leads. Billy Seymour, Bill Yule and Hazel Williams are among the old members that will appear. The seat sale has been very heavy all day and there is no doubt but what "Rex" will get a real Kingston welcome. "If Kingston," says Rex, "is as glad to see us as we are to be back we are certainly all going to have one grand time." There will be the usual kiddies' matinee Saturday.

EMOTIONAL PICTURE
Undoubtedly the outstanding quality of "The Net," the drama of mystery and thrills produced by William Fox is its tremendous dramatic strength. This emotional drama which was adapted from the successful play by Maravene Thompson, will be shown at the Allen theatre, starting to-day. In book form the story was known as "The Woman's Law" and was then adapted for the stage by Miss Thompson.

One of the handsomest settings shows the interior and exterior of a wealthy artist's studio which has been remodelled from an old church. Through a novel arrangement of six different styles of architecture the lofty interior has been changed into a harmonious picture. Moorish columns beautifully contrast with Greek and Italian decorations; the walls being hung with valuable paintings and tapestries.

Sudden enveloping tragedy in this room throws the net of circumstances about a young mother and forces her to choose between casting the shadow of crime over her child or of condemning an innocent man to prison for life. Your interest will be firmly held until the very last scene flickers from the screen as this tangle in three human lives is straightened out.

Barbara Castleton, Raymond Bloomer and Albert Roscoe are the principals in the most dramatic version of the oft-repeated and familiar triangle which is presented here from a new angle.

WELL KNOWN PLAYERS
CHOSEN FOR THE PARTS.
Some of the most talented and widely known players on the screen appear in Paramount's new picture, "Salomy Jane," a George Melford production based on the famous story by Bret Harte, which will be the feature at the Strand Theatre for three days, beginning today.

Queen's vs. Regina.
The management of the Allen theatre has been fortunate in securing for showing, starting to-day, the pictures of the Dominion Football final game between Queen's and Regina, taken at Toronto last Saturday. It is an excellent picture showing the game from start to finish and everybody will want to see how Queen's trounced Regina to the tune of 54-9.

News of Junetown.
Junetown, Dec. 5.—Miss Arvilla Avery, Toronto, is spending some time at her home here, recuperating from an operation for appendicitis. Master Cecil Avery is gaining from an attack of scarlet fever. Miss Maggie Scott, Lansdowne, spent a few days at her home here. Charles Glenn has purchased a new Ford runabout.

Donald Morris has purchased a touring car. Charles Glenn and James Breakenridge spent Thursday in Gananoque. Our cheese factory still operates on Mondays and Thursdays. Mrs. W. H. Franklin and Master Everett Franklin spent Saturday in Brockville. Fred Moore lost his house by fire on Sunday night about 10.30. Mr. Moore has been living in Mallorytown for some time and the house was not occupied. A small insurance was carried. Fred Ferguson has about completed his work as tax collector for 1929.

Today the wind shifted from northeast to east and then to southeast. It will be in the west tomorrow. The sun shone for a few minutes in the morning, but rain fell generally and quite heavily.

singer jointly with the equally famous actress, Miss Ellen Terry.
When the World War imposed its hardships—hardships which post-war conditions have not materially alleviated, upon so many musicians, artists and player-folk resident in England, means of coming to their relief were formulated by their more fortunate colleagues and ultimately took tangible form in the organization of the "Three Arts," so called. It was decided to open a workshop where some commercial commodity could be made by hand and where destitute professionals could find the means of self support.

But what to make? That was the question. And soon came the inspiration. Any woman could make a doll—and clothe it too! It didn't require the skill of a wardrobe mistress. Not even that of a plain seamstress. And there was the model right at hand. It was merely a rag doll—one which Dame Clara had carried as a mascot on her concert tours.

The idea found instant favor. A workshop was established and the manufacture, in its strictly Latin sense, of the now famous Cuddley Dolls was begun. The work enlisted wide-spread interest especially in professional circles and in a short time the little industry had grown to mammoth proportions.
In the workshop the doll-makers receive two substantial meals each day and earn enough from the sale of the wares to maintain their lodgings and provide other necessities. Because of the recognized part the members of these professions played during the war and in the reconstruction period that followed this particular charity found ready public response and is to-day attracting greater popular interest than at any time since its organization.

Of course, Dame Clara has kept the original model for the Cuddley Dolls and as a mascot she regards it with higher favor than ever. Naturally the famous mascot of the famous contralto will hold a place of honor in her entourage during her present transatlantic tour through the Dominion, in which she comes here to Grant Hall, tomorrow evening.

