Theatre in Toronto to the local house in many instances. Doorman and ushers will be fitted out in the same kind of uniforms worn by attaches at the Hippodrome, which has given that theatre a reputation for smartness.

The opening attraction will be "The Light that Failed," a marvelous screen attraction based on the famous novel by Rudyard Kipling. It will be shown here many weeks before many of the larger cities in Canada will have an opportunity of seeing it.

Another Griffith Production. Playgoers who have been privileged to see D. W. Griffith's great spectacles "The Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World" will be interested in the announcement that his recent colossal production, "The Fall of Babylon," at the Strand-to-day. DAME CLARA BUTT SOLVES OLD PROBLEM.

That women have come into their own is the frank admission of even the most rabid feminists.

That they seem to have arrived at the goal for which they have been so ardently striving during the past two decades the question is raised as to just how much they have won and how much they possibly have lost in the process. Many of the more advanced of feminists point with glowing pride and view with prophetic vision the election of three of their number to seats in the British House of Commons. Others deplore the tendency of some women to usurp the place of men in political affairs and claim that the rewards that go with such distinction are not worth the price that womanhood has had to pay.

The subject is inexhaustible and much that is thought on the subject found expression at the recent Service Enquiry and while individual opinion in the matter was brought into sharp and varied contrast the enquiry is believed to have served a high purpose in bringing into prominence a new woman's movement which is giving a pronounced impetus to woman's place in the home. One of the strongest advocates of this movement has in the person of Dame Clara Butt, the distinguished English contralto. During the present tour of this famous singer, through Canada it is not likely that women generally and those particularly concerned with feminine activities will learn at first hand from this celebrated artist her views on this rather complex question.

In Dame Clara's more thinking of English women believe they can point to the ideal combination of feminine pursuits. With her the making of a career and the attainment of eminence in a most exacting profession at no time imposed the sacrifice of domestic duties. Whether at Compton Lodge, in St. John's Wood, or at her country estate, at North Stoke, Dame Clara never permits her professional activities to intrude upon the life of the home and her time is given unreservedly to the comfort and happiness of her family.

Dame Clara Butt will be at Grant Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 7th.

THE GENERAL HOSPITAL.

The Usual Christmas Appeal to Be Made.

The board of governors of the Kingston General Hospital met Tuesday evening, the following members being present. R. E. Kent, chairman; G. E. Hague, W. H. Wormwith, J. Hughes, R. J. Carson, Capt. John Donnelly, Warden Sibbett, John Gilbert, Dr. H. E. Day, James Crawford, William Anderson.

The report of the committee of management gave an outline of the work for the month. Miss Cunningham, Toronto, has been appointed dietitian. During the month, the furnishing of the new Empire wing was about completed, and a number of the rooms are now occupied. It is gratifying to note that a number of the rooms have been furnished by donations from friends of the hospital, and different organizations. The visiting governors brought in a very interesting report.

The usual Christmas appeal for funds for the hospital will be made by letter and through the press, and the Board is hoping for a very generous response, as the needs of the hospital at this season are many, and every dollar will be needed and will be wisely expended.

W. P. Peters, and Warden Sibbett were appointed visiting governors for the present month.

ALL PARTIES CONFIDENT.

On the Eve of the British General Elections.

London, Dec. 5.—Various party headquarters dispensed optimism with a free hand on this, the last day of the parliamentary election campaign. The Conservatives announced that their prospects were good and that they were confident. Liberals asserted their canvass of the districts was encouraging and that there were reports of great Liberal enthusiasm from the whole country. One official declared: "If promises made us are fulfilled, everybody is in for a big surprise."

A Labor spokesman said: "We shall certainly have 171 members returned and probably more. We shall still be his majesty's opposition."

The Way of the Mother-in-Law. "Harry, dear!" exclaimed little Mrs. Simpson to her husband. "I have been dreadfully insulted!" "Insulted! By whom?" "By your mother," answered the young wife, bursting into tears. "My mother, Pina?" "Nonsense! She's miles away!" Flora dried her tears. "I'll tell you all about it," she said. "A letter came for you this morning, addressed in your mother's writing, so I opened it." "Of course," said Harry. "It was written to you, all through. Do you understand?" "I understand. But where did the insult come in?" "In the p-p-post-script," cried the wife. "It said, 'Dear Flora, don't fail to give this letter to Harry. I want him to have it.'"

SPORTING NEWS

Buffalo Wants Queen's.

Queen's Athletic Board of Control received a request from Buffalo University rugby team for a game with Queen's next fall. The date suggested was between November 15th and 22nd. It is not likely that the Queen's boys will journey across the border to play any exhibition games and especially when nothing is known about the standard of the players taking part. The game with Regina on Saturday last has settled the question. In future no games will be played unless Queen's are absolutely certain that the players will put up some opposition and they do not intend to play with American teams unless one half is played under Canadian rules.

