THE INAUGURAL MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL

Arrival of Ald. Kent From Sick Bed Changed Course of Things.

A peculiar situation arose at the inaugural meeting of the city council Monday morning when the matter of striking the standing committees came before the aldermen. In concluding his remarks following the inaugural address, His Worship Mayor Angrove pointed out that the council factions were divided into two parties of eleven and ten members respectively. He asked that the committees be selected from the best men, regardless of party.

Ald. F. J. O'Connor, rising when the business of nominating a committee to strike the standing committees, delivered his opinion quite frankly. He stated that the trafficking in public positions by the aldermen during the past year had been disgraceful, and that, for his part, he was a free lance and not identified with either of the factions.

"The majority of this council have sold their birthright to free voting here," said Ald. O'Connor. He asked the mayor to be the fifth man of a committee that he would name to adjourn and strike the standing committees.

His Worship declined, saying that such a procedure would put him in a very awkward position. Ald. O'Connor then moved, seconded by Ald. William Holder, that Aids. Peters, Richardson, J. B. Holder, Johnston, and Kelly be a committee to strike the standing committees. The vote on this stood ten to ten. Ald. Kent being absent. Mayor Angrove was called upon and declared the motion carried. The vote:

Yeas: Mayor Angrove, Aids. Driscoll, J. B. Holder, William Holder, Kelly, Kidd, Latimer, O'Connor, Price, Richardson, Sargent.

Nays: Aids. Boyd, Chown, Godwin, Johnston, Joyce, Lawlor, Milne, McCartney, Nash, Peters.

Ald. Kent Arrives.

All the members were present when the meeting opened with the exception of Ald. R. E. Kent, who arrived from his sick bed, during the adjournment and was sworn in immediately after. The following aldermen were sworn in for 1924:

Thomas Ashmore, Kidd, Fergus Joseph O'Connor, Henry Ford Richardson, George Walter Boyd, John Edwin Johnston, Robert Edwin Kent, Harvey James Milne, William Palmer Peters, Havelock Ford Price, William James Driscoll, Enoch Godwin, Ambrose Bernard Lawler, William Holder, George Joyce, Howard Kelly, John B. Holder, George Laturney, Clifford Charles Nash, Percy Bloor Chown, William McCartney, Thomas Henry Sargent.

Declaration of office was taken by Mayor-elect Angrove before J. M. Farrell and by the aldermen-elect collectively before His Worship the Mayor.

The committee selected to strike the standing committees was out for forty-five minutes and then returned and reported that no decision was reached.

Ald. C. C. Nash moved, seconded by Ald. Peters that following slate be adopted. After discussion and scrutiny by clauses, in which several amendments were made and lost, it was adopted.
