The Editor hears

That the Local Council of Women took no action whatever in the matter of the much-talked-of sign on the cricket field.

That the cadets who brought the second Dominion rugby championship to Kingston received a great ovation on their return from Toronto. The Kingston colleges have covered themselves with glory and even the friendly rivalry that exists between Queen's and R.M.C. is silenced by the storm of applause they both receive from the citizens.

That there is a fad to-day for rather small taffeta wrist-bags to be carried to the opera. These perishably dainty things in faint rose, lavender, and pearly white, are just large enough to hold fan, opera glasses, handkerchiefs and powder box. These pretty trifles make ideal Christmas gifts.

That the V.O.N. usually give a Christmas tea to the hundreds of mothers who bring their babies to the clinic at the Welfare Station. This might well appeal to the people who would like to make Christmas happier for others, as a way to reach those who may not have much Christmas cheer unless it comes from their more fortunate fellow citizens.

The Victorian Order has many calls on its rather slender funds at this season of the year, and a donation towards their tea would not come amiss.

Another Christmas suggestion comes from New York. "Boudoir ornaments in the daintiest of pastel shades are now the height of fashion. There are glorified pin-cushions in concentric circles of palest blue, mauve, pink and yellow silk, and others which are merely big rosebuds surrounded by a swirl of gauze."

Mrs. Wintringham who was elected to the British Commons on the death of her husband, has been returned in the recent election. She was one of three women in the British House, all returned. Each of the three replaced their husbands. Lady Astor when her husband was elevated to the House of Lords, and Mrs. Hilton Phillipson when her husband was disqualified. Five new women have been elected members.

Social Hygiene Council Meets. Ottawa, Dec. 11.—There is a National-wide representation of delegates at the annual meeting of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council which convened at Ottawa on Dec. 10th and 11th, under its national president, Hon. Justice Riddell. Fifty-two local councils are affiliated with the national body. The speakers of international reputation were Dr. Leo K. Frankel, vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company of New York, and Dr. W. F. Snow, general secretary of the American Social Hygiene Council.

Other outstanding portions of the comprehensive programme included discussions by Professor J. A. Dale of Toronto on "How Our Universities Can Teach Social Hygiene"; Dr. Bruce MacDonald of St. Andrew's college on "Play in the Life of the Child"; Dr. George Ross and Dr. A. K. Haywood of Montreal spoke on "Marriage in Its Relation to Social Hygiene"; Dr. J. Heurner Mullin of Hamilton, lately president of the Ontario Medical Association, presented facts and figures of "Venereal Disease Mortality"; Dr. Gerald H. Pearson, of Ottawa, dealt with "Women's and Children's Clinics"; Tom Moore, on "Labor and Social Hygiene"; Dr. J. J. Heagerty of Ottawa on "How to Talk to the Boy"; and William Harrison of the Canadian National Newspapers' association, with the "Relation of Popular Reading to Sex Morality."

In addition there was symposium on "The Church and Social Hygiene," contributed by three outstanding clerics in the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths, while Juvenile Delinquency, were given thorough dissection by several juvenile court judges and officials from various parts of the Dominion.

Look Close at Home. Christmas time makes a splendid excuse for doing things that would not be possible at any other time. It gives us an excuse for acts of kindness that would be taken as an impertinence, perhaps, at any other season. It gives us the entry into homes that all the year are closed books to us.

There are tragedies going on behind those closed doors in many farm communities. May we suggest to Women's Institutes, everywhere, that they use the open sesame of this Christmastide to go behind those closed doors. It is easier to hold bazaars and send money away to some deserving cause, than to let in the light on a domestic trouble in our midst. But it is the last that calls most loudly to us at this season. Let every Institute member, no matter how difficult the task, call on every ounce of womanly tact she possesses and bring some echo of the Christmas spirit into these homes where tear and unloveliness are known to hide.—The Canadian Farmer.

A quiet wedding took place at S. F. Newton united Clarence Root, Rockport, and Miss Nellie Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lett Kelly, Athol.

HOROSCOPE BY GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 12.

A generally propitious forecast may be based on this day's planetary operations. All commercial and professional activities should flourish under the encouraging lunar and mutual figures. There is an augury for a change or journey of advantage, and those in the employment of others are justified in expecting recognition or advancement if qualified for such good fortune. It will be well to give especial attention to the signing of all writings or contracts, and also to give heed to the possibility of duplicity.

Those whose birthday it is may look for an active and flourishing year if they use due caution in the signing of papers and in guarding against fraud or treachery. Those in the employment of others should push for advancement if undeniably deserving. A child born on this day will be ambitious and clever and will be generally successful. It will succeed in the employment of others, especially in lines where original thought and ideas are appreciated.

Fig Favorites. 1 cupful sugar, 1/2 cupful water, 1/4 teaspoonful cream of Tartar, 3/4 cupful figs.

Boil the sugar and water together without stirring until it is light brown in color. Then stir in the cream of tartar just before removing from the fire. Have the figs washed and cut in pieces. Lay them on a buttered pan and pour candy over them. Cut in squares.

T. Edward Ketcheson will be the assessor of Belleville to succeed J. A. Kerr, who resigned.

Ask Your Druggist For Vicks

Is Best for Grippe and All Cold Troubles.

Mrs. Willie Hebert, of Gulager St., Shediac, New Brunswick, says: "I have used Vicks VapoRub for a cold and obtained great results. My children were taken sick with the grippe so I went to my druggist and purchased a full-size jar, and rubbed their chest good and they are all well now. I cannot recommend Vicks too highly and will never go without it in my home."

Vicks VapoRub comes in salve form, and for chest colds, you just apply it over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases vapors that are inhaled all night long into the throat and lungs — Menthol, Camphor, Thyme, Eucalyptus and Turpentine. Vicks is also absorbed through and stimulates the skin, aiding the vapors to relieve congestion. Usually colds go in one night and croup is commonly relieved in 15 minutes.

At all drug stores, 50c. a jar. For a free test size package, write Vicks Chemical Co., 144 St. Paul St., W., Montreal, P. Q.

Though Vicks is new in Canada it has a remarkable sale in the States. Over 17 million jars used yearly.
