SUPPORT OF WORKMEN AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

Asked by Dr. A. E. Ross, M.P., and A. McDonough in Addresses.

Dr. A. E. Ross, M.P., and A. McDonough, secretary of the Kingston Tuberculosis Association, addressed a meeting in the Labor Hall on Wednesday evening with a view to securing the support of organized labor in Kingston of a proposal "that the provincial government enact legislation providing for free sanatorium treatment of tubercular patients, and also provide for the dependents of married men while under treatment."

J. Melville, president of the Trades and Labor Council, occupied the chair and introduced the speakers who were listened to with great interest. Dr. Ross gave a brief review of the history of tuberculosis, telling of its ravages upon the human race and of the development of the methods of treatment.

"Tuberculosis is one of the diseases that we can do something to check, being one of the communicable diseases," he said. "There is no such thing as free treatment at tuberculosis sanatoria to-day, notwithstanding the advertisements. Somebody pays for the treatment given. Canada has in fact achieved more than some other countries, but our climate exposes us more to tuberculosis and we should take the means to combat it."

Mr. McDonough outlined the objects and aims of the Kingston Tuberculosis Association which are to obtain from the government such legislation as will make provision for free sanatorium treatment for the victim of tuberculosis, and the care of his family when he is the head of a household. "We want the support of labor which is vitally interested in the fight against this disease because the workman and his family are peculiarly exposed to it," said Mr. McDonough. "When the doctor diagnoses active T.B., he cannot order the patient into a sanatorium for complete rest of body and mind. Who can leave his work and his family without support?"

The amount allowed by the government and the municipality is not sufficient to meet the needs of the case. Where are we to get the money to provide free sanatorium treatment? Some say it cannot be obtained, but millions can be obtained for highway construction. The attorney-general says provision will be made for the families of prisoners. If this is so, surely the money can be provided also for the families of the innocent victims of tuberculosis. The free distribution of literature will never save one person afflicted with tuberculosis, to say nothing of checking the spread of the disease."

Mr. McDonough concluded by asking labor to endorse the proposals made, and this was promised at the first general meeting of the representatives of the various trade unions. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speakers by President Melville.

It is clear that we can't get a high interest rate.

OBITUARY

Late Rev. Sister Catharine Madden.

The sisters of the Hotel Dieu mourn the loss of one of their most respected and esteemed sisters, Rev. Sister Catharine V. Madden, who died in their monastery, on Tuesday evening, after a very short illness.

The deceased sister was a daughter of the late Patrick Madden and Mary Wilcox, Brewer's Mills, and had been a religious hospitalier for thirty-seven years. The greater part of this time she spent in the public wards of the hospital, where she was revered by all who knew her for her sweet, charitable disposition, never tiring when duty called her and always delighted to be a comfort and consolation to those who came to her in sorrow or pain.

For a time she generously gave her services to the sisters of Campbellton, N.B., and, although many years have passed since that time, yet, those good sisters never tire expressing their gratitude for the admirable example she gave them of charity and zeal for the sick and suffering.

Besides her sorrowing sisters in religion, she leaves two sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Joyce, Svidenham; Miss Mary Madden, Brewer's Mills; Patrick Madden, Tenafly, N. J.; James Madden, San Francisco, and John Madden, Brewer's Mills. She has two nieces in the House of Providence, Rev. Sr. Mary Helena, and Sister Mary Cecelia.

Her funeral, which was largely attended, was celebrated at eight o'clock by the Most Rev. M. J. Spratt, D.D., assisted by the following clergy, Rev. Thomas McCarthy, Reid, Rev. C. O'Gorman, Mary'sville, Rev. Dr. Casey, chaplain, Rev. J. Powell, Railton, Rev. E. Lacey, Archbishop's Palace, Rev. Father McLeod, Boston, Mass., Rev. Father Coyle and Rev. Father James of the palace.

After the chanting of the Libera, the remains were removed to St. Mary's vault. The pall-bearers were: Dr. C. A. Morrison, Dr. L. E. Crowley, Dr. A. B. Lawlor, L. Mur-

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds

SAFETY PROFITS

SAFETY MELTS INTO PROFITS

An examination of the meaning of "safety in investment" will show why high interest rates, and safety cannot be obtained in the same securities.

Safety in investment means eliminating risk. If we eliminate risk, we get a return on our money which is based on safety, alone.

For instance, United States Liberty bonds are regarded as safe. About 4 per cent, then, is the present price which a government or company must pay for the use of money without any risk to the lender. Any higher interest rate on a security with an equally good market evidently would be to pay the lender for risk.

If you have a 6 per cent bond, the chances are that the company is paying you a price of 2 per cent, for risk, over and above absolute safety, which can be obtained in Liberty bonds. In an 8 per cent bond, the price of which is being paid for risk is 4 per cent. In double on the eight per cent bond.

Since our definition indicates that we are to be paid for safety alone,

That Big Turkey Shipment.

The carload of live turkeys shipped to Rochester, N.Y., by Harry Card, Kingston, on Sunday last reached the American city in fine shape. Only two birds of the cargo of 1,067 were killed in the shipping.

Mr. Card stated that the prevailing retail price for turkeys in Rochester was about from 45 to 50 cents a pound, dressed weight. Mr. Card has also shipped five tons of dressed turkeys across the border.

Mark a New Record.

One hundred new houses have been built in Pembroke during 1928. This is more than three times the number of dwellings erected in the town during the year 1922 and if the records when traced back it would probably be found to constitute a record for home building in Pembroke. The buildings valued at $218,840 mark a new record.

Dismissed the Charge.

The Belleville Paper Co. was charged criminally with causing the death of James Lanigan, an employee, who was fatally injured at the plant on Oct. 15th. Judge De-roche dismissed the case without putting the company on its defence.

To Erect a Mill.

Henry Bickford has purchased five acres on the shore of a little lake on lot 18 in the 6th con. from John N. Mather, Middleville, and has workmen engaged in erecting a mill thereon for the manufacture of packing boxes, shingles, etc.