Congratulatory Messages.

The management of Queen's senior rugby team, Dominion rugby champions, has received many telegrams of congratulation on the success of the team. Messages were received from the following: University of Montreal, McGill University, Montreal A. A. A., and the Royal Military College. Messages were also received from private individuals who are interested in the team.

To Play Hockey in U.S.

It has been decided that the members of Queen's senior hockey team will take a hockey trip across the border during the first week in January. The games will be played on Jan. 4th and 5th, and providing other matches can be arranged the length of the trip will be re-adjusted. The Queen's team has booked games with Yale, Harvard and the New Haven hockey club.

All the players, with the exception of Gibson, who played on the senior team last season, are back in college, and with Red Taylor and Chanter of St. Thomas and Le-gon of Peterboro, who are spoken of as first-class players, and a number of other freshmen, the university should have a first-class team this winter.

The ice bed at the arena has been rolled, and with the arrival of cold weather, the ice makers will start to make ice.

Queen's and Basketball.

From present indications, Queen's will have a team that will be a strong contender for the senior intercollegiate basketball league this year. Among the freshmen at the college are the following who show considerable experience and will be a great help to the team: Graham, Swazey, Gillespie, Gordon and Lane. Howgill, who was in college last season, is going strong and should make a strong bid for a place. The former members of the team are all back this season.

Indoor Baseball.

A fast game of indoor ball was played in the armoures last evening, when Frontenac Regiment defeated 1st Field Ambulance by the score of 11-7. Both teams gave a good exhibition of ball which was very much enjoyed by the spectators.

The game on Saturday evening last, was also a good game, and resulted in a win by District Staff over P.W.O.R. by the score of 18-12. District Staff team is improving rapidly, and are expected to be well up in their group at the end of the season.

Games for Thursday, 7 p.m.—4th Hussars at "B" Battery, 8.30 p.m., "A" Battery at No. 3 Battery.

QUEEN'S RUGBY TEAM, M.R.A.

E. W. Ferguson in Mont. Herald.—Surging sweep of the tidal wave, Deadly strong as the underow, As you rip the line with shattering blow That's sure as Death in a sea-wide grave; You are the Cream of the Rugby Flight.

Where, in the pack that has flashed along, The checked green of the grid-iron's floor Can we find your place in the mighty roar Of the hoarse-voiced throng that applauds the Strong? Where is your niche in the Final Song.

In coming ages, when we shall pass? They can't err much, and the world's got wrong If they tag you the King of all Rugby Class.