A Reminder.
After the most successful overcoat business in their history, and with two-thirds of the winter ahead, Livingstons, this early in the season, are giving you the opportunity to buy winter overcoats, for men and boys, at a discount of twenty per cent. This is a chance you should not overlook. A full range of sizes, colors and styles still in stock, all this season's coats. We would advise you to look up their ad in this issue and take advantage of their most generous offer.

BELLEVILLE "Y" DIRECTORS

Pay Visit to Kingston Association—Local Membership Campaign Is Extended.

By invitation of the Kingston Y. M.C.A. Board of Directors, the directors and staff of the Belleville "Y" made a visit to the local association Wednesday evening and all enjoyed a night of fellowship and conference. The Women's Auxiliary served a splendid dinner, the venison for which was kindly supplied by Director C. C. Nash, who thereby proved himself a good hunter as well as a good director.

Following the supper, a jolly sing-song was led by Messrs. Madrand, and Carl Cannon, after which the local president, Frank Anglin, welcomed the visitors and President Ostrom, Belleville, spoke on behalf of the visiting directors, voicing their great pleasure to be the guests of the Kingston "Y."

R. C. Sidenius, Belleville general secretary, was asked to conduct a blackboard discussion, which resulted in the helpful consideration of a number of common Y.M.C.A. problems, many good suggestions being received from each association.
After the conference sessions, the two groups of directors adjourned to the gymnasium where some fine games of volleyball were played, and in which the Belleville men did not take second place. The Belleville men left in their cars about 10.30 p.m., well satisfied with their visit to the local association.

Membership Campaign.

By unanimous consent of the captains engaged in the team contests in connection with the campaign of the "Y" for members, the campaign is being extended for another week. The closing will be on Thursday, Dec. 13th, at 9.30 p.m.

Not a Soldier's Child.

Further investigation by Inspector Black, of the local Children's Aid Society, brought proof that a little lad was not a soldier's child and thus the Soldiers' Aid Commission had no responsibility in the matter. City Solicitor Rigney concurred in this finding and thus the child was given the protection of the Children's Aid Society and made a ward.

THE PRISON ESCAPE CASE

Will Be Aired Next Week When McMullen Appears in Court.

It was announced on Thursday morning that Edward McMullen, of London, Ont., who escaped from the Portsmouth penitentiary on the morning of September 16th, and was later recaptured, will be charged with escaping from the institution and the theft of an automobile from the property of Mrs. H. W. Richardson. The case will be heard next at two o'clock before Judge H. A. Lavell. T. J. Rigney, K.C., who is crown prosecutor, when asked if McMullen would be charged with setting fire to the stables at the prison, stated that it all depended on the evidence given in the other cases.

William McIlquham, taxi driver, will appear on a charge of criminal negligence. Mr. Ilquham was driving an automobile which ran down Alfred Wart at the corner of Stephen and Montreal streets on Sept. 10th and as a result of his injuries Mr. Wart died at the General Hospital.

There are five civil cases on the docket, as follows:
Leonard Kelly vs. George Ford, action for trespass, Nickle and Farrell for the plaintiff and Rigney and Hickey for the defendant.
Percy Kane vs. Frank Hogan, action for damage to motor car, Cunningham and Smith for plaintiff, and Rigney and Hickey for defendant.
Walter Harold vs. Harry Fisher; action to recover lost pens, etc., Cunningham and Smith for the plaintiff, and Rigney and Hickey for defendant.
Joseph Murphy vs. James Myers and D. MacClement; action for $500 damages, Rigney and Hickey for the plaintiff and W. M. Ewart, Westport, for the defendant.
Leonard Donovan vs. J. B. Abramson; action for damage to motor car, Rigney and Hickey for the plaintiff, and Cunningham and Smith for defendant.

SECK WILL NOT PROMISE FURTHER POWER SUPPLY

Kingston Will Have to Depend Upon Development of St. Lawrence.

A deputation from the Kingston utilities commission was in Toronto on Wednesday to present an application for a specific increase in the power supply as the basis of a contract between the commission and certain large patrons, but Sir Adam Beck stated that he was not able to give any assurance at the present time that such additional power would be available before the development of the St. Lawrence. This, however, does not refer to Kingston's present supply from the Trent system and the percentage allotted on the basis of her present consumption.

It is apparent, however, that Eastern Ontario must not expect a miracle to be performed in the distribution of power from the Trent, which is limited, but must look to the development of the St. Lawrence as the only solution of the question of electric power.
The deputation consisted of Commissioners McFarlane, H. C. Nickle, W. W. Newberry and M. J. G. Folger. They returned to the city Thursday.
