A DELIGHTFUL LECTURE.

Given by Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan, Port

Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan, Port Hope, for years associate editor of the London Catholic Record and the Toronto Catholic Register, gave a de-· lightful lecture in St. Joseph's hall, Hotel Dieu. Wednesday night on "Catholic Sentiment in non-Catholic Canadian Poets,' 'llustrated by readings from the works of Marjorie Pickthall.

In introducing his subject, Father O'Sullivan gave three reasons why poetry is not popular to-day-materialism. lack of supernatural religion, and lack of sanity. Poetry is a minor revelation of God, and in its widest sense embraces all the fine arts, architecture, sculpture, painting, dancing and music. God raises up poets to give us supplementary glimpses of the beauty of His works. Even the pagan poets in their idealized creations of beauty, self-sacrifice and love prepared the people for the great mystery of the Incarnation. They did this unconsciously. for "thoughts beyond their thoughts to these high bards were given." In like manner we find beautiful poetic tributes to faith and virtue from the pens of those who did not themselves possess the gift of faith.

With fine elocutionary effect Fafrom the works of the Marjorie Pickthall, quoting such on last week's yet,"-Detroit Free poems as "Pieter Marinus," "Pere Press. Lalemant," and "The Lamp of the