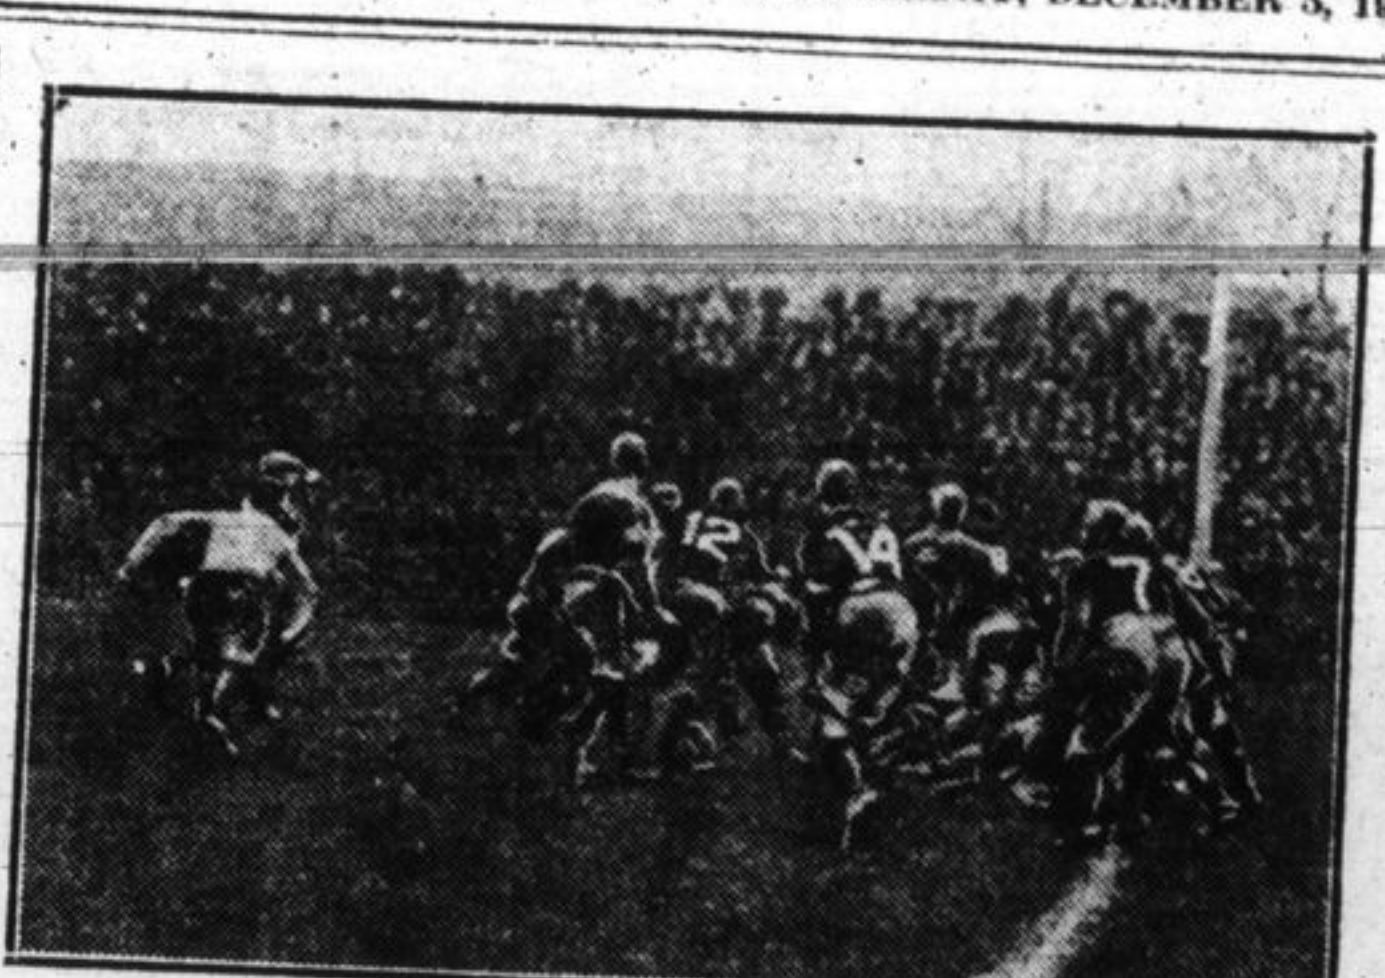

Flashing speed, as a coiled snake darts A line with the strength of a mountain breast beat wings that are always there. Backs that are starred in the football charis, Queen's, as a Rugby team of parts You're an M.R.A., and no doubt of it (Master of all the Rugby Arts) There's a degree with a "kick" to it!

House of Fruit Boxes.

Some 40,000 fruit boxes of a Los Angeles packing company, left over from the past season, could not be kept in the regular storehouses for lack of room and had to be left outside. The boxes rather than let them become spoiled, it was decided to build a house about them. This was done in pyramid-fashion, laying a roof directly upon them, and then nailing walls around the sides.

Lloyd George plans a last minute coup to route the Tories but the greatest secrecy is observed.

Hughes as this person has done it? The answer will be found among to-day's want ads.

A FIGHT FOR A CHAMPIONSHIP. An exciting moment's play when Regina met Queen's University at Horonto University Stadium last Saturday, to play off for the Dominion rugby championship. This struggle on the line was one of the interesting bits of play when Queen's beat Regina by a score of 54 to 0.

TWO LADS WERE CAUGHT ROBBERING CENTRAL SCHOOL.

Youngsters in Juvenile Court Allowed to Go on Suspended Sentence.

For some time it was suspected that some person or persons were breaking into the Central school from time to time, stealing pens, lead pencils and other school supplies. As a result, the caretaker of the school, Charles Attwood, played the role of a detective, and hiding in the school on Tuesday night, he nabbed two boys who had secured an entrance to the school by climbing one of the fire escapes and then raising a window. About 9 o'clock on Tuesday night, two youngsters were given quite a scare when they got into the school. The lads were suddenly turned on, and Mr. Attwood, the caretaker, appeared and took them in charge. A call was sent to the police station, that two burglars had been caught in the school. Constables Fred Clark and Vernon Campbell hurried to the school, expecting to see a couple of desperadoes, and were given quite a surprise to find that two boys were held responsible for breaking into the school.

In Juvenile Court, Magistrate Farrell gave the lads some good advice and allowed them to go on suspended sentence, and it is hoped the lads will take advantage of this chance.

In addition to taking pens, pencils, etc., it is stated that the lads, in making their way around the school, used matches and there was great danger of setting fire to the school.

Radcliffe's orchestra, Kingston, gave a number of choice selections and furnished the music for the dance that followed the concert.
